

Declaration of Independence.

JULY 4th, 1776.

WHEN, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed: that when any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness—Prudence, indeed, will dictate, that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly, all experience hath shown, that mankind are most disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed—But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former system of government.—The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operations till his assent should be obtained, and when so suspended he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws, for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time, after such dissolution, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions from within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for the naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the condition of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of new officers, to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in time of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction, foreign to our constitution, and acknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation.

Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States;

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury;

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offences;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our government;

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and warring against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the work of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions, we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British Brethren. We have warned them from time to time, of attempts made by their Legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connection and correspondence. They, to have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind—enemies in war—in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, Do, in the name, and by the authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these U. Colonies are and of right ought to be, free and Independent States—that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and Independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliance, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things, which Independent states may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

Signed by the order and in behalf of Congress.

JOHN HANCOCK, President.
CHARLES THOMPSON, Secretary.

Indians are Coming!

Washburn's Unique AND Interesting Entertainment.

Manners and Customs of the Uncivilized Indians of the far West.
GIVEN UNDER A LARGE PAVILLION ACCOMMODATING 2500 PERSONS.

The celebrated chief KAWSHAWGANNE, from the Waitapu Nation of the Indian tribes west of the Rocky Mountains; and the young chiefs AHWANETUNK and KIMMEWEAN, from the great Sioux Nation together with OKATEWOULA, from the Gallapoya tribe; with their large troupe of warriors and families, from the plains, and from West of the Rocky Mountains, will give a true exhibition of the manners and customs of the untutored red man of the forest.

AT ALLENTOWN ON FRIDAY JULY 7th.
At each Entertainment Kawshawganne, the most eloquent Indian Orator now living will give a brief description of his country, the condition of his nation at the present time—showing the great immoral influence exerted among his people, by the large class of Fur Traders now residing in their midst. Also, THEIR RELIGIOUS BELIEF, &c., &c.

The following interesting Dances, Ceremonies, Games, &c., will be represented by his large Troupe of Natives, as enacted by their people at the present day. Their solemn and impressive Burial Ceremonies, Chanting to the Spirit of a departed Chief, &c. Indian Council—Council speeches, smoking the War Pipe, &c. The Indian Merry Making, or the first day of Ludusian. Indian Courtship, Marriage Ceremony, Marriage Songs, &c. Indian Rainmaker calling upon the Great Spirit for Rain. The Indian Prophet, or Medicine man, who places great confidence in the efficacy of his Medicine Bag, casting out disease from a sick Indian by Enchantment. From the many Indian Dances the following will be represented by the Chiefs and attendants: Mattaway, or Sacred Dance, Harvest Dance, Discovery or Spy Dance, Buffalo Dance, imitating the buffalo, Courting Dance, Snake Dance, Green corn Dance, War Dance, Death Dance, Bear Dance, Dance of a Hunter in a Canoe, &c. The whole will be accompanied with the best pieces of WILD INDIAN MUSIC, AND SONGS.

Each ceremony represented will be explained by the Chief Kawshawganne, to the understanding of all present.

From the LARGE COLLECTION OF CURIOSITIES, the Chief will exhibit and explain the use of the following articles of Dress, Warfare, &c., brought from the uncivilized Tribes of the West, expressly for this Great Exhibition: War Knives made of Shark's Teeth, War Clubs of every description made with nothing but the Flint and Shell, showing the great ingenuity of the red man; Blankets manufactured from bark of trees; Knick-knack sack used by the Indian in carrying his Tobacco; Stone Battle Axes, War Spears, Wampum Belts, War Pipes shaped from solid stone, Calumet of Peace, Tomahawks, Scalping Knives, etc., together with the largest variety of Beard, Moose Hair, and Porcupine Quill Work ever exhibited.

In the afternoon may be witnessed the exciting sport of SHOOTING AT TARGETS WITH BOWS AND ARROWS, showing the wonderful expertness acquired by the Indian in the use of this simple weapon.

At each Entertainment will be represented in three parts the great historical scene of POCAHONTAS SAVING THE LIFE OF CAPTAIN SMITH. Also the Scalping Scene, Rescue from the Burning Stake, &c.

At the close of the Evening Exhibition will be presented the celebrated revolutionary scene of the MURDER OF MISS JANE MCREA, who left her home to join her lover in the British Army, and was killed by a party of Indians sent to conduct her.

The Chiefs, accompanied by their attendants will make a grand entrance into town, mounted on their Indian Ponies dressed in full Indian Costume, painted and fully equipped for war, between 10 and 11 o'clock A. M. preceded by KIMMEWEAN'S CELEBRATED BRASS BAND, composed entirely of native Indians, the only Indian Brass Band in the world, and for harmony and execution of music, have no equal among the travelling bands of the day. The whole combination forms the greatest attraction ever presented to the American people.

Admission 25 cents. Children under 12 years of age half price. Doors open at 2 and 7 o'clock P. M.—Exhibition commences at 2 1/2 and 7 1/2 o'clock P. M. Good order will be preserved; seats reserved for the ladies. Courteous and obliging ushers will always be found in attendance. The public may rest assured that no effort will be spared to render this the most attractive entertainment of the present day, and will find it an exhibition well worthy the attention and sympathies of those interested in the manners and customs of a nation fast passing away.
