Pelton's System of Geography

Splendid Ontline Maps. This system of teaching Geography is rapidly becoming introduced in all the schools throughout the country. The series consists of seven maps, each covering about fifty square feet, boldly delineated, brilliantly colored, varnished and mounted, and forming the most magnificent, as well as the most useful part of the furniture of the school

Pelton's Key to Hemispheres. This is intended for the use of pupils commencing the study, and a good knowledge of the Geography of the world may be obtained from it.

Pelton's Key to Full Series,

Containing a minute description of each state and country, the political and physical features of the earth, &c., forming a complete epitome of the whole subject. Where these keys are used in connection with the maps, no other work is necessary in the hands of the pupil, and their cost is about one third the usual price of a Geography and Atlas.

Wherever this system has been tried, it has excited the admiration of all who witnessed it, and we might fill a volume with the testimonials received in its lavor. We append but one. -

READING, March 1853. Believing the introduction of Pelton's system of teaching Geography by the use of his series of Outline Maps, into the schools of our city, would enable the pupils to acquire a better, more lasting, and more practical knowledge of that science, than is generally acquired, and in one fourth of the time usually devoted to that study, the undersigned, Teachers in Reading, most cheerfully reccommend it to the Directors of the

AN ARTIFICIAL DIGESTIVE

Fluid, or Gastric Juice'

A GREAT DISPEPSIA CURER Prepared from Remet, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Lie big, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton. M. D., No. 11, North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation, and Debility, curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice.

Half a teaspoonful of this Fluid, infused in water, will digest or dissolve, Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours

Digestion. - Digestion is chiefly perormed in the stomach by the aid-of a fluid which-freely-exudes-from the inner-coat of that organ, when in a state of health, called the Gastric Juice. This fluid is the Great Sovent of the Food, the Purifying, Preservrrels, or any other light casks. ing and Stimuating Agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there will be no digestion -- no conversion of food into blood. and no nutrition of the body; but rather a foul, torpid, painful, and destructive condition of the whoe digestive apparatus. A weak, haf dend, or injured stomach produces no good Gastric Juice, and hence the disease, distress and debility which ensue. Pepsin and Rennet .- Pepsin is the chief element, or great digesting principle of the Gastric Juice. It is found in great abundance in the soid parts of the human stomach after death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest itself, or eat itself up. It is also found in the stomach of animals, as the ox, calf. &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese, called Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special wonder of the dairy. The curdling of mik is the first process of digestion. Rennet possesses astonishing power. The stomach of a calf will curdle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states that, "One part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, best manner. They continue the business will digest meat and other food." Diseased stomache produce no good Gastric Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the following Scientistic Evidence!—Baron Liebig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry. says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid may be readily prepared from the mucous mem brane of the stomach of the Call, in which various articles of food, as ment and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach." Dr. Pereira, in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Wilson & Co., New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira

Dr. John W. Draper, Professor of Chemistry in the Medical College of the University of New York, in his "Text Book of Chemistry," page 356, says, "it has been a question whether artificial digestion could be performed-but it is now universally admitted that it may be.'
