Mr. Fillmore Abroad.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald writing rom Rome, thus alludes to Mr. Fillmore:—
Millard Fillmore left here to day for Naples, after having been for nearly four weeks the pride of every American in Rome, and the cause European with whom he came in contact. Such a specimen of American republicanism does more honor to our institutions than all the diplomatic agents we have lately had to repreular views of politics; but I know there is not a man in the land whose elevation to the highest office in the gift of the American people would go further to re-establish peace and good will towards the United States, and at the same time, insure the respect we have a right to claim know, even as a Democrat, worse calamities on black ducks, 5,000 wild geese, 10,000 dozen that might befall the United States than his player and spine and 25,000 dozen wild nielection to the Presidency. Mr. Fillmore has, fluring his short stay in Europe, visited England, Ireland, and Scotland—he has seen all shipped to Europe from New York, by the will be done up as usual, and for our work we are willthe German States, including Prussia and Aussteamers. Canvas-back ducks command high tria. He has made a prolonged stay in France and Italy, and is about to visit Egypt and the Holy Land, Turkey, and, in all probability, the seat of war. He will return to the United States in the month of June, richly stored with and services rendered to mere factions.
