

THE LEHIGH REGISTER. ALLENTOWN, PA. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20, 1856.

T. M. II.—Send the lines to the young lady. We really could not publish such stuff. JOHN F. W.—We could not undertake, to advise. You must trust a little to good luck, and everything to industry, energy, and tact. ANNIE.—Let the gentleman (?) come round of his own accord. If you place a half-drowned puppy-dog on the grass, it soon recovers.

An Earnest Hint. "Pay as you go" is the philosopher's stone from which all can realize the most beneficent results. We therefore wish to remind those of our subscribers who are indebted to us, that though we have never called upon them for money, it is none the less needed. We endeavor to pay our debts promptly, and as our expenses are very heavy, it is absolutely necessary that we should be punctually paid.

Accident from a Fluid Lamp. On Thursday evening last, a domestic in a family in the lower part of town, was seriously burned on the hands, breast and face, by the explosion of a fluid lamp, which she attempted to replenish while burning. Her injuries were at first considered dangerous but she is now recovering.

Congressional Pay. The members of the Thirty-fourth Congress have voted themselves and successors salaries instead of per diem pay. The Senate bill giving $2500 per annum was amended on Friday night in the House, by increasing the sum to $3000 a year, deducting for voluntary absence during the session, and giving no books except those printed by Congress.

Political Meetings. In another part of to-day's paper we publish the proceedings of the Political County Meetings held on Saturday. The Democratic meeting was held at the Public House of C. F. Beck, in Cataqua, and is said to have been the largest and most enthusiastic political meeting ever held in the County.

Allemtown Academy. The Fall term of this Institution will commence on Monday the 1st of September. Its popularity is so wide spread that it became necessary to enlarge the buildings in order to meet the favors bestowed upon it.

Drowned. On Monday evening of last week, a boatman from this county, named PETER T. HICKLE, was drowned in the Delaware river, near the mouth of the Schuylkill, at Philadelphia.

Anarchy in California. At the latest dates the Executive Committee of San Francisco still held sway, and was setting at defiance all authority, both State and Federal. The trial of Judge Terry, of the Supreme Court, for having resisted and wounded one of their number, who attempted to arrest a person in his presence, has not yet been brought to a close.

Quick Work. On the evening of the 22d ult., a free colored man, named Larkin Ray, killed John R. Harwich, near Greensburg, Ky.—Same night was arrested; next morning the grand jury found a true bill against him. He was tried that afternoon, and found guilty on the morning of the 24th, and was sentenced, the same day, to be hanged on the 5th of September.

Fruit Crop in Ohio.—The Cleveland Plaindealer is of the opinion that there will be very little fruit in that section of the present season.—The peach crop will be little better than none.—Out of whole orchards in many cases scarcely a peach will be gathered. Apples are more plentiful, but there will not be as many as usual.

Mortality Among Children.—In the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, last week, the following number of children died, under five years of age:—New York, 436, Philadelphia, 273, Boston, 34. Total, 743.

Expenses of New York.—The $280,000 appropriated for cleaning the streets of that city in the year 1856 is already expended, and five months of the time unexpired.

Sentence of Eisenbraun. Below we give the sentence of P. F. Eisenbraun, as passed upon him by Judge Maxwell, at the late term of Court for the Hansman robbery, of which he plead guilty. We trust our young readers will read it in an earnest manner, and seriously reflect on the fate this young man has met with by imprudently going astray from the paths of honesty and rectitude.

Democratic County Meeting. In pursuance of public notice, the regular Democratic County Meeting was held at the public house of C. F. Beck, in Cataqua, on Saturday last. The Meeting was organized by the appointment of the following named gentlemen as officers:

President.—HON. SAMUEL A. BRIDGES. Vice Presidents.—Gen. David Lairy, Hon. Jacob Erdman, Joseph Miller, Peter Engelman, John Kratzer, Hon. Peter Newhard, Capt. Jacob Marks. Secretaries.—Nelson Weiser, John R. Schall, Committee on Resolutions.—Allemtown—N. Ward, J. F. Newhard, R. E. Wright; South Ward, M. Hannum, Hon. J. Dillinger; Lehigh Ward, A. J. Oldenwever, Jacob Wolf; Cataqua, James D. Schall, A. Woolever; Hanover, Israel Trexler, Geo. S. Metz; S. Whitehall, John Dreyer, John Kratzer; N. Whitehall, G. L. Knouse, Wm. Keck; Middleberg, John Peter, David Ross; Lynn, Peter Snyder; Joel Haas; Lovhill, Reuben Schreier, J. E. Zimmerman; Weisenburg, Jon. Blank, Francis Weiss; Upper Macungie, Geo. B. Fogel, Jun. Bear; Lower Macungie, John Mattern, Peter Romig; Upper Milford, Reuben Stahler, Chas. Foster; Lower Milford, H. Dillinger, H. Jordan; Upper Saucon, Henry B. Peatson, D. M. Engelman; Salisbury, Joseph Keck, J. H. Erdman.

After the organization of the meeting, and the object of the same was stated by the President, the Committee retired to draw up a preamble and series of resolutions, and after a short time returned and reported as follows: Whereas, the Democracy of Lehigh county, in view of the great issue now presented to the people of this Union, deem the present crisis as fraught with more serious import than any through which we have ever passed; and whereas, we deem a clear and concise declaration of our principles (as a part of the only National Union-loving party that has survived the surges of bigotry and fanaticism,) peculiarly appropriate, therefore,

Resolved, That we look with most heartfelt pride upon the position now occupied by the National Democracy of this country: 1st. Because it presents the same unbroken front in support of the Constitution and the Union, that it did in the days of Jefferson, Jackson and the Democratic statesmen of later days. 2d. That while treason and Dissolution are openly promulgated by the opposition, in case they cannot compass their ends, Democrats everywhere, in the language of the venerated Cass "cling to the Union as the shipwrecked mariner clings to the plank when night and the tempest close around him."

Resolved, That we abhor all laws except good old Democratic patriotism, and hold in utter detestation as well that portion of our political opponents whose narrow views of national policy "know no South" as that other faction of the same name who are propped up by Illinois, and claim that they "know nothing." Resolved, That we cordially endorse the platform adopted by the National Convention at Cincinnati, embodying and reasserting the true Democratic doctrine of self government.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we consider the attempt of the Black Republicans to create the impression that "Free Kansas" is the only question now before the people, as simply ridiculous, and worthy of the source whence it emanates. One year ago the "Pope of Rome" was the only question; on a previous occasion a prohibitory tariff, or the repeal of the "Sub-Treasury, &c., &c., as happened to suit the fancy of the patriotic gentlemen, were foisted into the canvass and represented as the "only question now before the people." We cannot permit a band of fanatics thus to create new issues at pleasure for the purpose of overshadowing the cherished principles of sterling Democracy, under the guidance of which our glorious confederacy has assumed its evanescent position among the nations of the earth.

Resolved, That the Democratic Delegate Elections be held at the usual places in the several Districts of Lehigh county, on Friday the 26th of September next, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock, P. M., to elect the number of Delegates to which each District is entitled; and that the Democratic Delegate Convention be held at the house of Peter S. Keyser, in Trexletown, on Saturday the 27th of September, for the nomination of a County Ticket. (Signed by the Officers.)

Glass bottles were first manufactured in this country in 1786.

Lamp oil may be removed from a carpet by immediate and repeated applications of cornmeal.

Union County Meeting. In pursuance of public notice, a very large number of citizens of political parties opposed to the present National Administration, assembled at the public house of Gideon Yoder, in Trexletown, Lehigh county, to consult together concerning the approaching important election and the sad condition of the Union.

President.—HON. J. F. RUM, of Allentown. Vice Presidents.—Daniel Deily, Geo. Hill, Paul Bleiler, Moses Wicand, Oscar Schreiber, David Weida, John Smith, Sanford Stephen, Adam Decker, Levi Wolomberg, George Ludwig, Maj. S. Christ, Solomon Kuder, Henry Jarret, Dr. Wm. M. Kaul. Secretaries.—F. H. Weidner, S. B. Ritter, Dr. S. Smiltz, Jacob Young.

After the organization of the meeting the object of the same was stated by the President in a pointed and forcible speech, which was received with great satisfaction, and afterwards a committee of thirteen was appointed to prepare resolutions to express the sense of the meeting, which were afterwards unanimously adopted.

The following gentlemen composed the committee, viz: J. N. Gregory, Andrew K. Wittman, Reuben (Guth) Wm. Giering, Peter Mickle, Paul Bleiler, Ben. Giering, Peter Mickle, Willoughby by Edelman, Jacob Moser, Geo. C. Hand, David Bleiler and Jacob Wensy.

Resolved, That it is the mission of the Free Republicans to secure to all the enjoyment of their inalienable rights, by the impartial application to public affairs of the principles contained in the Declaration of Independence, which require equality in rights, and strict justice to all.

Resolved, That the substitution of the United States, obtained to form a more perfect Union, to establish justice, and secure the blessings of liberty, expressly denies to the General Government all power to deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; therefore the Government having no more power to make a Slave than to make a King, and no more power to establish slavery than to establish monarchy, should at once proceed to relieve itself from all responsibility for the existence of slavery wherever it possesses Constitutional power.

Resolved, That the Union of these States was the result of a series of compromises that have covered its framers with a glory that will never die, a boon which we are bound by every consideration that should influence man, to transmit to our posterity as perfect as we received it.

Resolved, That the Philadelphia Inquirer gives the following as the aggregate of the value of property in the United States, and the aggregate of population, taken from official sources: Population, 26,304,312. Value of property, $11,311,611,072.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

DAVID H. HUNTER, DEPOSED BY LETTERS OF A WHALING VOYAGE, &c. (CONTINUED FROM OUR LAST.) SAN FRANCISCO, MARCH, 1856.

However, they lowered: the sea smooth as a mirror, reflected the frail tiny bark upon the glittering surface, with its load of hardy, bronzed and courageous stout-hearted sailors going forth to war with the huge monsters around them. The harpooner softly rose in the bow of the boat, while the captain, taking the helm, whispered the commands necessary. Oars were unmoored, as the whales were apparently unmindful of the speck upon the water which the boat seemed to be, and lay perfectly quiet; with paddles they neared one of the largest, who with his flukes rolling slowly from side to side, seemed to be enjoying himself very much. They got within a few yards of his light-colored sides when the Captain spoke the words "Get ready!" "All ready!" was the whispered reply. "Fire!" "Aha!" about the vigorous arm of the harpooner had dove the keen edged, iron deep into the side of the monster. Almost instantaneous with the blow was the raising of the fluke, like a huge top-sail, overshadowing the boat and its occupants with its ominous shade, and before they were able to obey the command of "Storn all," (backing of the oars or paddles,) down it came, scattering death and destruction on one-half the boat, and smothering the rest of the crew, while amid the white foam of the commotion could be seen for a moment the mutilated and lifeless bodies of the Captain and three men, the other was saved. So much for infringing the "rules and regulations," as the Captain lost his life by doing so, and for his love of blubber.

September 11th, 1855.—Upon this day most of us were initiated into the real dangers of sea life for the first time; early in the day there were symptoms of a change in the weather by an alarming depression of the mercury in the barometer, and about noon the sky assumed a threatening aspect, seeming as though the heavens were shrouded in black. We prepared the ship by lashing everything movable upon the deck, emptying the boats of their paraphernalia, and securing the hatches with iron bars, and covering them with tarpaulin.

September 13th, 1855.—This day was a momentous one for us landmen, who had been for the first time in our lives, on a piece of land. About noon of this day our music heard a cry that most welcome of sounds, "Land Ho!" With a thrill of pleasure I sprang to the bow of the vessel, and could perceive only what appeared to me a dense bank of fog or clouds, surrounded with a mist of fog or clouds of a lighter color, but as the vessel was moving in that direction at the rate of ten knots per hour, our eyes were soon greeted with the sight of actual land.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

DAVID H. HUNTER, DEPOSED BY LETTERS OF A WHALING VOYAGE, &c. (CONTINUED FROM OUR LAST.) SAN FRANCISCO, MARCH, 1856.

However, they lowered: the sea smooth as a mirror, reflected the frail tiny bark upon the glittering surface, with its load of hardy, bronzed and courageous stout-hearted sailors going forth to war with the huge monsters around them. The harpooner softly rose in the bow of the boat, while the captain, taking the helm, whispered the commands necessary. Oars were unmoored, as the whales were apparently unmindful of the speck upon the water which the boat seemed to be, and lay perfectly quiet; with paddles they neared one of the largest, who with his flukes rolling slowly from side to side, seemed to be enjoying himself very much. They got within a few yards of his light-colored sides when the Captain spoke the words "Get ready!" "All ready!" was the whispered reply. "Fire!" "Aha!" about the vigorous arm of the harpooner had dove the keen edged, iron deep into the side of the monster. Almost instantaneous with the blow was the raising of the fluke, like a huge top-sail, overshadowing the boat and its occupants with its ominous shade, and before they were able to obey the command of "Storn all," (backing of the oars or paddles,) down it came, scattering death and destruction on one-half the boat, and smothering the rest of the crew, while amid the white foam of the commotion could be seen for a moment the mutilated and lifeless bodies of the Captain and three men, the other was saved. So much for infringing the "rules and regulations," as the Captain lost his life by doing so, and for his love of blubber.

September 11th, 1855.—Upon this day most of us were initiated into the real dangers of sea life for the first time; early in the day there were symptoms of a change in the weather by an alarming depression of the mercury in the barometer, and about noon the sky assumed a threatening aspect, seeming as though the heavens were shrouded in black. We prepared the ship by lashing everything movable upon the deck, emptying the boats of their paraphernalia, and securing the hatches with iron bars, and covering them with tarpaulin.

September 13th, 1855.—This day was a momentous one for us landmen, who had been for the first time in our lives, on a piece of land. About noon of this day our music heard a cry that most welcome of sounds, "Land Ho!" With a thrill of pleasure I sprang to the bow of the vessel, and could perceive only what appeared to me a dense bank of fog or clouds, surrounded with a mist of fog or clouds of a lighter color, but as the vessel was moving in that direction at the rate of ten knots per hour, our eyes were soon greeted with the sight of actual land.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

Resolved, That we hail with heartfelt pride the nomination of James Buchanan for the Presidency. As a statesman he has no superior, and we rejoice in the prospect of "Pennsylvania's favorite son" being the chosen one to ally the storms of faction and "crush out" the treacherable doctrines of the opposition which point to the dissolution of this happy Union.

dy release from this infernal prison-house where a man had not even the power of locomotion at his own control, or the liberty of speech, and when every little convenience was cut off at the malicious caprice of the officers. How eagerly we that day watched the sinking of the sun in the western horizon: it seemed as if for a second time, the hand of God had stopped its course since the creation, and when at last with a thrill of delight we beheld the last lingering rays of the sun playfully flickering over the tops of the rolling waves, our hearts rejoiced. But we were learned another bitter lesson of disappointment,—the Captain, who we supposed would stay on shore all night, and thus keep the ship near the coast,—came on board, and no sooner was the boat raised on her cranes, than we wore ship and stood off—by 12 o'clock we were a dozen leagues from shore.

DAVID H. HUNTER. (TO BE CONTINUED.) A YOUNG LADY MARRIED TO THE CORPSE OF HER LOVER.—A most unnatural affair took place at Bordentown, New Jersey, on Sunday, Aug. 3d. The Trenton Gazette states that the son of a gentleman in Bordentown, recently returned from Albany, New York, sick with the consumption, and died on Saturday, the 9th. The deceased had previously been engaged to a young lady aged about 17, now residing in the house of her intended father-in-law, and she is a firm believer in the spiritual notions as well as was her lover. The young lady, on Sunday morning, with the consent of the young man's father, this young lady was married to the corpse by the "spiritual ceremony," which was performed through a boy who acted as medium! The young lady was attired in all the usual bridal paraphernalia at the ceremony, and after it was over the funeral of deceased took place. It was attended by upwards of two thousand persons from Bordentown and vicinity who had been attracted to the spot by a morbid curiosity. The young lady, seated at the grave like one really possessed with an evil spirit: she raved and flung herself into the grave, and was with great difficulty borne from the spot to the residence of him whom she regards as her father-in-law. Since the funeral she lives at his house, and at meals a plate, cup, and a portion of all the condiments of the table are set apart for the dead man, whose empty chair these victims of superstition suppose to be tenanted by his spiritual body. The unfortunate young lady is the daughter of respectable parents who formerly resided in Burlington, but who have removed to California, whither she intends following them.

THE REIGN OF ART.—In this wonderful age, Art lays her master touches on almost every thing. The ceilings over us and the carpets we tread on, are protected from the effects of the winds that sweep through the mountains and the mud; makes her machines of wood and iron, to act as if with knowledge and annihilates space with lightning tamed down to the tutelage of a boy. Nothing is too lofty for her touch and nothing too humble. A new proof of this old conviction, has just fallen under our notice, in the shape of a CYCLOPEDIA PITA, from the laboratory of that world renowned Chemist, Det. J. C. Ayres.

WE UNDERSTAND THE SUBJECT, he has carried that article to the farthest perfection of which it is capable. Instead of employing Drugs in its composition, as we have always thought the necessary and only way, he has with consummate skill extracted the virtues of the medicine to be employed and combined them alone in their purity together. The composition is then mixed and rolled by machinery and steamed over into a spongy pill which is wrapped in an envelope of gelatine, for the purpose of protecting it from the effects of weather or time, and then thickly coated with sugar, to serve as its passport over the palate. Notwithstanding all this labored perfection they are ordered to the Public at less than one cent each. However humble the department, we think this may be safely characterized as the consummation of Art in its line. —Morning News, Balt.

A SINGULAR PRESENTIMENT.—The Detroit Advertiser of the 23d inst., states Mr. J. C. Rogers, a young man engaged on that paper as a compositor, came to that office the previous morning, and told the hands that he was unfit for work. Being asked what ailed him, he said that he dreamed during the night that he saw his mother in her coffin, and the dream was so vivid, and had affected him so deeply, that he could not work. He remained about the office all day, much depressed in spirits, and could not sleep. In the afternoon, when he received a telegraphic despatch, announcing to him that his mother was dead. The lady had enjoyed perfect health, to within a few hours of her death, and no communication whatever had been received warning him of her illness. The death took place at Niagara, C. W., 228 miles from Detroit.

FORGING A VOY.—A vote was taken in a railroad car on Wed. recently in the following manner:—A Buchanan man arose from his seat and called on all who were in favor of Fremont to "pull their boots off." No one appearing to support in this novel manner the claims of the "little mustang," he requested those favorable to Buchanan to "keep their boots on," which all the passengers forthwith proceeded to do. Unanimously for Buchanan, and so reported in the County paper.

A CURIOUS FACT.—The blubber on a fat whale is sometimes, in its thickest parts, from 15 to 20 inches thick, though seldom more than a foot: it is of coarse texture, and much harder than pork. So very full of oil is it, that a cask, closely packed with the clear raw fat of the whale, will not contain the oil boiled from it, and the scraps are left besides: this has been frequently proved by experiment.

The West India Sugar Crop this season is very large. There have been sent to England and Belgium fully 39,000 hogheads of sugar, and 1,400 hogheads molasses, and about the same quantity to the United States. This is good news to the consumers, for every time they go to the grocery the price is raised a cent a pound. Domestic preserving of fruit is very nearly abandoned on account of the cost of sugar.

Holloway's Pills invaluable to persons afflicted with diseases of the Liver and Stomach.—The virtue of these Pills, having been tested in all parts of the civilized world, particularly by the citizens of the Union, renders it needless to expatiate upon their merits; the thousands who have derived benefit from them in each and every one of the States, being sufficient to convince the most incredulous. All those who are afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, indigestion, sick headaches, and dizziness, cannot make use of a remedy so certain in its results as Holloway's Pills; for the purification of blood to the head, their effect is equally positive. They are also an unfailing remedy for asthma, if used in conjunction with Holloway's Ointment, which must be well rubbed into the chest night and morning.

Deaths in Philadelphia last week 400.—Deaths in New York last week 627.