D. H. HOTTENSTEIN, Treas. AMON MULL, Sec'y The ninth annual report and statement of the affairs of the Company, presented at the last-annual-meeting, was read and the following extracts ordered to be published, as usual, in the papers of Berks, Lebanon and bracing all the Lehigh counties.

There was admitted in the Company during the past year 300 new members, and 130 transfers and alteration of Policies effected, producing $1,229 17. Out of which was paid for incidental expenses $627 37leaving $601 80 to be added to the balance in the Treasury, viz: $1,438.30—making a total of $2,040 10 bearing interest, besides about $660 out standing. The Company now numbers 4500 members. form an aggregate capital of Ten Millions of Dollars to levy upon, in case of loss by fire beyond the amount of means in hand, all in the three adjoining counties of Berks, Lehigh and Lebanon. The damages by fire, add expenses, during the past year, amount to 13 cents per thousand dollars insured, and the average cost per thousand insured is less than 40 cts. per annum, during the 9 years of the Company's existence, to pay all losses and expenses;—thus offering inducements to-persons having country property to insure, unequalled for cheapness and cafety. The former policy of excluding from this Company all town and other very hazardous property, is strictly adhered to by the Board of Managers. The losses by fire du-

Hope's Express.

Among the various Expresses that have recently extented their operations, and enknow none which is more hopeful than Hono's New-Jersey and Pennsylvania Express, via Central Rail Road of New Jersey. This road extends from New York to Easton, Pa., and runs through a splendid country-affording an avenue to the interior of Pennsylvania hitherto closed up. The superiority of this market for buying and selling goods is bringing a large amount of trade here, which formerly went to Philadel. phia. The advantage of Hope's Express. by which merchandise of all descriptions can be forwarded promptly, when fully realized on the above route, will insure a complete success and prosperity. A. D. Hore has made arrangements with the Central R. R. Co. and various Stage proprietors to sell Tickets through to Wilkesbarre, Mauch Chunk, Reading, &c., at reduced fares.
