

A Monster Lump of Gold.
We chronicled yesterday the finding of an immense lump of quartz gold in Calaveras County, weighing 161 pounds, or 2,576 ounces avoirdupois. Estimating it to contain 20 pounds of quartz rock, which is a large allowance, in the opinion of experienced persons who examined it, the actual weight of the gold in it will be 141 pounds, or 2,256 ounces avoirdupois the value of which, at $17.25 per ounce, would be $38,910. This is the largest nugget of pure gold ever found in California or in the world! It was brought down to this city yesterday by Adams & Co., and will be shipped to the Atlantic States, in the steamer of to-day. The proprietors of it were so excited by their good luck that they set up beside their treasure night and day on its way here. Mr. PRANKINS, one of the company to whom it belongs, states that it was taken out in Calaveras County, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, just as the company were about quitting work for the day; he would not give any particulars in regard to where the claim is located, except that it is in the county above named. The company consists of four Americans and one Swiss. Mr. PRANKINS belongs to Lexington, Ky., and for the past two years, although he has labored hard, was very unsuccessful, never having more than $200 at any one time during that period. The length of this immense mass is about fifteen inches, and its width from five and one-half to six inches. As one side is extremely irregular and uneven in its formation, it is difficult to arrive at the exact thickness, but it will probably average four inches. The other side is almost flat, and presents a solid mass of pure gold; the only quartz perceptible is on the upper or ragged side, and some pieces are so loosely imbedded in the precious metal that, with the aid of a pointed instrument, they might be easily removed. The whole mass, at some period, has apparently been in a fused state.—San Francisco Star, Dec. 18.

STATISTICS OF THE PAST YEAR.—The papers, in various directions, are filled with statistics of the past year, giving the remarkable events, accidents, incidents, fires, &c., throughout the country. The entire loss, from fires, throughout the United States, for the year, is estimated at about $25,000,000. There were, also, eighty fires in which loss of life ensued, the number of victims being one hundred and seventy-one. The number of railroad accidents was one hundred and ninety-three, killing one hundred and eighty-six persons, and wounding five hundred and eighty-nine. In 1853 there were only one hundred and thirty-eight similar accidents, but attended with the loss of two hundred and thirty-four lives, besides four hundred and ninety-six wounded.

The steamboat accidents of the year have alarmingly increased, the total number reaching forty-eight, with the loss of five hundred and eighty-seven souls, and two hundred and twenty-five wounded, against thirty-one accidents, three hundred and nineteen killed, and one hundred and fifty-eight wounded in 1853.

Crime, too, of every grade, feds up a fearful catalogue. There were six hundred and eighty-two murders, and eighty-four executions during the year.

The list of mortality for the year includes the demise of no less than eighteen men and twenty-seven women who had attained the age of one hundred years and upward. One—a colored woman—was said to be one hundred and forty-six; and another—an Indian woman—one hundred and forty-two years of age. The oldest white man was one hundred and seven, and the oldest white woman one hundred and twenty-one years. Death has also, during the year, greatly thinned the diminished ranks of the Revolution—no less than eighty-six having ceased their earthly existence during the last twelve months.

MATRIMONIAL REFLECTION.—According to the last census there are about seventeen thousand females more than males in the good city of Philadelphia, and it is natural to presume that a large portion of these husbandless members of the human family are longing to enter into a happy state of wedlock. However, wife hunters must not suppose that they can stand at the corner of the street and beckon to them whichever suits their fancy. Philadelphia damsels are not so desperate as to rush into the arms of any puppy who takes it into his head to ogle them. And yet it does seem that the milk and sentiment market is somewhat deficient, when we recollect this fact in connection with the numerous advertisements of forlorn bachelors who sigh for muslin and sympathy. There is a very grave misunderstanding between our coy maidens and nervous wooers.—Whole World.

RECIPES FOR THE CURE OF SCROFULA.—Nicholas Longworth, the well known Cincinnati grape and wine raiser, publishes a recipe for curing scrofula: Put 2 ounces of aquafortis on a plate, on which you have put two copper cents. Let it remain from 18 to 24 hours. Then add 1/2 oz. of clear, strong vinegar. Put cents and all in a large mouthed bottle, and keep it corked. Begin by putting four drops in a teaspoonful of rain water, and apply it to the sore. Make the application three times a day, with a soft hair-pencil, or one made of soft rags. If very painful, put more water; if not too painful, put less; as the sore heals, apply it weaker.

Sad Effects of Poverty.
John Murphy, an Englishman, arrived at New York in August last, with his wife and five children, and obtained employment until recently, when he was discharged. His family have lately been in a state of great destitution, and it had such effect upon him as to deprive him occasionally of his mind. He refused to apply to the relief committee, but, on Friday, his wife started out to see the committee. The Post says:
“She soon returned to her residence, No. 396 Water street, where, on entering the room, she heard a noise in the bed-room, and, on inquiring of the children where their father was, they said he was lying down in the bed-room. She went to go in, and found the bed just in front of the door, and on looking in, one corner, she discovered him upon his knees, with his hands together, as if praying, and his throat cut in a horrible manner. He could just manage to speak, and on seeing his wife he cried out, ‘Oh, Sarah! oh, Sarah!’ She immediately called for help, and removed him into the front room, and kept a cloth to his nose, in hopes of saving his life until a doctor was sent for. On the doctor’s arrival, he had the deceased removed to the New York hospital. He died on the way. At the time he got his throat, his youngest child was starving on the bed, having had nothing to eat for two days, and during the inquest upon the father, the mother received news of the death of her child. We will not attempt to express the feelings of that poor woman as she sat by the corpse of her husband, and received the penetrating news of her poor child’s horrible death. The poor husband was a fine looking man, a tailor by trade, and appeared to have seen better days.”

UNHEALTHY PLASTERING.—A communication in the New York Journal of Commerce asserts that the hair used in plaster for new houses, is very frequently, so dirty as to emit unpleasant effluvia, and calculated to keep a room unhealthy for years afterwards. The writer says:
“Hair used for mixing in mortar should be thoroughly washed, re-washed, and dried, and thus deprived of the putrid matter—that often adheres to it. The lime in mortar is not sufficient to cleanse the hair. It will generate an unpleasant sickly effluvia whenever the room is heated, until, after a long time, the mortar is converted into nitrate of lime, or so much of it as is mixed with the animal matter incorporated in the mortar.”

PENNSYLVANIA STATE TEACHERS’ ASSOCIATION.—This body, composed of Teachers and County Superintendents, and friends of Education, held its fourth semi-annual session in Lewistown, Pa., on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of last week. A large number of members were in attendance, and is spoken of in the highest terms of the unanimity, zeal and earnestness which characterized the session, and of the cordial reception and hospitable entertainment afforded by the citizens of Lewistown.

Carefully prepared reports were presented by Committees, on the following subjects:—
“On the importance of the Study of the Ancient Languages, as a discipline for the mind,” by Mr. O. C. Davis, of Lancaster; “On Physiology, as a branch of Common School Education,” and “On the Ventilation of School Houses,” by Mr. J. N. Loughlin, of Millville; “On the education of the Deaf,” by Mr. J. H. Brown, of Philadelphia; “On Normal Schools,” by Hon. Thos. H. Burrows, of Lancaster. Several of these reports elicited animated and prolonged discussion.

Evening addresses on various important educational topics were delivered by speakers from Philadelphia, Pittsburg, and other towns in the State, and the session closed with a complimentary entertainment, given in honor of the occasion, by the ladies of Lewistown.

TWIN EGGS.—We were shown yesterday, by Cotton-Gin Builder Shaffer, a twin egg which was found in this yard, and which is certainly one of the oldest specimens of the lusus nature that has ever come under our observation. The eggs, which are attached at the smaller ends by a ligament half an inch in length, have only a soft shell; but what is most remarkable is the fact that one is all yolk, while the other is comprised entirely of what is commonly called “the white.” Mr. Shaffer suggests that it is a new species of egg, which should be called the Christmas or egg-nog egg, as the white and yellow are done up in separate shells, ready for beating and stirring for egg-nog. This wonderful advancement in the science of eggology must no doubt be attributed to the efforts of the fowl convertors and societies that have engaged so much of public attention of late years.—Sabannah News, December 29.

A MAN DEVoured BY HOGS.—A correspondent of the Havana Journal gives the particulars of a shocking accident which occurred in Orange township, in Schuyler county, and which resulted in the death of Charles Sprawl. He went out of his house for the purpose of cutting fuel in the yard, in apparently his usual health, which was generally good. In less than half an hour his daughter, on going to the door espied him lying on his back in the yard, dead! and three hogs devouring him around the head and face; they mutilated him horribly, having devoured his nose and ears, all the muscles of his face, and almost all the scalp of the top of his head. The jawbones were entirely denuded, as also the wind-pipe, all the large and deep seated blood vessels on both sides of the neck being torn and devoured by the ferocious animals. It could not have been in this situation but a few moments, as the blood was still flowing warm from the torn arteries and veins when found. The cause of his death is unknown. He leaves an interesting family and a large circle of relatives to mourn his untimely loss.—Binghamton Republican, December 29.

THE OLDEST INMATE.—There is now living in Washington county, Va., a lady, who is perhaps the oldest person in Virginia. Mrs. Mary Collins, residing about seven miles from Abingdon, beyond the Middle Fork of the Holston river, the Abingdon Democrat says, is certainly not less than one hundred and twenty years old, and is believed to be near one hundred and thirty. Although Mrs. Collins has reached this extraordinary age, she yet attends to a great deal of work about the farm of her son, with whom she resides, and our informant states that a short time back he saw her carrying a heavy bucket of water up a steep hill.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.—The editor of the Worcester (Massachusetts) Palladium says that the following recipe for consumption has proved acceptable in so large a number of cases, that he is induced to make it public: Take the meats of almonds, and with a wedgewood mortar, (which can be procured of an apothecary,) reduce them to powder. Upon this pour, gradually, cold water, and sweeten with loaf sugar. It is a remedy that can do no harm, if no good results from it.”

STARTLING, BUT TRUE!
WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW.

How often it happens, that the wife suffers from year to year in that pitiable condition as not even for one day does she feel the happy and exhilarating influence incident to the enjoyment of health.

THE BLOOMING BRIDE.
But a few years ago in the flush of health and youth, and buoyancy of spirits, rapidly, and apparently inexplicably, becomes a feeble, shabby, yellow, debilitated wife, with frame emaciated, nerves unstrung, spirits depressed, countenance bearing the impress of suffering, and an utter physical and mental prostration, arising from ignorance of the simplest and plainest rules of health as connected with the marriage state, the violation of which entails disease, suffering and misery, not only to the wife, but often to the children.

CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA, RHEUMATISM, HYPERTROPHY OF THE HEART, KING’S EVIL, & other and worse Diseases, as a DREADFUL INHERITANCE FROM THE PARENTS.
“And must this continue? Must this be? Is there no remedy? No relief? No hope?” Must this be? The remedy is by knowing the causes and avoiding them, by the use of medicines, and benefiting by them. These are pointed out in

THE MARRIED WOMAN’S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION,
BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE AT WORCESTER.
One Hundredth Edition, (500,000), 18mo., pp. 250.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1.00.]

A standard work of established reputation, found chief in the catalogues of the great trade sales in New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, and sold by the principal booksellers in the United States. It was first published in 1847, since which time

FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES have been sold, of which there were upwards of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND SENT BY MAIL, attesting the high estimation in which it is held as a reliable popular Medical

BOOK FOR EVERY FEMALE the author having devoted his exclusive attention to the treatment of the peculiar troubles, in respect to which he is yearly consulted by thousands both in person and by letter.

Here every woman can discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, causes, and the proper remedies for her complaints. The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice of the utmost importance to her future health, in respect to which her sensitiveness forbids consulting a medical gentleman, who find such instruction and advice, and also explain many symptoms which otherwise would occasion anxiety or alarm as all the peculiarities incident to her situation are described.

How many are suffering from obstructions or irregularities peculiar to the female system, which undermine the health, the effects of which they are ignorant, and for which their delicate habits seeking medical advice. Many suffering from profuse uterine (falling of the womb), or from florid clime (weakness, debility, &c.) Many are in constant agony for many months preceding confinement. Many have difficult if not dangerous deliveries, and slow and uncertain recoveries. Some whose lives are hazarded during such time, will each find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration and relief.

It is of course impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married or those contemplating marriage. Reader, are you a husband or a father? A wife or a mother? Have you the sincere welfare of those you love at heart? Prove your sincerity, and lose no time in learning what causes interfere with their health and happiness not less than your own. It will avoid to you and yours, as it has to thousands, many a day of pain and anxiety, followed by sleepless nights, incapacitating the mind for its ordinary avocation, and exhausting those means for medical attendance, medicines and advertised nostrums which otherwise would provide for declining years, the infirmities of age and the proper education of your children.

In consequence of the unusual popularity of the work, as evidenced by its extraordinary sale, various imitations have been attempted, as well on book sellers as on the public, by means of the title page, spurious editions, and other devices and deceptions, it has been found necessary, therefore, to send (subject free) to any part of the United States, the Canada and British Provinces, all letters must be post-paid, addressed to Dr. A.
