A Retributive Tragedy.

Our readers will remember that about two months since we gave an account of the murder of Mrs. Noble, in Baltimore county, about six miles from the city, on the Philadelphia turnpike. Her body was found terribly mutilated, in a large tub, upon which had been placed a large stone and on the top a plank. The murder caused great excitement in the neighborhood, and as the general impression was that her husband, Frederick Noble, was the murderer, great efforts were made for his arrest. That he was the murderer, became the more apparent, on account of his absence from his furm, where everything was left in confusion. The Governor of the State was induced to offer a reward of $300 for his apprehension, and a particular description was given of his person, &c.

So matters remained until yesterday morning, when another horrible scene was presented. Early in the morning Justice Lewis Frankinberger was informed that a man was hanging dead in a barn on the farm of Noble. Upon examination it was found that it was the refugee murderer, Noble himself. It appeared that he had climbed up on the outside of the barn, or fodder house, reaching the second story, where he stood upon a layer of sheaf wheat. Here, with a new razor, which had been tightly bound around the handle so as to keep the blade from slipping, he had cut his throat, completely severing the windpipe. From the spot where his throat was cut, he appeared to have gone about six feet, where he hung himself with some twine about the thickness of a rye straw, the same with which the razor was bound -When found he was dressed in an entire new suit of clothes, inside and out, and in his pocket was a new razor and a new penknife. He was also cleanly shaved.

There were appearances that previous to committing the deed, he had gone to his wife's grave, who had been buried on the place, and walked around it a number of times. This belief arises from the fact of seeing a number of tracks about the grave, which correspond with the footsteps of the boots he had on.

On his person was found a letter, written in German, in which he fully confesses his agency in his wife's death; and attributes the cause to jealousy. He says in the letter that a dispute arose between him and his wife, when she said, "You had better kill me and then kill yourself." He then went out into the yard and got an axe and struck her on the back of the neck, killing her. He let her lay for two hours, when he got a barrel, into which he thrust the body, and sunk it in the ground and covered it with another barrel, to prevent-discovery.

The letter further states, that he came to the city on the next morning after the murder at five o'clock, and left the city in the nine o'clock train for the West. His western visit extended as far as Cleveland, and during the time he went to work on a railroad, where there were some three or four hundred hands employed. Among them was a nian who knew him, and he made sundry inquiries, which was the hardest time he had. He states that he came here to go to the gallows.

The unfortunate man arrived in the city on the western train, on Saturday evening, and immediately proceeded to his recent residence, where he consummated the act of suicide. He leaves three children, a boy aged fourteen years, a boy aged three years, and a baby.

A circumstance like this rarely occurs; ined we do not remember its parallel. A murfor two months, voluntarily returning to the grave of his murdered wife, and there, as it were, appeasing her manes by committing suicide upon it.-Baltimore Sun, 27th.

TRAGIC AFFAIR AT CAIRO. - The Louisville papers of Dec. 2d, contain an account of a negro who kept a grog shop on a flat boat at Cario, who having been sued for sixty dollars and judgment rendered against him, threatened to shoot the magistrate if he refused to let him off. Soon afterwards, he armed himself and took a stand upon his boat, waiting for the magistrate to come along. Upon hearing what his intentions were, a large crowd of people surrounded the boat, and threatened to destroy it. The negro then fired into the crowd, and wounded four persons, when his boat was fired, cut loose. and set adrift, and as soon as he got out some distance in the river, the negro tied a weight around his neck, jumped overboard, and was drowned.

MARRIAGE IN THE ARMY AND NAVY .- The proportions in the service who are returned as married in every 100 of each class are 25 officers and 15 men in the army; 30 officers in the navy, and 24 seamen; while two officers in 100 and one man in 100 are widowers in the army, and one officer and one man in the navy. The proportion of bachelors in civil life is 31 in every 100 persons of the age of 20 and upwards. Among the officers of the age of 20 and upwards serving in the army, 71 in 100; among the men, 82 in 100; among the officers in the Royal Navy, 60 in 100; among the seamen, 60 in 100 are returned as bachelors .- English Census Re-

THE EAGLE AND THE OWL .- The Valley Whig gives an account of a desperate fight, not long since, Amsterdam, Bottetourt county, Virginia, between an eagle and an owl. The eagle had seized upon the owl, but found his prey too weighty to be carried off, and in the scuffle the owl fastened his claws in the eagle's thigh, and held his enemy so tight as to make it impossible for him to escape. While in this condition a gentleman passing by, hearing the scuille, approached and easily captured both the combat ants. The owl was one of the largest of his species, and the eagle measured over six feet across the wings.

CAPT. KIDD'S TREASURES .- The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian gives the result of the search for the treasure of the freebooter, Capt. Kidd prosecuted by a number of " prominent Philadelphians," in the neighborhood of Sing Sing, (New York.) As the story runs, a colored waiter in that; city dreamed that he had discovered the doubloons, and forthwith repaired accommanied by a friend. The box was found. filled to the top with the best Spanish gold.

"The lid, was again adjusted and the hole filled up with dirt. The waiter and his friend started for Philadelphia, to wait a more favorareality to cheat each other of his share. The what he had witnessed, and urged him to procure a party sufficiently strong to overcome the ghost of Kidd, if it should make battle. The leader obtained the services of several sturdy police officers, and off they started in hot haste to Sing Sing, in order to obtain the doubloons, taking the waiter with them. On their arrival at the spot indicated by the waiter, all hands set to work with pickaxes and shovels, and soon had a hole made large enough to conreached, when joy beamed in every countenance present. The sturdiest among the policemen seized a pickaxe and soon relieved the box of its lid. Despair was visible in every feature, and curses loud and deep' were showered upon the head of the colored waiter. Some were for making him food for fishes, while others were for hanging him to a limb of the nearest tree. -Reposing in all the quietude of death, there lay a fresh-killed fabby cat. The colored man protested his innocence of the deception, and charged his former colored companion with having slipped on to New York before the disappointed party which he had led thither, and, removing the treasure, had substituted the cat. He was required to make oath to this fact before the party would exonerate him from censure. Having done this he was forgiven, and the company started back to Philadelphia, where they arrived the latter part of last week, and are now in search of the colored man who abstracted their treasure trove. It is said that he has made his way to Canada with the money. Some of those engaged in the search now begin to doubt the waiter's story about the gold, but the leader swears to the truth of his servant's dream, and is willing to stake his reputation upon its truthfulness. He talks of set ting him to dream again. The public may rely upon the verity of this story in its main feature.

A LESSON FOR THE GIRLS. -My protty little dears-You are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens. The truth is, my dear girls, you want generally speaking, more liberty and less fashionable restraint, more kitchen and less parlor, more leg exercise and less sofa, more making puddings and less piano, more frankness and ess mock-modesty, more breakfast and less bustle. I like the buxom, bright-eyed, rosy-checked full-breasted, bounging-lass, who can darn stock mys, make her own frocks, mend trowners. command a regiment of pots and kettles, milk the cows, feed the pigs, chop the wood, and shoot a wild duck as well as the Duchess of Marlborough or the Queen of Shain; and be a lady withal in the drawing room.-Mrs. Ellis'

THE CROWN OF ENGLAND. - The following is estimated as the value of the jewels in this magderer after being absent, and having escaped nificent dindem : Twenty diamonds round the circle, £1,500 each, £80,000; two large centre diamonds, £2,000 each, £4,000; fifty-four smaller diamonds, placed at the angle of the former, £100; four crosses, each composed of twenty-five diamonds, £12,000; four large diamonds on the top of the crosses, £4,600 : twelve diamonds contained in fleur-de-lis, £10,000 eighteen smaller diamonds contained in the same £2,000; pearls, diamonds, &c., upon the arches and crosses, £10,000; also, one hundred and forty-one small diamonds, £5,000: twenty-six diamonds in the upper cross, £300; two circles of pearls about the rim, £3,000. Cost of the stones in the crown, exclusive of the metal, £111,900.

CURE FOR A STUBBORN HORSE.-In India, when a horse can and will not draw, instead of spurring or burning him, as is frequently practiced in more civilized countries, they quietly get a rope, and attaching it to one of the fore feet, one or two men take hold of it, and advancing a few steps ahead of the horse, pull their beast. No matter how stubborn the aninal may be, a few doses of such treatment effeets a perfect cure. We give the recipe, hoping that some of our teamsters, mule-drivers, especially, instead of cruelly beating, or otherwise abusing their animals, as is too frequently the case, may be induced to try it.

Dr. Beale .- A new trial in the case of Dr. Beale, convicted of violating the person of Miss Mudge, while under the influence of chloroform, in Philadelphia, has been refused. The decision of the Court was given by Judge Thompson. Beale was sentenced, on Monday, to undergo an imprisonment in the county prison for four years and six months.

SHAMEFUL CONDUCT. - The New York Times s informed, upon good authority, that Mr. Collins, proprietor of the Collins' line of Steamers, has dismissed the gallant DORIAN from the service, and denied him the usual certificate of good conduct and character - not upon any charge of neglect of duty, but because he stated facts about the wreck which the owners of the line did not wish to have made public.

EDITORIAL AGRICULTURE. - Thurlow Weed, of the Albany Evening Journal, is now the father of eighteen children, his valuable helpmate having presented him one every cleven months since their marriage.

Just think of eighteen consecutive years producing Weeds. Heavens what a harvest for hard-working man !- Louisville Journal.

WOULD RATHER BE IN SLAVERY .- In the Police Court yesterday, a colored man named John Stewart was arraigned on charge of stealing a quantity of clothing from an elderly colered woman. Stewart plead guilty, and offered in Corn, mitigation, that he was out of funds and food, and had taken this course to provide himself Oats, with the necessaries of life. He stated to the Salt, to the spot designated in his nocturnal reveries, | Court, that a short time since, he was a slave in | Potatoes, Raleigh, North Carolina, and upon being in- Ham, per lb,, formed of the kind treatment he would receive from the Abolitionists in the North if he would become a free man, he concluded to purchase Butter. himself, and did so at a cost of $900. He left Eggs per doz. ble opportunity to procure the coin, but in his master and came to Ohio. "Since I came here," continued Stewart, "I have been kicked waiter, on his arrival, apprised his employer of about and abused by all classes of white men.-Can't get work from no one, and to borrow money, to get bread with, that is out of the question. I wish I was a slave again. I did a great deal better there than I ever did here."-Here the defendant took his seat to await the sentence of Court, which was, that he be sent to the chain gang at hard labor for one month and pay the cost of prosecution. Stewart said he did not mind the hard labor, and was thankful for the prospect of getting something to eat in tain half a dozen men. The box was at length jail. He declared that as soon as he got out he would go South and become a slave again .-Cin. Gaz.

> RECEIPTS FOR FINE CAKES .- The Rural New Yorker says: "The following were given us by one of the best housekeepers we ever knew:

WAFFLES,-1 lb flour, 1 lb butter, 1 pint of milk, 5 eggs. To MAKE PRIME VINEGAR .- A correspondent of the Ohio Cultivator vouches for the merit of the following recipe for making vinegar: -Take and mix one quart of molasses, three gallons of rain water, and one pint of yeast. Let it ferment and stand for four weeks, and you will have the best of vinegar.

PAUPERS TO BE RETURNED. - The ship John Elliot Thayer, which sails to day for Liverpool, takes back about one hundred and fifty paupers from the different institutions in the State. Nine of these were brought up from Deer Island yesterday, making in all twenty-eight that have been sentenced. The others return of their own will. One of those who goes back is an old man who has been in this country for thirty. six years, and who has raised a family and paper on his own account.

The new volume will be radically improved. buried them all in America, and whose desire now is to return, that his bones may rest with those of his fathers .- Boston Traveller, 29th.

NARCOTICS AND POISONS.—The "Chemistry of Common Life," which is now going through the press, states that tobacco is produced to the extent of 4,430,000,000 lbs. annually, and is used by eight hundred millions of men. Tobacco is used among 800,000,000 of men; Opium, among 400,000,000 of men; Ind. Hemp, among 280,000 of men; Betel-Nut, (or Pinang.) among 100,000,000 of man; Cocoa, among 10,000,000 of men. Little is known in Europe of the use of Hemp as a narcotic; yet in the East it is as familiar to the voluptuary as the Opium and Tobacco of other regions. The value of these articles is fixed at £60,500,000 annually.
