THE LEHIGH REGISTER, JULY 2, 1856.

From the New Orleans Bee, June 10. Horrible Murder of a Wife by her Husband. SARAH D. HIGGINS, a handsome young English woman, of about 21 years of age, was murdered at her residence in the Fourth District, on Saturday night last, at about 11 o'clock, by her husband, Michael Higgins, an Irishman, to whom she had been married some three or four years. Higgins is a clerk in one of our large cotton houses. He is addicted to hard drinking, and is said to be remarkably vicious when drunk. Indeed, the circumstances of the flagrant murder which he has committed leave no doubt in our mind of the fiendishness of his propensities.

Upon the examination made before the Coroner, yesterday, it appears that he had gone home at the time in question, very drunk ; that he called his wife, who was in bed, for a drink of water ; that she replied there was water in a pitcher on the table ; that he told her to get it for him immediately or he would shoot her; that upon this she was so frightened that she ran out upon the gallery of the house, pushed the door to after her, and stood against it in a stooping position, watching for him ; and, that thereupon he placed the muzzle of a double-barreled shot gun, loaded with squirrel shot, against it, and fired through the door, lodging one of the charges in her abdomen, and causing a wound of which she died in about six hours.

It further appeared, upon the Coroner's exin hell-you are always giving us trouble ;" to not include the cannon, howitzers and mortars which the murderer answered, " take care, or stored at the above named depots. it may send you to the same place." He then went up to the bed on which lay his dying wife, and wanted to KISS her, but she refused the boon, turned from him and sternly bade him to depart. Here, for once, the kiss, that high test of affection, too often pandered as a trifle to the gratification of unholy appetency. rose to the sublimated magnificence. The poor victim of incbriation could not thus endure to go. His susceptibilities quickened under the force of her denial, and in all the mendacity of mendacity, with phrase of "accident," he yet implored the boon. But it could not be given. She replied that he had a thousand times threatened her, and that he would yet get his just reward. As a last consolation, the murderer turned and kissed their only child, a little boy, and was soon after arrested.

Thus stands the fearful record : but it is incomplete. He has poisoned their chalice ; and in the expiatory requirements of that inexorable law which, "passing not the trifler, bids e'en the drunkard die," must drink the potion he has poisoned, to its very dregs.

As further evidence of the extreme callousness of this being incarnate, he is said to have remarked to the physicians who were sewing up the wounds of his wife, that "such occur- Convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, there were conrences afforded them fine employment," and sumed every day at the Burnet House, thirty that it was well for them to happen once in a bushels of strawberries, the cost of which was while, as it gave them practice.

IT-IMPORTANT DECISION.-The case of Correll vs. Wilhelm has been decided by the Supreme Court, in favor of Correll, which ends the matter permanently, and Mr. Wilhelm will be compelled to fork over the sum of $11,000. Our readers will remember that this case arose out of the famous Peter Miller will case. Peter Miller, an old bachelor, residing in Easton, died, leaving an estate valued at about $400,-000. The only legel heir was a nephow living somewhere in Ohio. No one exactly knew

The heir was produced, the will set aside and Mr. Wilhelm placed in possession of the lion's share of the estate ; but then he declined giving Mr. Correll the farm that had been promised him. To recover it, or its value, this suit was brought by Peter Correll, Executor of his father, (who

A SINGULAR ROBBERY. - A singular mode of robbery has been detected at Dublin. A man used to send a large press by the Liverpool steamer, " headed this side up." In this press was a compartment in which he hid himself. At night, when all was still, he would get out and rob the warehouse of valuables, and retreating to his hiding place would be safely conveyed with his plunder to his own house.

TAT DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR.-IN-FLAMMATION and PAIN are as inseparable as FIRE by Peter Correit, Executor of his lather, (who died after these occurrences.) and the result is a verdict in favor of Peter for $11,000.—Eas-ral heat, throbbing or reduces, no matter whether ral heat, throbbing or redness, no matter watched it is caused by a fever, a hurt, a sore, poison, rhoum-atism, piles, scald, burn or sting, there is inflamma-tion. A hundred books or a thousand sermons can-not alter or change the conclusion. To reliovo pain, not alter or change the conclusion must be subdued. not rate of change the contraston must be subdued. To accomplish this, the efforts of the physicians are always directed. Thousands of physicians, and tens thousands of the first and most sugacious persons who have used DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRAC-FOR are convinced, and admit that its control over inflammation is most wonderful and immediate, in-stantly allaying the pain, neutralizing poison, extract-ng morbid secretions and forcing nature to resume er course, renewing and healing. No burn, scald, sore, or ailment is too severe to yield to its soothing and enring influence. Apply it immediately and the cure has commenced.

To be boiled in a tin-shape for four hours. IDThe Burnet House, at Cincinnati, gave dinner to 4,120 persons on the 1st of June. Content of the sugar coated Purgative Pills, and although the had little faith in their virtues, the pursuasion of friends at length provailed over his determination, and he consented to try them. The first box had no preceptible effect. However, a second was purchased, and the symptoms of his complaint began immediate-ity to ameliorate. The spitting of blood recurred at much longer intervals, until, finally, after the use of a few boxes more, it ceased altogether. He is now in the full giow of health, and capable of enduring the greatest fatigme without the least inconvenience. The Pills may be had of storekeepers in every city, Town, Village or place in the United States.
