

News from Europe.

VIENNA, May 8.—The East Correspondence states that Marshal Paskiewitch declares that Little Wallachia had been evacuated solely for strategic reasons, but that the Russians will soon return to Krajova and subject to martial law any persons who may have assisted the Turks.

The journey of Marshal Paskiewitch to Kalarasch and Silitria has been infinitely postponed.

During the last week several conferences have taken place between Count Buol, the Earl of Westmoreland, and M. de Beurquenay, at which conditions were agreed upon, to be offered by Austria to Russia after the former has occupied Bosnia, the Herzegovina, and upper Albania.

The conditions were said to be found acceptable by Baron Meyendorff. They were regarded as being probably the final attempt of Austria to restore peace before she declares herself.

A telegraph dispatch from Constantinople of the 27th April, states that the French ambassador, having insisted that the United Greek Catholics should be permitted to remain in Turkey, a serious misunderstanding arose and General Baryaguay d'Hilliers prepared to leave Constantinople, when the Porte yielded. The Sultan was seriously indisposed.

The Turks are about to blockade Greece. The policy of the Shah of Persia appears to have become hostile to Russia. He claims the restitution of the ancient provinces, and was putting in force an army of 50,000 men.

Dispatches from Bucharest state that the Turks had advanced from Kalafat to Krajova, where they were well received by the inhabitants.

It was rumored the Russians intended to evacuate the whole of Bulgaria.

It was again stated that the Russian fleet had come out of Sebastopol.

Several conferences have taken place in Vienna between the British, French and Austrian Ministers at which conditions were agreed to, to be offered by Austria to Russia after the former has occupied Bosnia and Upper Albania. The conditions were said to be found favorable by Baron Meyendorff; they were regarded as being probably the final attempt of Austria to restore peace before she declares herself.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times, writing at the date of May 8, gives this important intelligence:

It is stated on good authority here, that Russia recently notified to Prussia that she had determined to address an ultimatum to Austria, calling upon her to explain her conduct, and summoning her, rather pre-emptively, to declare herself either for or against but, at all events, to declare herself. The Prussian minister replied that the Emperor of Russia need not give himself the trouble of addressing an ultimatum to Austria, as he (the Prussian) well knew, and could tell beforehand, the nature of the answer that would be given.

Nearly at the same time Austria informed Prussia that she also was about to address an ultimatum to Russia, calling upon her to account for her intrigues, and her revolutionary attempts in the states of neighboring sovereigns, and in particular Montenegro, where she (Austria) was determined to put down by force the revolt. She also reproaches Russia with her conduct in the Principalities, and insists upon their evacuation. When ultimatums of such a kind are passing to and fro we may soon expect something more serious.

The Great Men of our Country.

At the age of twenty-nine, Mr. Jefferson was an influential member of the Legislature of Virginia. At thirty, he was a member of the Virginia Convention; at thirty-two a member of the Continental Congress; and at thirty-three he wrote the Declaration of Independence. At twenty-nine he was appointed a Lieutenant Colonel in the army of the Revolution, and aid-de-camp to Washington. At twenty-five he was a member of the Continental Congress; at thirty, he was one of the ablest members at the Convention of American sages who formed the Constitution of the United States; at thirty-two he was Secretary of the Treasury, and organized that branch of the Government upon so complete and comprehensive a plan that no great change or improvement has since been made upon it. John Jay, at twenty-nine years of age, was a member of the Continental Congress, and wrote an address to the People of Great Britain, which was justly regarded as one of the most elegant productions of the times. At thirty-two he prepared the Constitution of New-York; and in the same year was appointed Chief Justice of the State. Washington was twenty-seven years of age when he covered the defeat of the British troops at Braddock's retreat, and the same year was honored by an appointment of Commander-in-Chief of the Virginia forces. Joseph Warren was twenty-nine years of age when he delivered the memorable address of the 5th of March which aroused the spirit of patriotism and liberty in this section of the country; and at thirty-four he gloriously fell in the cause of freedom in the battle on Bunker Hill. Fisher Ames at the age of twenty-seven, had excited public attention by the ability he displayed in the discussion of questions of public interest. At the age of thirty, his masterly speeches in defence of the Constitution of the United States had exerted great influence, so that the youthful orator of thirty-one was elected to Congress from the Suffolk district, over the Revolutionary hero, Samuel Adams. Joseph Story entered public life at the age of twenty-six; he was elected to Congress from the Essex district, when he was twenty-nine; was speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives at the age of thirty-two, and the same year was appointed by President Madison a Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States. De Witt Clinton entered public life at twenty-eight; Henry Clay at twenty-six, the most youthful signer of the Declaration of Independence, was William Hooper, of North Carolina, whose age was but twenty-four. Of the other signers of the Declaration, Thom. Hayward, of South Carolina, was thirty; Elbridge Gerry, Benjamin Rush, James Wilson, and Mathew Thornton, were thirty-one; Arthur Middleton and Thomas Stone were thirty-three.

The Cuban Plot.

The second act in the great scheme for consolidating and perpetuating the domination of the slaveholding interest, was opened yesterday in the Senate of the United States. The Louisiana resolutions concerning Cuba were presented and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations. A profoundly interesting and significant debate, though of course in its present stage it could only deal with the subject at arms' length, was had upon it. The leading point made by the representatives of the slaveholding interest was, that if Spain takes any measures to effect, however gradually and peacefully, the removal of Slavery from the island, such a step, or the proof that it is in contemplation, will justify this country in taking forcible possession of Cuba and holding it as part of the United States. The only doubt raised by Southern Senators related to the question of fact, whether any such project was in contemplation or not. Mr. SEWARD alone intimated that he should oppose any intervention on the part of this Government in the internal affairs of Cuba.

The indications are unmistakable that the next great battle against the domination of Slavery, is to be fought in connection with Cuba,—if the Free States feel sufficient interest in the matter to fight it at all.

The Slave power is so flushed with its Nebraska victory;—it has the whole Executive power and patronage of the Federal Government so completely at its control;—so considerable a portion of the Northern representatives are anxious to sell their votes for office of for cash;—and the people of the Free States have become so habituated to a cowardly and disgraceful submission to whatever of degradation their own representatives may impose upon them, that but little ground for future hope remains. So far as the present Congress, and the present Administration are concerned, we have no doubt that everything will be done which the Slaveholding interest may demand. JEREMY BENTHAM is the ruling spirit in the Executive Department. He has been an open and declared advocate of Secession;—and the policy of the Administration, under his lead, is to prepare the South for this contingency.

If the people of the Free States have any disposition to resist the accomplishment of these designs, they will have an opportunity to show it before many months.—New York Weekly Times.

Congressional Contest in Old Berks.

"Old Berks" will have a "lively time" of it at the approaching fall election. From a source to be relied upon, we learn that the friends of Col. JOHN C. MYERS, editor of the Berks County Press, who was recently "crushed out" of a mail agency by the Administration, for refusing to crook the knee at its bidding, intend running him as an independent candidate for Congress, in opposition to Hon. J. GLANCEY JONES, the present Representative from that District, should he again receive the nomination. The point in view is to try the relative strength of the men, and their popularity, and whether the Democracy will sustain the course pursued against Col. Myers. We sincerely trust he may achieve a victory which will vindicate his manly position as an honest and fearless public journalist. When the independence of an editor is made the ground for his discharge from office, it is time to resist the tyranny of party! Indomitable resistance to oppression and wrong, has long characterized the people of Old Berks; they are honest Democrats, and will visit upon the heads of their party the insult to independent journalism. We "know nothing" of the spirit of the hardy sons of this staunch county, if they do not administer a stern rebuke to the Administration. Usurpers must be taught that a free people will not bear mental enslavement, and Col. Myers is every way qualified for a teacher.—Phila. Sun.

Value of a Schoolmaster.

We offer the following sentiments from the earned and good Channing, for the consideration of those who will not pay their schoolmaster wages and thus secure "good servants."

"There is no office higher than that of a teacher of youth for there is nothing on earth so precious as the mind, soul and character of a child. No office should be regarded with greater respect. The first minds in a community should be encouraged to assume it. Parents should do all but impoverish themselves to induce such to become the guardians and guides of their children. To this good all those who know themselves to be indebted to said estate, be it in Notes, Bonds Book Debts or otherwise, will make settlement of the same, within six weeks from the date hereof. All those who have any legal claims against said estate, will present them well authenticated to the undersigned within the above specified time. JEREMIAH RITTER, Adm'r. Allentown May 31. ¶—6w

He feels confident that with a practice of many years, and with the assistance of the best medical works, that he is able to give full and entire satisfaction.

His charges will be very moderate, and he further states; that in cases where he cannot give the best satisfaction, he asks no pay. HENRY RITTER. Allentown; Oct. 19. ¶—3m

To Good to be Lost.

Our friend Col. Harper, who did the city good service as Mayor, (but whose porting-ers around the Park did not prove a good investment) is a good deal of a wag, and loves a joke as well as his dinner. We happened to be sitting in the counting room of the "Brothers" one day, when there entered a sick looking gentleman, with a straight collared cutaway coat, and a broad brimmed drab hat. He advanced towards "the Colonel." "Is Mr. Harper in?" "I'm one of them," said the ex-Mayor. "Well, sir, my name is Uriah G. Hopkins, I belong to the Oneida Conference. I am a minister of the Gospel. I come here on the Lord's business." "The man who attends to the Lords business," said the Col. without moving a muscle, "is out at present; he will be in at two o'clock." This was the simple fact: all donations to charitable and religious societies being delegated to only one particular partner of the house.

Governor Bigler.

We have learned, that Governor Bigler did not sign the prohibitory liquor bill, but suffered it to become a law by limitation.—The matter will therefore, have to be decided by the voters, at the ballot-box, in October next. The Governor appears to have been placed in the position of the Ass between two bundles of hay, or the Sailor, who prayed "Good Lord, Good Devil," not feeling satisfied into whose hands he might fall. Wonder what the Governor will have to say for himself, on this subject, when he stamps the State in this fall, as we learn he intends to do. If the bill is a good one, why not sign it; if a bad one, why not put his Veto upon it? We do not like this dodging of a question, of such vast importance, as the one alluded to. Let a man be a "Man or a Mouse."

MARRIED.

On the 25th of May, by the Rev. Joshua Yaeger, Mr. William B. Gebhardt, to Miss Mary Ann Koop, both of Salisbury.

Worman's Spring.

A family of the Benakey tribe of Indians have pitched their tent, at "Worman's Spring," and intend sojourning there for a short time. The family consists of nine persons; the old gentleman and lady, three sons and four daughters, all of whom are quite intelligent, speak the English language fluently, and are constantly employed in the making of fancy baskets, fans, mocassins, canes, rings, bracelets, &c. which they offer for sale to visitors. The spectacle is quite an interesting one to persons of this section of country. All that can, should pay the "Indians" a visit. The old lady also prepares several remedies for Rheumatism, and other diseases. CHARLES SCHOLL. May 17th. ¶—4w

WIEDER & BOYER.

Thankful for past favors and hoping by strict attention to business and a desire to please, to merit a continuance of the patronage so liberally bestowed on them, and wishing the people to understand the fact, that they are both PRACTICAL HATTERS—both having served a long apprenticeship at the business and understanding the business thoroughly in all its various branches—they are confident they can MANUFACTURE HATS of all kinds inferior to none in the market, and also a little cheaper, because they perform a great deal of the labor themselves and buy their material from the importers for cash, and understanding the business they employ none but good workmen, and doing a large business they can afford to sell at small profits. These are some of the reasons why you often hear the remark that "Wieder & Boyer sell such beautiful Hats at such astonishingly low prices. They always have the latest Philadelphia and New York styles on hand, so you need not be afraid of having an old fashioned Hat stuck on you.—Give us a call. It don't matter what is the shape of your head, we will insure a fit. Country Merchants would do well to give us a call, as we will wholesale them hats and caps cheaper than they can get them in the city. Also a large assortment of all kinds of straw goods which they will sell cheap. TERMS CASH. Allentown, March 15. ¶—4f
