European News.

The steamer Washington, which sailed from Southamptou, Nov. 9th, arrived at New York on Thursday afternoon, and the Canada, which sailed from Liverpool, Nov. 12th, arrived at Halifax on Thursday morning, and we have thus the European news of one week later than our previous accounts.

The news is the most important received for a long time, since it includes the final warlike decision of the Emperor of Russia, and the accounts of the first battles between the contending powers.

Turkey and Russia. - The Russian Declaration of War .- The following Declaration of War has been issued by the Emperor of Russia:

"By the grace of God, we Nicholas the First, Emperor and Autocrat of all the Russians, by our manifesto of the 14th of June, of the present year, informed our motives which made it incumbent on us to quarters at Bucharest. demand from the Ottoman Porte inviolable guarantees in favor of the rights of the Or-thodox Church. We at the same time announced to them that all our efforts to bring the Porte, by means of amicable persuasion, to sentiments of equity, and to a faithful observance of treaties, had remained fruitless, and that consequently we deemed it indispensable to order our troops to the Danube. But, adopting that measure, we still entertained the hope that the Porte would confess its errors, and would resolve to give satisfaction to our just reclamations. Our expectations have been deceived. It is in vain also that the great powers of Europe have endeavored, by their exhortations, to shake the blind obstinacy of the Ottoman Government. It is by a declaration of war, by a proclamation replete with the fatal accusations against Russia, that it replied to the pacific efforts of Europe, to our forbearance, finally enrolling in the ranks of its army the revolutionists of all countries. The Porte has commenced hostilities on the Danube; treaties, and to obtain from it reparation for the offences by which it responded to our moderate demands, and to our legitimate so-licitude for the desence of the Orthodox faith in the East, which is also the religion of the Russian people. We are firmly convinced that our faithful subjects will join in the fervent prayer which we addressed to the Most High—that he may design to bless our arms in the holy and just cause which shas at all times found ardent defenders in our pious ancestors. In te, Domine, speravi. non confonderi acternum.

"Done at Barskol, the third day of November, in the year of Grace, 1853, and the twenty-eighth of our reign. Nicholas."

BLOODY BATTLE ON THE DANUBE. A despatch dated Vienna, Nov. S, says that the that the Persians were collecting an army Consul of France at Bucharest, writes as follows, under date of the 6th of November:

On the 2d and 3d of November, the Turks crossed the Danube from Turtukai to Otenitza, to the number of about 18,000 men. On the 4th, General Parlof attacked them with 9000 men, and after a brisk cannonade, a combat with the bayonet took place between the two armies. The Turks maintained their positions at Oltenitza, and have fortified them. The combat lasted three hours. In it the Russians lost several officers, and the foreign Powers. The Government is 136 privates killed, and six superior officers 18 subalterns, and 476 privates wounded. The loss of the Turkish side is not known. 4000 Turks occupy Kalarache, 2000 have established themselves on an island in front military authorities. Whenever any dealer of Giurgevo, and 12,000 are in Lessea Wal-

Another despatch from Vienna, dated Tuesday night, Nov. 8th, says:

From the 4th to the 5th, the Turks occupied the island near Oltenitza, and crossed unobserved to Wallachia at dawn. When seen, a battle ensued, which lasted 28 hours. result is not known. It is rumored that Giurgevo was taken by storm.

Turtukai and Oltenitza are towns on the right and left banks of the Danube, between Bustchuk and Silistria, on the direct route to Bucharest. Higher up the river and opposition to Rustchuk, lies Giurgevo, from vhich another road leads to Bucharest .-Still ascending the river, we come to Rahova, a town on the right bank, opposite to which lies Kalarache, at the junction of the Schyl and Danube. The troops in Lesser Wallachia are those which crossed the Widdin, which forms the extreme left of the Turkish line.

____Another account of the same battle, received via Vienna, states that 14 Russian superior; officers were killed, and that the Turks were masters of the field, the Russians finally retreating to Bucharest.

Previous to the battle the Turks had con structed a building and tete du pont at Kala-fat, which served as a basis of their operations. It appears that Omar Pasha crossed at three points-with 18,000 at Altenibza -4000 at Kalvache, and 2000 at Guirgevo. Skirmishes continually occurred at the outposts. Before the Turks crossed the Danube, a body of Cossacks came to the river's bank, and made signs insulting to the Egyptians in the Turkish army, who rushed to the boats, rowed across in the face of the Cossack's fire, and punished them well, chasing them inland, and returned to the camp in

The Russian force, which was defeated and beaten back to Bucharest, was the main body, under General Davenberg, which is estimated at from 30,000 to 40,000 strong.

BATTLES IN ASIA. - While the valley of Danube has been the scene of these operations, similar fortune has attended the Turks in the East; and accounts from Constantino ple state that Selim Pacha had crossed the teer in the war of 1812 and after having Russian frontiers in Asia, and that a battle served his term, received an honorable disensued, in which 5000 troops were engaged. Both armies fell back as night came

In a second battle the Russians were deepiled, and on the 20th of October, Masko an Bey, on officer in Selim Pacha's staff, with book on officer in Selim Pacha's staff, with body, of Russian cavalry. The Bey fell pack, fighting toward the main body of the merly of Allentown, aged 22 years.

the battle began. The news, summed up, shows that the Turks have benten the Russians in Asia; that the Turkish left wing in Europe has beaten the Russian right wing, comprising the principal force of the Czar; and the Turkish centre has wipped 9000 Russians at Turtukai, and was pressing upon Bucharest. The policy of the Russians is supposed to be to draw the Turks from their present advantageous positions, and to bring them to a battle that shall decide the campaign. The intention of Omer Pasha is to keep his promise to drive the Russians from faithful and well beloved subjects of the the Principalities, and to make his head

A telegraphic despatch states that the Russian troops in the Principalities are suffering from typus, and that the number of combatants is reduced to 85,000. It would ake six weeks before the reserve could come up from Bessarabia.

FURTHER WARLIKE NEWS .- Several other inovements of the Turks on the banks of he Danube are reported; among them the destruction of a Russian steamer at Orsova.

The latest intelligence from the East states that five Russian officers had arrived at Constantinople as prisoners of war.

The combined fleets had anchored in the Bosphorus. It was rumored at Constantinople that Bucharest had been stormed by the Turks.

The son of Aras Pasha has been named as minister of War. Fresh levies were being raised in Egypt. The Turkish army is being paid promptly.

A despatch, dated at Vienna, on the evenng of the 10th inst., states the following as the conditions insisted on by Omer Pasha in Russia is provoked to the combat; no other his note to Prince Gortschakoff, the Russian means is lest than a recourse to arms, to commander of the Czar's troops. The strong compel the Ottoman Government to respect holds of the Principalities to be immediately surrendered, and a comple evacuation of the same as speedily as possible; and to give a guarantee to all the great Powers against making any similar invasion.

The latest information from Constantinople also states that the Sultan had positively rejected all the proposals recently made for an arrangement of the difficulties.

In addition to this movement of the Czar, the arrival of the Overland mail from India brings the highly important report, that the Emperor of Russia has formed an alliance with Dost Mahomed to proclaim war with the British in India, if Britain persists in supporing Turkey.

The latest from Asia states that a large Russian force was to invade Bokhara, and in the valley of Sultanich to co-operate with Russia against Turkey. A report from Constantinople, however, expressly contradicts this statement, so far as to Persia being hostile to Turkey. The removal of Abdi Pasha from the command of the army in Asia is mentioned as probable. The Hospodar stirbey has left Bucharest for Vienna. His departure has been officially announced to the representatives of carried on by a Commission, and the Russians have seized all the public funds and treasure. The prices of goods and victuals asks high prices, he is at once seized and flogged by the soldiers who superintend the public markets.

The Porte has decided that foreign refugees cannot be employed in Europe, but that they may serve in Asia. Constantinople was quiet.

The Czar has requested the Montenegrins to operate against the Turks.

The Porte has informed Austria that Turkey will expect her to prohibit the Russians from supplying the Montenegrins with arms through port Cattaro.

Austria offers to remain entirely neutral if the Porte will refrain from employing Austrian refugees.

Diplomacy lags hopelessly in the rear of the fighting, and even yet hopes to adjust matters, but not till after a decisive battle shall have been fought. A condition is, that to save the Czar's amour propre, negotiations shall not be recommenced after any engagement in which the Russians are

Austria was concentrating a force on the Servian frontier. The Servian Government had ordered the population to arm, and had informed the Porte that neither Austria nor

Russia would be permitted to occupy Servia. It was freely reported in Paris that 25,000 French troops would be sent to Turkey, but orders were not to be given until the government had received despatches from Gen-

Its constant and rapid increase in public favor, as shown by the fact that the Eighth Volume will commence with the unexampled edition of 135, 000 copies, demonstrates the popularity of the plan on which it has been conducted hitherto, and from which it will not depart hereafter. It has been designed, from the outset, for Popular Reading; and the object of the publishers has been, to present, at the cheapest rate and in the best style, the largest possible amount of reading matter, having interest and value for the greatest number of the American people, without distinction of profession or of class. They have spared neither labor or expense in the effort to occomplish this result. They have not restricted their choice of matter to either American or foreign literature, but have availed themselves of the best in both .-They intend to pursue this plan with increased vigor hereafter. A larger proportion of original matter will probably be introduced than hitherto, but not unless it shall prove to be better than can be procured from other sources. UNRIVALED ARRAY OF TALENT. The Proprietors of the Post, in again coming before the public, would return thanks for the generous patronage which has placed them far in advance of every other Literary Weekly in America. And, as the only suitable return for such free and hearty support, their arrangements for 1854 have been made with a degree of liberality probably unequaled in the history of American newspaper literature. They have engaged as contributors for the ensuing year the following brilliant array of talent and

MRS. SOUTHWORTH-EMERSON BENNETT MRS. DENISON—GRAGE GRE FANNY FERN .- In the first paper of January next, we design commencing an Original Novelet, written expressly for our columns, entitled THE BRIDE OF THE WILDERNESS ; by Emerson Bennett, author of "Viola," "Clara Moreland," "The Forged Will," etc. This Novelet, by the popular author of "Clara Moreland," we design following by another called THE STEP-MOTHER; by Mrs. Mary A. Denison, author of "Home Pictures," "Gertrude Russell," etc. . We have also the promise of a number of Sketches, by Grace Greenwood, whose brilliant and versatile pen will be almost exclusively employed upon the Post, and her own "Little Pilgrim.' Mrs. Southworth-whose fascinating works are now being rapidly republished in England-also will maintain her old and pleasant connection with the Post. The next story from her gifted pen will be entitled; MIRIAM, THE AVENGER; OR, THE FATAL Vow-by Emma D. E. N. Southworth, author of "The Curse of Clifton," "The Lost Heiress" "The Deserted Wife," etc. And last—not least—we are authorized to announce a series of articles from one who has rapidly risen very high in popular favor. They will be entitled a New Senies or Skerches; by Fanny Fern, author of Fern Leaves," etc. We expect to be able to commence the Sketches by Fanny Fern, as well as the series by Grace Greenwood, in the early numbers of the coming year.
