CAPTURE OF A SLAVER .- Inhuman Conduct f the Slaver's Crew.—On the 22nd of September, as H. M. S. Spitfire was steaming to windward, a brigantine, suspected of being engaged in the Slave Trade, was met off Aghway, Bight Beuin, running to leeward, which shortly afterwards anchored at Whydah, a noted slave depot. at which place Her Majesty's ship Spitfire likethus made lighted up the horrible seene with wise anchored. For three days the suspected vessel remained there, pretending to discharge plank and other cargo. On Sunday forenoon, Sept. 25th, the weather being thick and squally, the brigantine left Whydah, and ran to leeward. Desiring not to lose sight of her, the Spitfire steamed in the same direction that afnoon, and Lieut. Chapman, having ascerto which place the brigantine was said to have been bound, proceeded in classe, and came up with her working off the land, on a wind, at 10 P. M. No satisfactory answer being returned when hailed, she was boarded, and proved to be the suspected vessel. The boarding officers returned apparently satisfied with the result, and with the account given by the person represen ting himself as the master of the vessel. withstanding all this, doubt as to her honesty remained in Lieutenant chapman's mind, and there being almost a calm, he decided on steaming back to Jackin, to learn some particulars of her having been off that place, which is a noted slave station. Having ascertained early next morning that a vessel had shipped slaves there the previous afternoon, he proceded again in chase of the brigantine, and came up with her at 10 A. M. Sept. 26. Lieut. Chapman boarded in person, and not being satisfied with the answers given by the person supposed to be the master of the vessel, who said that he had no papers, directed the hatches to be openissued immediately the frantic cries stifling hundreds of wretched human beings, who were bundled together in heaps, naked, ed to the waist, and begrimed with the blood down by one of her own crew, and the British run up, amidst the hearty cheers and joyous shouts of the resented Africans. The vessel was found to contain 500 slaves, and was taken in tow to Whydah, and dispatched to Sierra Leone, with the slaves all healthy, for adjudi cation in the Prize Court at that place.

162 Persons Killed and Burned to Death.

TERRIBLE SCENES. FULL PARTICULARS OF THE DREAD FUL AFFAIR.

On the afternoon of Tuesday of last week one of the most heart-rendering accidents occurred at Lawrence Massachusetts, that has been chronicled for many years. The Pemberton Mills, a large manufacturing establishment, in which were employed some nine hundred operatures, suddenly fell to the ground with a terrible erash. It is supposed that more than six ime of the accident, which occurred about five o'clock in the evening. In rescuing the unfortunate sufferers, who were beneath the ruins, n lantern, whose use became necessary in consequence of the darkness of the night, was acidentally dropped, and the ruins were soon sheet of flames. One of the unfortunate sufferers in order to prevent death by burning, actually cut his own throat, was then rescued by the flumes, but died from injuries infilicted from his

Some suppose, that the accident was owing to a defective foundation and other attribute it to the weakness of the building .-We clip the following account of the disaster from the Boston Herald of January 11th. The dreadful calamity which yesterday af-ternoon cast a gloom over the city of Lawrence has already been detailed with much fullness but the following fuller account, gathered last night by our own reporters on the spot, will e read with intense interest. The mill, which was a long brick building the Young Men's Christian Association, take pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Alterday in full operation, when, at a very few minutes after five o'clock in the afternoon, i G. Without the horror of fire, however, the cene was frightful beyond description. The ruins lay in one confused beap, covering an area of about two acres, and piled up to a height of about thirty feet. From nearly every hole and crevice in this

Many thus imprisoned were encouraged and sustained by assurances of safety, and nany cases cups of coffee could be, and were passed down to those below, who, alas! after ill this near approach to safety, saw hour after nour pass away, until, at last, the frightful cry of fire, and the greedy licking of the flames a they approached with fearful rapidity, crack-ling and hissing all over the remains on the ground, told them too plainly that all hope of life was gone. The fall of the building took place just as the mill was being lighted up and outside, of course, all was dark.

To obvinte this difficulty huge fires were made to the leeward of the ruins, and the light inexpressible grandeur.

At one point when a rope had been fixed t a projecting timber, a call was made to the crowd to take hold and pull with a will, but for a few minutes, such was the danger of the ttempt—for the beam in falling might engulpl all near it-for a few minutes, we say, the cal was unheaded. Men shuddered and drew back—they would risk much to aid those beor three of the crew leaped out of the hold, naked to the waist, and begrinned with the bloom of the wretched blacks, whem they cruelly follow, seized the rope and ademperation of the wretched blacks, whem they cruelly follow, seized the rope and ademperation of the pile of smouldering ruins to clear away with her hands. The example was enough; respect perfect demons. HERMAN HERBSTER to Miss JANE HANKY, both and, at least, two sufferers released from the opening thus made.

Besides those thus saved, a large number of operatives, mostly males, who were in the weaving room, which is in the lower story, nanaged to escape by crawling up from the room through a couple of low windows which were not obstructed. The weaving room was partially saved by a heavy stone floor of the tory above, and many in this department were thus saved. HOW THEY WERE BROUGHT OUT-HORRID SIGHTS The sights and scenes at this period of the disaster were frightful. One poor girl, alive and fully conscious, was dragged from the east and of the fallen mass, with her left arm torn from the socket, and her body and legs awfully mangled. She was taken by her friendbut could not have survived long. In one pla the bodies of three girls were found locked in each other's arms, but quite dead. They could not be removed without mangling the bodies, and, being abandoned for a time, the flames broke out before another attempt was made, and all three perished.

One Irishman was taken out quite unhurt, and his first act was to feel in his pocket, from whence he drew forth a sooty "dudhdeen," and soizing a brand from the fire, he lit his pipe, and went on his way.

Next from the ruins we saw the dead body of a lad, and following him was borne a girl had been confined by one foot between two avowed hisself an emancipationist, and yindi-beams, and only by the utmost exertion was cated the patriotism of Senator Seward. There she recovered. She was also taken home by was no disturbance. her friends.

One young girl, whose name we have but do not publish, was confined in a narrow hole sur-rounded by broken machinery and ragged timber and boards, succeeded in crushing out into the open air, but when she emerged from the ruins she had scarcely an article of clothing on her person.

Perhaps one of the saddest episodes of the whole calamity was the fate of Mr. Maurice Palmer, who was an overseer in the mill. In the full, he was so imbedded in the ruins that the full, he was so imbedded in the ruins that he could not be extricated before the fire, and seeing the dreadful element approaching him, he, in his agony and despair, determined not to be roasted to death, and so drew his pocket, knife and cut his throat. He was, however, taken out alive, and would have survived but for the self-inflicted injury. Who, howevercan judge the anguish and agony which induced the fearful deed?

Our reporter is told by a gentleman who was hundred persons were in the building at the early on the spot, that, at one point of the n distress, and soon another voice answered, "Is that you, Lizzie? are you hurt?" The reply was a smothered groan, and an appeal to God's mercy in her behalf. Both these girls were afterwards rescued.

SCENES AT THE CITY HALL—THE DEAD AND WOUNDED-AGONIZING SPECTACLE. Immediately after the dreadful occurrence

the City Hall was thrown open, by order of the Mayor, as a hospital for the wounded, and a receptacle for the dead. At 7 o'clock this morning the stairways were own hands. It has been ascertained that one hundred and sixty-two persons have been either killed by the falling rubbish or burnt to death by the falling rubbish or burnt to death by the flames. teroom, were stretched the corpses of thirtysix persons of both sexes, old and young. The bodies were so close together that it was difficult to pass between without treading upon a mangled limb. Feet were crushed—shoulders, arms, legs, bodies, all terribly gashed and mashed—faces so disfigured that it would be difficult for the most intimate friends to recognise the bodies by the countenances. In the midst of the ghastly throng was to be seen a minister of God carefully scanning each countenance, and we could see a tear drop from his eyes upon more than one of the ghastly dead. Our reporter attempted the duty of certaining the names of the poor victims from the little labels pinned on their garments. He had proceeded as far as writing the names of Mary McDonald, Beard Holland, Michael O'Bridn, Margaret Fallon, Catharine Kallaher, Bridget Ryan, Margnret Foley, and John As soon as those in the neighborhood could recover from the horrified astonishment into gled body of a child in the midst of the mass, clasped it, called it by endearing names, and wept—as mothers weep at such dreadful mo-ments. Our reporter attempted to pursue. His sense of duty would have overcome his sense of commiscration, had not a crowd at the same juncture entered and utterly precluded the possibility of his pursuing his task at that time.
