

Arrival of the America.

HALIFAX, Sept. 30, 1853. The Royal Mail Steamship America arrived here last evening from Liverpool, with dates to the 17th inst., and 126 passengers.

The Russo-Turkish Question.—It was currently reported, just prior to the sailing of the America that the Russian troops had attacked the Russian outposts.

The Czar, it is said, agrees to abide by the Vienna note, and evacuate the Principalities, provided the Porte will accept it pure, simple and unaltered, as it was presented to him.

A new manifesto was expected from Russia in a few days.

Placards were posted on the walls of Constantinople by the war party, calling on the faithful to attack the Russians.

On a special demand from the representatives of the Four Great Powers, the Sultan consents to postpone issuing his contemplated Manifesto to his people. The Manifesto is said to be couched in very warlike language, and indeed is, to all intents and purposes, a declaration of war.

The Turks are excited to wildest enthusiasm. The execution of armaments goes on briskly, and every thing is being put for in specie.

The new Turkish levy of 80,000 troops was made up rapidly. Detachments of troops were constantly marching to join Omar Pacha, and a reserve corps was forming at Adrianople, under Mehemet Pacha.

The Sultan reviewed the Egyptian troops on the 30th ult. The Pacha of Egypt promises to send the Sultan 15,000 more troops.

Late advices from Bucharest, Wallachia, state that the Russian Commander had issued orders to his troops there, setting forth that Russia called upon them to annihilate Paganism; and that those who opposed the Czar would also be annihilated.

Omar Pacha warns Prince Gortchakoff that, if the Russian gunboats should approach too near his batteries, they will be fired on immediately.

The Chief Dragoman of the Russian Embassy arrived at Constantinople, attended by several steamers.

It was reported that the French Ambassador ungenially persuaded the Sultan to recall his modified note, even after it had been forwarded to St. Petersburg.

Troubles still continue between the Hospodars and the Porte. The latest accounts say that the Sultan had given them permission to remain in the Principalities.

The Emperors of Austria and Russia, and the King of Prussia were to have an interview at Olmutz in Poland, on the 23d of September. The meeting was supposed to be for the purpose of deciding upon the fate of Turkey.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA.—The German papers say that the United States Government is backing Switzerland in the opposition of that Government to Austria—that the Americans had promised active assistance, if needed. The same papers also say that Austria was endeavoring to induce the governments of Europe to demand from the United States a declaration of their views on the subject of intervention in Europe, an affair foreign policy, and the views of the government on the law of nations in general, and the subject of citizenship in particular.

Vienna letters say that it was fully expected there that the Washington Cabinet would consent to give up Kozzia to the Austrian authorities.

The reported reason for withdrawing the Austrian Minister at Turin was to mark Austria's displeasure at the friendly relations existing between Sardinia and the United States.

Autumn in America.

Ons, is now a beautiful season. To us, the country is at no other time so inviting as in the months of September and October. The rosy, russet hues of the forest at this season are much praised in Europe; but our forest present far richer scenes. The sudden transitions of temperature and the effects of the early frost upon the green of half-seared foliage, produce a great variety of gorgeous colors, and the boughs wave to the breeze like gorgeous flowers of giant growth. These effects in early days, were often admirably dwelt upon by those who wrote of our country for the information of the Eastern world.

GLEANINGS.

The Sanbury American says that but two male persons have died at Shamokin, Northumberland county, within the past seven years. The average population during that period was about 700.

The eleven hour system is about to be introduced into the factories at Newburyport.

Passengers are now conveyed from Philadelphia to Williamsport, Pa., in one day.

In all France not a death has been caused by a railroad accident since the summer of 1851.

A New Business.—A team recently made its appearance at Stockton, California, with a load of snow, four days from the Sierra mountains. It was sold at 20 cents a pound.

ADVICE TO WIVES.—A wife must study never to draw largely on the small stock of patience in a man's nature, nor to increase his obstinacy by trying to drive him; never, never, if possible, have scenes. I doubt much if a real quarrel, even made up, does not loosen the bond between man and wife, and sometimes, unless the affection of both be very sincere, is lasting. If irritation should occur, a woman must expect to hear, from most men, a strength and vehemence of language far more than the occasion requires. Mild, as well as stern men, are prone to this exaggeration of language; let not a woman be tempted to say anything sarcastic or violent in retaliation. The bitterest repentance must needs follow, if she does. Men frequently forget what they have said, but seldom what is uttered by their wives. They are grateful, too, for forbearance in such cases; for, whilst asserting most loudly that they are right, they are often conscious that they are wrong. Give a little time, as the greatest boon you can bestow on the irritated feelings of your husband.—English Mirror.

Food of the Chinese.

They have domesticated the horse, the ox, the buffalo, the dog, the pig, and all the other animals which have been domesticated in Europe, together with some creatures with which we have failed. They eat, indiscriminately, almost every living creature which comes in their way; dogs, cats, larks, owls, eagles and storks, are regular marketable commodities; in default of white, a dish of rats, field-mice or snakes, is not objected to, cockroaches, and other insects and reptiles, are used for food and for medicine. Their taste for dog's flesh is quite a passion. Young pups—plump, succulent and tender—fetch good prices at the market stalls, where a supply is always to be found. A dish of puppies prepared by a skillful cook, is esteemed a dish fit for the gods. At every grand banquet it makes its appearance as a lark or stew. A young Englishman attached to our Canton factory, dining one day with a wealthy Hong merchant, was determined to satisfy his curiosity in Chinese gastronomy by tasting all or most of the numerous dishes which were successively handed round. One dish pleased him so well that he ate nearly all that was put before him. On returning homeward, some of his companions asked him how he liked the dinner, and how such and such dishes; and then began to imitate the whining and barking of half a dozen puppies. The poor young man then understood for the first time that he had been eating dog, and was very angry and very sick at the stomach. Other Europeans, however, have been known to declare that they succeeded in conquering a prejudice, and that a six weeks old pup, properly fattened upon rice, and dressed in a Chinese, was really a home bouche.—Extracted from a late work on China.

ALLIANCE.—Information wanted by S. M. Siegfried, who left Berks county about a year since, for the West. Since his departure, his father has died, leaving Solomon a considerable estate, and appointing him an Executor of his Will. Any person who possesses any information of his whereabouts, will be liberally rewarded by communicating the same to his brother, David Siegfried, Monterey P. O., Berks county, Penna.

The greatest of great ships, the Great Republic, was launched at East Boston on the 4th of October.

Wholesale Commission Merchants.

WENNER, BREINIG & Co. No. 246 Washington St. New York.

The Undersigned hereby respectfully inform their friends and merchants generally, that they have established themselves as Wholesale Commission Merchants and Produce Dealers, at No. 246, Washington Street, in the city of New York.

They have facilities to render every inducement to Pennsylvania, as well as other State merchants to trade in this market, with their various articles of merchandise, where in they can at all times realize a price superior to any other in the United States.

It is an acknowledged fact, that the great trade heretofore wending its way to other markets, is now rapidly finding avenues through the various additional Rail Roads, to the Great Emporium of New York City, and why is this? Because merchants find upon trial a profitable result.

They begin to open their eyes, and see how long they have suffered by other markets, whereas had they had a market like the one open to them, the result by this time, would have contributed materially to their welfare in business.

Merchants consulting their own interest plainly see, that all inland Ports, are inadequate to consume the amount of produce and other materials sent to them, and the result follows, that a great amount of the same find its way to the great centre of attraction New York, to which place, other city speculators go to make their profits, and in this they generally succeed for the consumption and exportation there, is so much greater and prices consequently more remunerating.

There are upwards of thirty Steamships now running, and others in progress, and will soon be added to the various lines, making regular trips to and from this port to the various ports of our Southern States, Cuba, South America, California, Australia, England, Ireland, France and some of the German States, and hundreds of ships are constantly sailing to and coming from all ports of the World.

All then come here to procure a share of our country's production, and New York city being the greatest commercial city in America, and the most convenient port of access by ships and steamships, it is therefore constantly flooded by them, carrying a way an enormous amount of merchandise.

The Undersigned, therefore solicit consignments of all merchants, that may feel disposed to give the market a trial and they hope by prompt attention thereto, and persevering efforts to procure the highest market prices, to gain a liberal share of patronage.

N. B.—Any further information can be had, by addressing the above firm.
