

Terrible Riot at Louisville.

A terrible riot occurred at Louisville, Kentucky, last Monday, the day of the general election in that State. The New York Tribune says: We have by telegraph a tolerably connected account of a dreadful riot in Louisville. From what we have it seems that some drunken or otherwise reckless men, said to be Irish or Germans, fired at a carriage containing two Americans, one of whom was wounded. A policeman and two citizens interfered, and they also were fired at and wounded. A crowd assembled, sacked the house whence the shots were fired, and beat two of the Germans found in it almost to death. Other houses were sacked, a brewery burned, a great number of foreigners terribly beaten, and one Irishman shot so that he died a few hours afterward. In consequence of a slight injury to an American by a shot from a street near the burning brewery, the Irishman who was said to have fired it was captured, beaten, and then killed by a shot. It was proposed to sack the Catholic Cathedral, but the Mayor persuaded the crowd to desist.

There was now a cessation, and the Americans were about putting up their cannon, which they had dragged about but had not used, when there came rumors of more firing from Irish houses in another quarter. The first step was to hang an Irishman charged with shooting an American. Meanwhile, the firing continuing, the crowd attacked the Irish houses, set them on fire and killed a number of the inmates, besides burning to death many others. One woman was killed. The number roasted is stated at from fifteen to twenty. This was the general result of Monday's work. Tuesday the city was in constant excitement, but no more blood was shed. An extra police force had been organized. The Catholic Bishop has disclaimed all sympathy with or knowledge of the attacks upon Americans, and calls upon his people to keep the peace. He has given the keys of the cathedral to the Mayor. Our latest dispatch last night stated that two companies of armed volunteers were marching to the scene of the house-burning, and more trouble was feared. Altogether it is one of the most terrible results of mob violence that has ever disgraced the country, and cannot fail to bring infamy even upon Louisville, of Matt. Ward notoriety. The authorities seem to have made no attempt to stop the bloodshed until it was all over. It will be observed that the riot did not begin at the polls, and is in no way connected with the election.

The Rain and the Crops.

The New York Tribune commenting upon the reported injury of the crops by the unusual prevalence of wet weather, says: "Let us look at the prospect fairly. There is no disputing the fact that in all the wheat region north of lat. 41 the wheat, either cut or uncut, is badly sprouted. How great the damage is it is difficult to determine, as many farmers have no precedent to judge by, not having had such a season for several years. Indeed, we remember only one—it was in the year 1836, though the worst of the wet weather came somewhat later. "That year the wheat was mostly cut, and in shocks in the field or in stacks. In the great wheat regions of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, the farmers quite generally declared the crop to be totally ruined. In some fields it did look so, for when it was uncut the yellow heads assumed a green shade, and the shocks and stacks became as green on the surface as the adjoining pastures. In due time, however, the raining period was over, the sprouts died, the standing grain was cut, the shocks stacked or thrashed, the stacked lost their bright yellow hue and stood a rusty-looking mass of dry, weather-beaten straw; and yet—mark the result—the wheat inside was as bright and sound as ever. So slight was the injury that it was hardly perceptible in the final result. The shocks and standing grain were more injured, but not ten per cent. of the grain destroyed. "When wheat is sprouted, a good winnowing machine will remove most of the injured kernels which are excellent feed for animals. If there be a predominance of sprouted grains in the grain that goes to mill, it is not spoiled for food; it is only spoiled for light bread. The dough, instead of rising by the ordinary process has a tendency to liquify and spread out and form a sticking mass that will not be kneaded into loaves. It makes good unleavened bread, and is quite nutritious, with a sweetish taste. By many persons bread made of sprouted wheat is preferred, but in market the least appearance of green kernels will injure the sale. Some millers even contend that one per cent. of such kernels will injure the quality of the whole. It is therefore important to the farmer that he should be very careful to keep the sprouted sheaves separate from the sound, and should also separate the sound from the unsound grain in winnowing, as far as possible.

A Boy with Horns.

The Coddle (La.) Gazette is informed that there is a negro boy in that neighborhood, about eighteen months old, who, about a month and a half since, had a pair of horns to make their appearance on the front part of the head, precise in appearance like those of a young deer; they are now about one and a half months old and are full six inches long, well covered with velvet, and on one of them two spikes making their appearance, and are still growing remarkably fast. When the foregoing is sifted, we apprehend the only horns in the case will be found to have been in the neighborhood of the mouth of the infant of the Gazette.

A Western Editor says.

"Not much editorial this week—can't help it—another bouncing big boy in this shanty—only happens once a year." "During July 142 arrests were made at Buffalo for drunkenness.

TOMATO PRESERVES.

Take the round, yellow variety as soon as ripe, scald and peel; then to seven pounds of tomatoes add seven pounds of white sugar, and let them stand over night. Take the tomatoes out of the sugar and boil the syrup, removing the scum. Put in the tomatoes, and boil gently fifteen or twenty minutes; remove the fruit again and boil until the syrup thickens. On cooling, put the fruit into jars and pour the syrup over it, and add a few slices of lemon to each jar, and you will have something to please the taste of the most fastidious.

LARGE AND CROOKED VOYAGE.

A bark called the Arabia succeeded in sailing direct from Liverpool to Chicago, but owing to the fact that a vessel built for the lake trade, and able of passing through the canal and entering the various lake harbors, cannot carry a cargo, with safety, sufficiently large to pay expenses, a similar arrival will rarely, if ever, occur again.

A NEW WAY TO RAISE BEANS.

A gentleman in Seneca Falls, N. Y., last spring, planted some Lima beans. Not being provided with poles, he supplied their place by planting in each hill sunflowers, trimming them up so that they served the purpose of poles. For a time all went on well, till, at length, the sunflower growing so much faster than the beans, the latter were absolutely drawn up by the roots.

VENEZUELAN BEEF CATTLE.

Several persons from Philadelphia are reported to have gone to Venezuela to contract for cattle, and will take $150,000 to that city. Should the enterprise prove remunerative, there will no doubt be a steady importation kept up. Cattle are sold very low in South America, where many thousands are killed annually merely for their hides.

LETS NATURE.

Robert Dobbins, of Henrico, county, (Va.) has a double headed duck, which was hatched at his residence a few days since. The little creature is now dead, but preserved in alcohol for future exhibition. It also has two perfect necks, and eyes enough for another of its kind. We have never heard of so many extraordinary freaks of nature among the feathery tribe as have taken place this season.

Rye Flour and Corn Meal are also scarce, but quiet, owing to the advanced pretensions of holders. There is not much Wheat offering, and the market is firmer: some 78000 bushels were disposed of at 187a190c for fair and good red, and 198a203c for Southern white, including a small lot of choice Penna at 205 cts. and about 3000 bushels in store, on terms not public. Rye is steady, with further small sales at 125 cts for old, and 112a114 cts for new. Glorious News!

FOR all those ladies and gentlemen that had to work hard for their dollars and cents through hay-making and harvest, Joseph Stopp has just returned from New York and Philadelphia, and he is now going to sell off his entire stock of Summer Goods at near half price, so as to enable him to make room for a new winter stock. Stopp is determined to sell his goods at half price; Lard worth 25 cts he sells at 12 1/2; some worth 12 1/2 he sells at 6 1/2; collars 4 cts; calicoes worth 12 1/2 he sells at 6 1/2; black mits and a fine lot of furs going off almost for nothing. Mantillas at almost half price, also a fine lot of silks and berberge, a little too nice and cheap for cash.—Glorious news, good times for the people, if they call at Joseph Stopp's Cheap Cash Store, street near Hagendach's Hotel, in Allentown.

If you want Ready-made Clothing or the stuff to make them, Stopp sells almost for half price. Well I do declare that Stopp is just as contrary as Dick's hot band, for it goes twice round and ties no wherry, for every thing is high now and Stopp sells every thing very low, or cheaper than ever for Cash. Look out, gentlemen, if he ever fails, just say, I knew that for he sold too cheap; then you hit the nail right on the head.

JOSEPH STOPP.
