Education, which was received with marked applause. Mr. Gregory was introduced next who addressed the Institute in his usual happy manner, on the text, (to use his own words) "the harp of a thousand things,"—treating of the poverty of School Masters, Education outside of the schools, etc. Adjourned.

Friday Morning, Institute resumed business at 9 o'clock. Minutes of the last session were read and approved. Committee on programme read and approved. Committee on programme tion was adopted. The first subject, "the uses of the Blackboard," was taken up. Mr. Steckel thinks with Mr. Wickershum that the number of square feet of blackboard in the number of square feet of blackboard in the long bring them triumphantly to the school room, measured the number of square round of the ladder. feet of interest in school matters. Mr. Foulke complained of the deficiency of blackboards in the schools. He can better teach without textbooks and with blackboards, than without the books and with the former. Mr. Shantz says the board should be used in Arithmetic as every scholar should see the work correctly done. Prof. Wickersham advanced several done. He concluded by giving a recipe for making a cheap blackboard. Prof. Watson, on teaching Orthography, advocated the method of repeating or pronouncing the syllables but once, in spelling orally; as also the principle of educating the eye by spelling or writing the words on the blackboard, whenever a mistake is made, with the error including and was valued at $20,000; the manufacture of the students of the Antioca Control of the Science of the students of the Antioca Control of the Science of t the words are mis-spelt,—false orthography.— Recess of five minutes, after which Prof. Watson gave again an exercise in Elecution, dwelling upon the several divisions of the subject. Adjourned.

Afternoon.—Institute met at 11 o'clock. Mr. Weber on Grammar insisted upon a practical method of teaching, correcting the mistakes of the scholars, and allowing them to to correct those the teacher purposely makes. Prof. Watson said that many do not understand what they are studying Grammar for, do not understand what they parse for; the object of parsing is to enable us to correct mistakes. gave out several sentences calling the attention of the teachers to the parsing of particular words, which gave rise to considerable discussion. Prof. Wickersham, on discipline and proper mode of conducting Recitations, said proper arrangement in scating the scholars is necessary. A bell can be used for calling out classes and dismissing, which should be done bench by bench. There should | dence.

Pennock's Iron Harvester.

THE attention of Farmers is particularly invited to this superior combined Mower and Resper. Its lightness of draft, simplicity, durability, ease of management, the slow speed at which it cut in the heaviest grass, its free-dom from cheking and clogging, the diminished lia-bility to get out of repair, the good quality and com-pleteness of its construction, and its perfect adaptation to both Mowing and Resping, render it the n ble Machine in use.
