Last Words of Nicholas.

THE UNITED STATES, ENGLAND AND FRANCE. -A letter dated St. Petersburg, and attributed to a distinguished source, is given in a late number of the New Orleans Bce. The writer assumes to represent some of the last words of Nicholas of Russia :--

England, said he, has reached her culminating point either for life or death. There is no middle point for her to pursue. One thing alone may much her, and that is a free confeswhole aristocracy, made to the people, that, they have been absurd, from first to last, that the Crown is unable any longer to maintain its power, and that the people must rise and unite together as one man, to save the honor and preserve the independence of the country. A candid acknowledgment of the truth may even now save England, if her corrupt aristocracy can be brought to the stool of confession. France, on the contrary, can maintain herself only by falschood and deception.

The Emperor may proclaim to his subjects that he governs and influences the affairs of all Europe, that not a shot can be fired without his permission, and that France is the first power in Europe; but a single shock, one speech of a demagogue may overthrow him, and darken the star of Napoleon forever. I have offered him my hand, the hand of reconciliation, but he refused it. He wishes to avenge Moscow upon me, and St. Helena upon England. Short-sighted man, who seeks to avenge the sins of the fathers upon the children as for Germany, Austria and Prussia, they would not now exist, if I had not saved them then they crouched at my feet six years ago, they think to strengthen themselves in the mighty struggle between the nations of Europe.

But they never have been, and never will be, more than secondary powers, satraps holding authority by the elemency of my House, or by permission of the Western Powers. Yet one nsolation is left to me in the midst of all this ingratitude and villainy, and that is the silent sympathy of that high-hearted people on the other side of the Atlantic, the only hearts in which I hear an echo of my struggles against united Europe. Never have I forgotten the smallest kindness shown to me by the least of my subjects ; let my children never forget what ve owe to America, and if ever an hour of danger darkens around the Union, let her find a faithful ally in my family. These words may be of interest to you, my friend, because you are now living amongst the Americans; and I mention them, knowing that your sympathies have bound you to a for eign land nearly half a century. One learns to recognize his true friends in the hour of danger, and you may rely upon it, that as long as a Romanoff sits on Russia's throne, the American States will never need a friend.

The above (says the Bee) is a faithful and almost literal translation from the letter, which is written in German, by one of the nobles of Courtland, residing in St. Petersburg. From the source whence we received it, we have no hesitation in guaranteeing its authenticity.

REMARKABLE CASE OF PETREFACTION .- Nine years ago, a man about the age of sixty years and weighing about two hundred pounds, named Vaughan, removed into the Northern part of Middlesex, about eight miles from Montpelier, and a short time after died ef dropsy and was buried near his own residence. On the last days of February past, his friends attempted to disinter him, for the purpose of removing his remains to Pomfret; when it was found to require the best exertions of five or six strong men to raise the coffin from the grave. The coffin was then opened and the corpse found to be nerfect in chape, life-like in appearance, but of solid stone, which no awl or knife would penetrate, any more than marble. The corpse was weighed at Montpelier and the weight found to be 550 lbs !

What makes the case the more remarkable is the fact, that the corpse of a girl, buried by the same side of the man, was almost wholly consumed, only the principal bones remaining .-Here is a problem for philosophers .- Bellows Fall: Vt., Argus.

THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE LIQUOR LAW. -The passage of a liquor law, restricting the sale of liquors in Pennsylvania and New York. has caused a great deal of excitement among liquor dealers, and they seem determined to test the constitutionality of such legislation. It is contended by them, that, as the act of Congress licenses and authorizes the importantian of li

CHURCH ROBBERT-DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR .-The Catholic Church (St. Mary's) on Third street, in the lower part of the city, was entered last night by burglars who forced open the back door, and entered the large congregation room. The robbers despoiled the alter of all No. 21 East Hamilton Street, its jewelry and ornaments, the following articles being carried away by them :-- 1 ostensorium; 1 chalice; 2 ciboriums; 1 large pix; 2 small pixs ; 2 holy oil sticks ; 2 silver candlesticks; 2 surplices. Several other articles of value were mutilated by the robbers, and left in. the Church. The sexton found the back door, by which the robbers entered, open this morning, it having been left so by them upon their exit. The entire loss to the Church will amount to about $1,000 .- Troy Times, Tucsday

SERVED HIM RIGUT .- The Ripley (Ind.) Circuit Court last week sentenced Mr. Muir to the Penitentiary for two years, for forging a note for twenty-five dollars. Mr. Muir is probably the richest man in Ripley county, Ind. It is supposed his property is worth near $100,000.

MARRIED.

On the 19th of April, by the Rev. Mr. Zeller, Mr. ISRAEL REINBOLD, to Miss MARIA ZIEGLER, both of Upper Saucon.

DIED.

On the 18th inst., in Catasauqua, of Typhoid fever, AMANDA ELIZABETH, daughter of Joseph and Phoebe Laubach, aged 11 years 5 months and 18 days.

Dearest Amanda, thou hast left us -Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that hath bereft us,

He can all our sorrow heal. Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of of life is fled,

Then in Heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed.

A number of Clergymen stockings, kid and kid finish gloves, very cheap for cash. Yes sir, Henry Sounders, I can tell you that he also sells from abroad are expected to take part in the

such as coats vests, pants and shirts of all kinds, quality and prices, very cheap for cash. Well, Mr. Knoweverything how is it that Stopp can sell so much cheaper than anybody else. Why, Mr. Knownothing I can tell you he don't trust out his goods for to-morrow and next week's pay, and then loose half of it, but he sells for cash and no trust, and I say come one and all, and away we go, to Joseph Stopp's Cheap Cash Store, and there we will get what we want without having our eye-teeth ever burnt.

N. B.—Notice is hereby given that Stopp will sell from this day on until further notice, his Goods very cheap, and also, that he will take butter, eggs, lard, rags, smoked meat, dry beef, dry apples, potatoes, soap and tallow in exchange for goods.

With Reaper Attachment. KETCHUM's celebrated Mowing Machine has been improved by the addition of a Reaper Attachment, and it is now offered as a Mower, or as a Mower and Reaper combined, with full confidence that it is the most perfect and successful machine now in use. The addition of the Reaper has been effected by enlarging the main wheel, by circular sec-tions bolted to the rim of the wheel. (This has been patented.) It can be changed to the Reaper in a few minutes without injury to the Mower.

The agency for the sale of this well-known machine is still relained by us, and may be seen at the office, No. 78 South Wharves, Philadelphia, where they will be delivered to purchasers after the 15th of 5th month (May) next, by one of us in person.

Price of Mowers $115; Mower and Reaper conbined, $135. Terms cash. Communicaions to be addressed
