Common Schools of New England.

By the last official returns of the public schools in the six New England States, the whole number of pupils in attendance during the year was 641,983. The whole cost of instruction for the year was $2,055,-131 65. In Vermont, the average cost on each pupil was $2 22. In Maine, $1 34. In Connecticut, $1 35. In Rhode Island, 61 94. In Massachusetts, the law requires each town to raise by tax at least $1 50 per child between 5 and 15 years of age, as a condition of receiving a share of the income of the State School Fund. All the towns complied with this condition last year, and 180 towns raised double the sum thus specified. The amount expended in Massachusetts last year, for each child between the ages above named, was $4.54.

The population of the State of Rhode Island exceeds that of the city of Boston, and yct the latter appropriates about double the amount of the former for school purposes, leaving entirely out of the account the cost of school buildings. For the last ten years, the average expense of each scholar in the bublic schools of Boston has been $10 59. In this estimate the cost of schoo'-houses has been excluded.

Connecticut has the largest school fund of any New England State, the amount being $2,049,482 32. The income last year was $143,693 69. This State has 1942 school districts, and 75,880 pupils in the public schools.

In Massachusetts the number of private schools is reported to be 749, and the re-The estimated amount paid for tuition in pripublic schools, or $1238 for the education of every child within its borders. In New Ashford, the school tax last year was $75being at the rate of $2 08 for each child in that most rural of rural districts."

In Rhode Island 29.500 pupils attended each town must raise by tax a sum equal to forty cents for every person under 15 years of age, in order to obtain its share of the State appropriation. In 1852 every town year was $115,160 21.

In New Hampshire, the whole amount raised for the district schools last year was $159,925 79. This State has no school fund; but there is a tax of one-half of one per cent. upon the bank capital, which is distributed for school purposes. The numher of school districts is reported to be 2284. The average 'attendance upon the summer schools is 44,564; in the winter months it is 55.700. New Hampshire stands at the head of State for the smallest number of native adults who cannot read and write.

maine has a school fund of upwards of a hundred thousand dllars, which is annually increased by the sale of public lands. The amount of taxes raised the last year of which we have returns was $274,600, or forty. seven cents on each inhabitant, or $1 15 on each scholar. There is also a bank tax which is appropriated to schools. The State has 4500 school districts. The last reported attendance upon the public schools in summer was 129,000, and in winter 157,000.

In Vermont the whole expenses of the public schools were $217,402 92. The amount paid for teachers was $197,574 68. In 1850 there were 2594 school districts in the State. Each district can raise money by taxation for school purposes.

Shocking Scene at an Execution.

PHILIPPI, Barbour co., Va., Oct. 28. Thomas Board this day explated, on the gallows, the crime he committed on the 27th of February last, in the murder of his nephew, Strickler J. H. Ohrislipp, aged about six years. The mental condition of the prisoner seemed unchanged from the time of his arrest up to his execution. If any confidence can be placed in his statements, he died as he lived under the melancholy delusion that he 'could commit no sin,' and that it was no 'harm for 'him' to kill' a hundred men.' He was about 26 years of age, of medium size, and weighed, perhaps, one hundred and fifty pounds. He grew up in ignorance, weakness and idleness; an object of pity to all who closely observed him.

An application, sustained by our most influential citizens, was made to Governor Johnson for a commutation of his punishment to that of imprisonment for life, but after long deliberation, he decided not to interfere, stating that the law would have to take its course."

By daybreak, the people began to assemble, and notwithstanding it rained all day, not less than five or six thousand persons, among whom were not less than 'five hundred women,' witnessed the execution .-The gallows was erected about one half a mile from town, and consisted of a rough, unhewn trunk of a tree, about nineteen feet high, with a horizontal arm of about five feet in length. # THE GLOBE: THE OFEICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS

50 And Newspaper for the People. 30 It will be seen by the annexed extract 30 from a letter of General Washington to Da-9 vid Stewart, dated New York, 17th March, 1750, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe originated in the 15 mind of the Father of his country. He said : "It is to be lamented that the editors of the different Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrillity and nonsensical declamation, which few would read if they were apprised of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinions arises, as well as the decisions would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgement .--- Spark's Writings of Washington. vol. 10, page 84.

AND THE CONGRESSIONAL GLODE. A decided preference is given to the Da-In surrendering my interest in the organ' guerreotypes made by S. W. Burcaw, No. of a great political party, I cherished the by 36 feet deep, the lot is 20 feet front by 26, East Hamilton St. And do you know the purpose of continuing the Congressional 230 feet deep, with Hydrant water in the reason? Because he is daily producing Pic- Globe, and, if possible, in time, to perfect it tures unsurpassed in lifelike and brilliancy into a fuil history of the action of Congress of tone. Also, Pictures retaken, of which giving the debates accurately and fully with the country is flooded with. We know that the porceedings-all stamped with the verihundreds of people are awfully imposed on, ty of an official record. From the passage in the letter of General Washington, which by being stuffed with a miserable (caricature) which hurt us to look at. So the best way I have quoted, will be preceived that he thought this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the less important kind greatly contributes to give wings to the weightier matter which may be called Congressional news. Having succeeded in my purpose of perlecting the reportes of the debates in Congress and giving them the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad, in connection with the news of the day, in such haste as shall outstrip full and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of Government in any other form whatever. It will even anticipate the scraps of news forwarded to cities within two hundred and fifty miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers (for instance, of the city of New York,) the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now lay before the public. I will have a corpse of sixteen Reporters in Congress; each in succession will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press put them slip by slip in the hands of compositors, and thus while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock p. m. for the East, West and North, and by that of 6 o'clock p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Jongress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the cities two hundred and fifty miles from the Capitol before their dais ly morning papers are in circulation.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careby telegraph. I will obtain from country he Exclusive Departments, through official sources, the matters of moment transacted n them, and, through agents employed for he purpose all the city news of consequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail train, In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington before the public mind at a dist tance had received its first impressions from irresponsible telegraphic dispatches or by letter-writers biased by peculiar views. As I sell the DAILY GLOBE at half the price of similar publications, so the Con-GRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX is sold for half the cost of so much composition, press work and paper. This I can afford to do. inusmuch as the subscription, of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper. It re-quires the sale of about 9,000 copies to reinburse expenses. If 500 only were sold the cost of each copy would be about $104! The debates in the English Parliament cost about eleven times as much as I charge subscribers for the debates in Congress equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed. The next session of Congress will be a long one ; and it is believed the Congressional Globe for it will reach 4,000 royal quarto pages as the last long session made 3,842; and the long one before that made 3,901, royal quarto pages-four large volums each session. If subscribers will be careful to file all the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may mis-carry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seventeen volumes will now command three times, and some of the subequent ones twice, their original subscripion price. The subscription price for the Congres-sional Globe (including the Appendix and he laws) is six dollars.
