

Burning a Negro Alive.

HORRIBLE SCENE IN THE 19th CENTURY.—Some time since we published an account of the murder of Miss Thornton, a young girl, residing near Gaston, Alabama. Immediately after the murder and detection of the negro, his immediate punishment was seriously contemplated by the people of Sumpter county, but after mature deliberation the law abiding citizens delivered him into the custody of the proper officers, and he was committed to prison. In consequence of the excitement among the people, the place for the trial of the case was changed at the late term of the Supreme Court to Green county. This act roused the people to take the matter into their own hands, and they immediately assembled in large numbers, proceeded to Livingston, where the criminal was confined, and took him by force from the jail. On Friday, May 25th, they carried him to the spot where he so cruelly murdered his innocent victim, and burnt him alive at the stake. The Marion (Mississippi) Republican, of May 28, says: "About three thousand persons were present, who witnessed, with various emotions, the dreadful spectacle. We were present, but hope that we will never again witness a scene like it. The pyre was composed of several cords of light wood, in the centre of which was a green willow stake, selected in consequence of its destructibility by fire. On the top of the pile of light wood the criminal was placed, and securely chained to the stake. While in this situation he confessed his guilt, stating that he had no accomplice—that he was actuated by the lust alone—that he had attempted to violate her person, but had failed, and to conceal the attempt he had cruelly murdered her by beating the poor innocent creature with a stump; that while he was doing this she implored him to carry her home to her father, and that she would conceal the violence he had inflicted. He then left, but soon returned, and after again beating her, he concealed the body in the very hole where the stake was planted at which he suffered. After this confession was made the match was applied, and in a few moments the devouring flames were enveloping the doomed negro; his fearful cries resounded through the air, while the surrounding negroes who witnessed his dreadful agony and horrible contortions set up an involuntary howl of horror. His sufferings, though excruciating, were short; in a few minutes the flames had enveloped him entirely, revealing now, and then, as they fitfully swayed hither and thither, his black and burning carcass, like a demon of the fire, grinning as it in hellish triumph at his tormentors. Soon all was over, nothing was left but the burning flesh and charred skeleton of this human devil, who could thus deliberately perpetrate so foul a crime. This horrid outrage was fearfully avenged, and though the heavens were reeking with the stench of burning flesh, yet justice was satisfied: the law of retaliation was inflicted as nearly as could be, while the example made of this wretch had, no doubt, a salutary effect upon the two thousand slaves who witnessed his execution. We are far from approving of the infliction of mob law, yet, in aggravated cases like this, popular indignation will manifest itself, and in view of the enormity of the wretch's offence, we, as a public journalist, cannot approve, yet we have neither time nor inclination to censure the conduct of the people of South Sumpter. Justice was inflicted by them, and a thousand deaths of the kind were too good for a devil like negro Dave."

THE STRAY FIRE ENGINE IN THE SHADE.

On Monday afternoon, a new fire engine, built by Jas. Brooks & Co., of Frankford, for the use of J. & W. Harrocks, Cotton and Woolen Dyers, was tested by the makers, in order to ascertain its capacity for throwing water. The engine is a rough ungainly looking machine, made of wrought iron, with the exception of the cylinders, which are copper, with poppet valves. It has a 9 inch cylinder, with a 12 inch stroke. The place selected for the trial was a large stone stack, belonging to the factory of the late Samuel Pilling. The engine was put into operation, and water forced out of a one inch nozzle to the height of 170 feet, although a large number of persons present were of the opinion that it reached 180 feet. They then played on a dead level, through a one inch nozzle, a distance of 221 feet; a 1 1/2 inch nozzle 141 feet, and a 1 1/4 inch 106. Considering that the engine had to draw its own water, the display was a creditable one, and reflected credit on the makers, who challenge the Steam Fire Engine "Young America," or any engine now in use in the city to beat it.—*Phil. AN OLD RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.

One of the oldest, if not the oldest conductor in the United States, is at present in the employ of the Philadelphia and Germantown Railroad Company. Major Kirkbaum commenced his career in August, 1839, and since then has been constantly in service—traveling on an average about 73 miles per diem. This would make the entire distance passed in the sixteen years over 426,000 miles, or equal to about seventeen times around the globe. It may be imagined that some changes have taken place during the period just named—but the fact of a man traveling such an enormous distance without accident, goes far to prove that the dangers of railroads consist not so much in the use, as in abuse of this mode of travelling. Sixteen years have seen great changes along the line of the Germantown railroad. Property in the vicinity of the latter has increased enormously in value, and Philadelphia and Germantown have grown much closer together. The period is not far distant when the ancient borough will be blended in the built-up portion of the consolidated city.—Phil. Bulletin.

A DISCOVERY.

One of the incidental results of the Japan expedition is the discovery that the Zodiacal light is a belt extending entirely around the earth, after the manner of Saturn's ring. Several eminent astronomers consider the fact as proved.

CARRYING A BULLET 50 YEARS IN THE HEAD.

There has just died in the village of Reindorf, in France, in his 75th year, a veteran of the French army, named Peter Klein, who, at the battle of Austerlitz, on the 2d December, 1805, was struck by a Russian musket ball, which lodged in his left temple, just above the ear, and remained there to the day of his death, a period of nearly fifty years, without having caused him any pain, or at all affecting his intellectual faculties. After the death of Klein, his family, to whom he had bequeathed this ball, to be preserved as a souvenir of his campaigns, had it extracted by Dr. Backe, a surgeon of Bonn, who performed the operation by means of trepanning, so that the ball remains surrounded by a ring formed by part of the skull. The brain had not been at all injured, nor was there any appearance of any fracture in the skull near the spot where the ball had lodged. The medical men express their astonishment that a foreign substance could have remained so near the intellect of the person without being somewhat affected.

TO SPORTSMEN.

A correspondent of the Scientific American communicates the following, which may be of value to sportsmen: "Wash your gun barrels in spirits of turpentine by dipping a rag or sponge fastened on your gun rod into the liquid, and swabbing them out three or four times, when they will be cleared from all impurities, and can be used almost instantly, as the turpentine will evaporate and leave the barrels dry; even if they are a little moist it will not prevent their going off, like water. After being washed thus, there is no danger of rust as when water is used. I am an old, experienced gunner, and have practiced this four years, and found it useful."

TO DESTROY THE WHEAT FLY.

Take orpiment (which can be procured at any drug-gist's) and with lighted charcoal burn the orpiment close to the wheat, at any time after sunset and before sunrise, at the time when the plant commences to flower. It should be repeated while the fly is found to exist. One ounce is found to be sufficient for six acres. Another and perhaps equally efficacious remedy is, so soon as the fly is discovered or the plant shows a disposition to open its flowerets, to carry around the patch of wheat strong lights at night, the darker the better. The flies will all rush to the fires and destroy themselves.

Progress of Reaping Machines.

We have been informed by a manufacturer of agricultural implements—one who is excellent authority—that between fifteen and sixteen thousand reaping machines will be manufactured and sold this year in our country. The demand is so great that manufacturers cannot make them fast enough for their orders. This affords evidence of agricultural prosperity, as the cost of these machines will amount to nearly two millions of dollars. Our farmers exhibit wisdom in using and patronizing machinery. A reaping machine will save the price of itself in one season.—Scientific American.

THE "OLD SOLDIERS."

A bounty and a sixty acre land warrant for one hundred and twenty acres was forwarded to the President of the United States for military services rendered by him during the Mexican war. A similar warrant was forwarded to ex-President Tyler, for military services during the late war with England.—Hon. WILLIAM L. MARCY, Secretary of State, receives an 80 acre warrant for military services in the same war, he having already received a bounty of 80 acres under the act of 1850.

ANOTHER PREDICTION.

It is said that the woodcock in New Jersey is building its nest this year in open and moist places; and old hunters predict in consequence that the summer will be a dry one. The same prediction was made last year.

STARTLING, BUT TRUE! WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW.

How often it happens, that the wife lingers from year to year in that pitiable condition, not even for one day to feel the happy and exhilarating influence incident to the enjoyment of health.

THE BLOOMING BRIDE.

But a few years ago in the flush of health and youth, and buoyancy of spirits, rapidly, and apparently inexplicably, becomes a feeble, sickly, pale, and emaciated wife, with frame emaciated, nerves strung, spirits depressed, countenance bearing the impress of suffering, and an utter physical and mental prostration, arising from ignorance of the simplest and plainest rules of health as connected with the marriage state, the violation of which entails disease, suffering and misery, not only to the wife, but often to her children.

HEREDITARY COMPLAINTS UPON THE CHILDREN

"UNTO THE THIRD AND FOURTH GENERATION," TRANSMITTING CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA, HYPOCHONDRIA, INSANITY, GOITR, KING'S and other worse Diseases, as a DREADFUL INHERITANCE FROM THE PARENTS.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION,

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE OF WORCESTER. One Hundredth Edition, (600,000), 18mo., pp. 224. [FOR FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $2.]

A standard work of established reputation, found chiefly in the catalogues of the great trade sales in New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, and sold by the principal booksellers in the United States. It was first published in 1841, since which time FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES have been sold, of which there were upwards of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND SENT BY MAIL, attesting the high estimation in which it is held as a reliable popular Medical

the author having devoted his exclusive attention to the treatment of complaints peculiar to females, in respect to which he is yearly consulted by thousands both in person and by letter.

Since every woman can discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, causes of, and the proper remedies for, her complaints. The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice of the utmost importance to her future health, in respect to which her sensitive friends consulting a medical gentleman, will find such instruction and advice, and also explain many symptoms which otherwise would occasion anxiety or alarm as the peculiarities incident to her situation are described.

How many are suffering from obstructions or irregularities peculiar to the female system, which undermine the health, the effects of which they are ignorant, and which their delicate friends seeking medical advice, may suffer from protracted and fruitless of the womb, or from their ailments (weakness, debility, &c.) Many in constant agony for many months preceding confinement. Many find it difficult if not dangerous delivering, and slow and uncertain recoveries. Some whose lives are endangered during such time, will cash find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration and relief.

It is of course impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married or those contemplating marriage.

Reader, are you a husband or a father? a wife or a mother? Have you the sincere welfare of those you love at heart? Prove your sincerity, and lose no time in learning what causes interfere with their health and happiness, not less than your own. It will avail you and your family, as it has to thousands, many a day of pain and anxiety, followed by sleepless nights, incapacitating the mind for its ordinary avocations, and exhausting those means for medical attention, medicine and advertised nostrums which otherwise would prove for declining years, the infirmities of age and the proper education of your children.
