

The Precious Metals in England.

The London papers received yesterday, by the Pacific steamer, announces the arrival of the long expected steam propeller Great Britain, from Australia, at Liverpool. As she sailed from Melbourne on January 4, her market and emigration news is no later indeed not quite as late, as heretofore received. Her passage was 89 days. She carried to England on freight, 103,000 ounces Australia Gold, and £80,000 in the hands of passengers, making together, about three millions dollars. Among the passengers who returned home by this opportunity, were several successful adventurers. One brought $75,000 made in a public house at Melbourne; two others $150,000, made by keeping a Circus; a carter made $10,000, and one man on board had a nugget of pure gold, which he picked up himself weighing eight pounds average, worth $2,500.

Besides the large sum brought by the steamer, several vessels arrived at London the week preceding the sailing of the steamer from Australia, with $1,025,000 in Gold, and the West India packet carried in $915,000 in Silver. The exports of the week were about $1,200,000, in the aggregate. Silver continues to go to China and British India, but attention is called by the papers to the very decided falling off in the Gold Continent.

The excitement in the Australian trade and emigration in Great Britain, continues, and is likely to receive an additional impetus from the golden accounts and practical results brought by the Great Britain, and other vessels now arriving from Melbourne and Sydney.

Loss of the Steamship Independence.

The steamship United States arrived this morning April 23, at New Orleans, with dates from Aspinwall to the 18th, and from California to the 1st, being two weeks later than the previous advice.

The United States has over one hundred passengers, though but very little gold in freight.

The United States brings the sad intelligence of the wreck of the steamship Independence on her way to San Francisco.

By this sad disaster about one hundred and thirty lives were lost, comprising a large portion of the passengers and crew.

Among them was Mr. A. Schofield, of Pennsylvania, together with a large number of New Yorkers.

The remainder of the passengers and crew were rescued and carried into San Francisco.

The news from California, though very interesting, possesses no striking feature of importance.

Business at the mines was improving, and the mines were in good health and spirits.

At San Francisco there was not much in the markets, and business was dull. Flour was selling at $9 50 per barrel.

There had been some heavy freshets in the interior, and the town of Marysville was inundated. An immense amount of property was destroyed.

The proceedings of the Legislature do not possess any general interest.

Lieut. Russell has been killed by the Indians. Several outrages have taken place of late by marauding bands of Indians.

There is no intelligence of the capture of the famous robber Joquin.
