AN ABOLITIONIST TARKED AND FEATHERED. The citizens of Lexington were very much incensed on Friday last, upon reading an article nublished in the Statesman, copied from a paper in Oxford, Ohio. It purported to have been written in Lexington, and gave an account of Christmas day in that city, with many violent and false comments upon the institution of slavery in Kentucky. The letter was signed J. B., the initials as was ascertained, of a person (J. Brady) who had been for some time employed as a teacher in one of the city schools. Feeling that this man, who had been received and hospitably entertained, was guilty of great wrong in thus calumniating the people and institutions of that section, after night a party of almost two hundred repaired to his lodging.

He was informed of the mission of the company,

The New Liquor License Bill. The committee on Vice and Immorality of the Senate, through their chairman reported ed at the age of 41 to the French galleys for the following bill to take the place of the restraining Liquor Law of last session :
