Portable Gas.

GAS has been acknowledged, from the time of its first introduction, to be the best material for light, its use being attended with no danger or trouble. But to bring it to the consumers by miles of conducting pipes and meters, makes it an article of luxury only attainable by a part of the community in large cities, who reside within the range of the main pipes. And even then, its high price exceeds all other burning material; and the greater part of the citizens cannot enjoy the benefit of gas light even by paying any price, not to mention the many accidents which happen by the use of turpentine and alcohol light. If the great expense of miles of main pipes could be avoided, gas would not cost half the price it now does. Every man would burn it; and it would be promotive of family happiness, as the spirit of education and science has reached almost every house. The wife would enjoy the company of her husband, and be entertained by a fine story from a book or newspaper: every corner might be occupied by children learning their lessons; Indies at the piane would not dispense with a gas light, if once used, and all this can be done with one gas-To effect this, gas must be made portable Experiments have been made to compress it from 13 to 1 part in volume, but it was found impossible to regulate the pressure, and was very dangerous on account of the liability to explosion But by a far sater and more simple apparatus in every consumer's celler-a tub with water, a tin or sheet iron kettle, 10 or 15 feet of pipe, and a burner in the lower story put up in a proper manner-every man can light up two rooms; and in the same manner the whole house may be lighted from the celler. The gaswagon stops at the front door, the manufacturer runs an India-rubber pipe through the cellar-hole or door, attaches it, and fills the apparatus without any trouble or notice to

In this manner, a small capital invested will enable almost any community, village, or town to erect a concern to supply gas at a price-lower than any other burning -material-can-be-furnished. —All-who-take an interest in the subject, or would like to have gas works erected in this manner, will blease address

PEPSIN!

AN ARTIFICIAL DIGESTIVE

Fluid, or Gastric Juice!

A GREAT DISPERSIA CURER! Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Lie big, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., No. 11, North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice.

Half a teaspoonful of this Fluid, infused in water, will digest or dissolve, Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours out of the stomach. Digestion. - Digestion is chiefly perormed in the stomach by the aid of a fluid which freely exudes from the inner coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the Gastric Juice. This fluid is the Great Sovent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimuating Agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there will be no digestion -- no conversion of food into blood, and no nutrition of the body; but rather a foul, torpid, painful, and destructive condition of the whoe digestive apparatus. A weak, haf dead, or injured stomach produces no good Gastric Juice, and hence the disease, distress and debility which ensue. Pepsin and Rennet .- Pepsin is the chief element, or great digesting principle of the Gastric Juice. It is found in great abundance in the soid parts of the human stomach after death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest itself, or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, calf, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese, called Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. The curdling of mik is the first process of digestion. Rennet possesses astonishing power. The sto mach of a calf will curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states that, "One part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, will digest meat and other food." Diseased stomachs produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the following Scientific Evidence! - Baron Liebig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach.''

Dr. Pereira, in his famous treatise on Food and Diet," published by Wilson & Co., New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authori-ies than Dr. Pereira Dr. John W. Draper, Professor of Chemistry in the Medical College of the University of New York, in his "Text Book of Chemistry," page 386, says, "it has been a question whether artificial digestion could be performed-but it is now universally admitted that it may be." Professor Dunglison of Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examina-tion of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Beaumont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and Southwark from animals are well known. "In all ca- Western Commercial Bank feculy in the artificial as in the natural digestions." As a Dyspepsia Curer .- Dr. Houghton's preparation of Pepsin has produced the most marvellous effects, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the very verge of the grave. It is impossi-ble to give the details of cases in the limits of this advertisement - but authenticated certificates have been given of more than 200 Remarkable Cures, in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston alone. These were nearly all desperate cases, and the cures were not only rapid and wonderful, but permanent. It is a great Nervous Antidote, and from the astonishingly small quantity necessary to produce healthy digestion, is believed to
