

STRANGE MEANS FOR THE RECOVERY OF A DROWNED MAN.—The first mate of the British ship Wreath was drowned at Panama on the night of the 20th of July, while attempting to get on board his ship. The body had not been recovered at the latest advices. In the account of the search for it the Panama Star records the following singular incident:—"The remark was made by some one that the most probable way of finding him was to bait a hook with a piece of pork and throw it overboard." This, whether accidentally or intentionally, was done from the Pacific Mail steamship Senora, and during the morning a shark took the bait, was hauled on board, and when cut open, much to the astonishment of all, in the monster's stomach was found half a pig with the right arm of the missing man, with part of the shirt sleeve still remaining by which it was easily identified to be that of the mate. The arm appeared as though the flesh had been cut through to the bone, about midway between the elbow and shoulder, and there the bone was forcibly torn from the shoulder joint, leaving the upper half quite bare."

UNPARALLELED CRUELTY AND MURDER.—A villain at Hamptonville, North Carolina, named Christopher Robbins, on the 20th of July murdered a poor old negro man who was his slave. He first beat the old man with the butt of a wagon whip until he wore it out, then he used an axe handle (with which he also knocked down his wife) and finally finished the old negro by pouring hot water in his ears. The neighbors turned out to catch the murderer, but he finally escaped.

AN ELEPHANT FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.—The London Times chronicles the death of the large female elephant in the Regent's Park, and says she was frightened to death! A terrible storm of thunder and lightning on the 14th of July filled her with terror, and although partially tranquilized by the keepers, the condition of the animal underwent a great change. She continued to droop, and died in a few days.—She was a splendid beast, and weighed when in good condition 5,225 pounds. The skin weighed 623 pounds, and the heart 25 pounds.

MEAT.—The Cincinnati Price Current makes an estimate of the amount of cattle, sheep and lambs consumed in the United States during a year, in all the cities and towns containing over 5000 inhabitants, based on calculations deduced from the statistics of the New York market. It gives these towns an aggregate population of about four millions of inhabitants, and sets them down as consuming 800,000 head of cattle, and two and a half millions of sheep and lambs, besides three millions of hogs, the whole valued at seventy-one and a half millions of dollars. Two-thirds of this entire product is said to come from the States in the valley of the Ohio.

A FINE FATHOM ON THE LATE.—Edward Cady, who was hung at Clarksville, Texas, on the 29th of June, for the murder of Sinclair, was attended in his last moments by his wife, who shrieked as the halter was adjusted to his neck, and when he swung off, ran to him and endeavored to hold him up, until the sheriff removed her. After hanging thirty-five minutes he was taken down, and still found warm, so much so that his wife entertained for a time a belief that life might be restored. The last that was heard of him late in the evening, however, she was attending to his burial.

THE POMONA DONNET.—The newest fashion for ladies bonnets, is to trim them with all sorts of garden fruits and vegetables—currants, gooseberries, etc. The latest and most distinguished specimen of this style of face-framing bonnet, trimmed with a wreath of peapods.—We shall expect, next season, to find the first specimens of early potatoes clinging to the head of one of our fashionable promenaders; and as for carrotty locks and cabbage heads, they will be at a premium.

DANGER OF BATHING WHEN INTOXICATED.—A young clerk named Ryan, while drunk, recently went in bathing in the Surrey canal, London, and, although a good swimmer, was immediately drowned. The coroner, who is editor of the London Lancet, said that when the system was excited with drink, if a person plunged into the water it almost in every case produced apoplexy.

MARRIED.

Glorious News!
FOR all those ladies and gentlemen that had to work hard for their dollars and cents Stopp has just returned from New York and Philadelphia, and he is now going to sell off his entire stock of Summer Goods at a great half-price, so as to enable him to make room for his winter stock. Stopp is determined to sell Parasols at half price; Lawns worth 25 cents he sells at 12; some worth 12 1/2 he sells at 6; collars at 4 cents; calicoes worth 12 1/2 he sells at 6; black mits and a fine lot of fans going off almost for nothing. Mantillas at almost half price, also a fine lot of silks and berage, a little too nice and cheap for cash.—Glorious news, good times for the people, if they call at Joseph Stopp's Cheap Cash Store, No. 41, at the corner of Hamilton and Eighth streets, near Hagenbuch's Hotel, in Allentown. If you want Ready-made Clothing or the stuff to make them, Stopp sells almost for half price. Well I do declare that Stopp is just as contrary as Dick's hat band, for it goes twice round and ties no where, for every thing is high now and Stopp sells every thing very low, or cheaper than ever for Cash. Let our gentlemen, if they ever fails, just say, I knew that he sold too cheap; then you hit the nail right on the head.

THE undersigned announce to the public that they have entered into co-partnership as House, Brick and Stone Wall Painters; also imitations of all kinds of ornamental wood, &c. The numerous buildings they have painted and ornamented in this town and neighborhood will bear evidence of their workmanship. They are both experienced hands in the business, and will stand good for the durability and beauty of their work; will take any job by contract or by the day. Apply to Edward Henry, No. 41 South 9th street, or to Benjamin Stettler, No. 00 West Walnut street, Allentown.
