SUICIDE FROM JEALOUSLY.—A painful case of suicide occurred on Thursday night a week, in Eighth avenue. The wife of a dentist through jealousy of her husband locked herself up in a room and lighting a charcoal fire laid down and calmly awaited death.

Dr. Wm. B. Latsom a dentist living at No. 385 Eighth avenue came home about 6 o'clock in the evening and found the door of his room locked, the key being on the inside; knocking and receiving no response he burst the door when the first object that met his gaze was his wife lying on the floor. A glance showed that she was dead. The sight of a charcoal furnace and the fumes of gas which filled the room told plainly the story. Hoping that her life might yet be saved he called in a neighbor's and had a physician sent for, when restoratives were applied, but without effect. The deceased lay on her back, with her hands crossed over her breast. To ensure death she had stuffed the door and windows with cotton. In her right hand she held a card, on which she had written the following note to her husband:

"Farewell, William. Forgive me for all the trouble I have caused you, but recollect your business has drove me crazy, and neither in pity for my body or soul would you change your ways. I am no thief. You could not mean that. Give my things to my dear sister and something to Adeline and the children."

The note, which we give with the underlining and imperfect spelling, was written in a nervous and femine hand, but with no marks of tremulousness.

Dr. Latsom says that his wife has been jealous of him for eight years, and that she has twice before attempted suicide. They had no children. The deceased was thirty-eight years old and was born in England, where she was married to Dr. Latsom.

An inquest was held last evening, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts.—N. Y. Post.

THE OGDEN POISONING CASE.—The mysterious case of poisoning in the Pettingill family, at Adams Basin, begins to be developed, and the fact we are able to announce has been positively settled, and that is that poison was administered. We have before referred to the fact that there were those who were unwilling to believe that poison was taken by Mr. Pettingill or any one of his family, and others, that if taken it must have been in the sugar, tea or some other food, by accident, and not by design. Science has put all these doubts to rest, and shows that strychnine was put into the cough medicine taken by Mr. Pettingill in very large quantities.

The bottle containing this medicine was given by the magistrate to an eminent chemist of this city. He has subjected the contents to a careful analysis, and ascertained that it contains strychnine in quantities that would result in death to any one taking an ordinary dose, but for immediate antidotes. He has also analyzed some of the mixture prepared by the same druggist, and from the same receipt that he made this by for Mr. Pettingill, and he found it harmless. As Mr. Pettingill had taken the medicine from the same bottle without being ill, the conclusion is irresistible that the strychnine was put in while it was in the house, and after he had taken more than one dose from the bottle.

The analysis of Dr. Smith revealed the presence of so much strychnine in this cough mixture, that a dose of it would have been necessarily fatal but for the antidote so immediately applied by the physicians summoned, and that antidote was chloroform.

As to the manner in which the strychnine was introduced, and by whom, we do not care to speculate any further. The Courts will, we presume, consider that matter in due time.—An important point has been gained in showing that poison was administered in quantities and under circumstances which can leave no doubt of wicked intent.

A KENTUCKY HUGGING MATCH.—A pioneer, named J. L. Cruch, of Hurian County, Ky., while traveling over Cumberland mountains, got into a fight with a bear. Bruin Cruch, who had fought the Indians, and conquered them, concluded he would try the bear, rather than lose one of his life guards. He drew his large carving knife, and commenced battle with the bear, which was as large as an ox; he struck him several blows, but the bear was so large and so fat that he did not much mind a knife, and in the struggle, got his arms around Mr. Cruch, and gave him a hug, which was almost fatal. His dogs by this time had rested little, and seeing the life of their master rested on the second hug, they sprang upon the bear, and all four went over the cliff, some twelve or fifteen feet high. They all struck together—the fall proved fatal to one dog. Mr. Cruch was uninjured, and he, with the dog, still hung to their hold. The scene was now an exciting one, each party struggling for life. They continued down a small drain, until they found a small hickory pole. Here they let loose their holds, the bear rolled on about thirty yards, and was unable to get any further. Mr. Cruch was unable to get his gun for he could not walk a step—he crawled some ten feet from the drain and was compelled to stay there, his dog with him, until about ten o'clock at night, when some boys accidentally came along, coon hunting and found him. As soon as they made a fire and warmed Mr. Cruch, he related the whole circumstances to them. The boys then went on down the branch, and shot the bear and killed it. Mr. Cruch fought in close combat eight hours. The bear weighed four hundred pounds.

EXTRAORDINARY FREAK OF A BULL.—A young bull belonging to Mr. Kendig of wood brook Farm, in Sadsbury Chester county recently astonished the denizens of that locality by some extrordinary feats. With other cattle the bull was ranging in the barn yard thence he ascended a short flight of stone steps rising from the shed which rested against the end of the bank. From this he got on to the roof of a shed which rested against the end of the barn. He ascended this until he reached the square of the barn when he reached the highest point of the shed roof; with the agility of cat he leaped undaunted from that to the roof of the main building which was much steeper having what the carpenters term a three-eight pitch. He continued his perilous ascent until he reached the comb or peak of the roof! Here the animal halted, presenting a curious spectacle—a Bull on the very comb of the barn! In this situation he was observed by a number of spectators who were equally lost in wonder at the means by which the animal ascended to his lofty position and as to how he should descend to terra firma without breaking his neck. Even the cattle in the yard seemed uneasy at the novel position of Master Bull, and at his foolish ambition to show himself. All hands were however soon relieved of their anxiety. The gallent bull after taking a survey of the surrounding country and having apparently satisfied his curiosity gave a graceful flourish of his tail and descended as boldly as he ascended and reached the ground safely. This feat of the bull is quite equal to any performed by the famous mules or elephant of Dan Rice's circus.—Bucks County Intelligencer.

☞A Hurricane passed over Lauderdale county, Mississippi on Saturday week. At Judge Chapman's place it prostrated every house but his dwelling, and that was much damaged—no person seriously hurt. It took R. B. G. Harper's place in its rout and tore it all to pieces. Further on it struck the plantation of J. McDonald, where it killed one negro and wounded four others and badly hurt both himself and wife. His dwelling house and every other house on his place were blown and not a single panel of fence left standing. Old Mrs. Crane's house was blown and herself so seriously injured that it is doubtful if she recovers. Her leg was broken in two places. Mrs. Judge Daniel's new house was badly damaged by having a large tree blown down upon it Mrs. Daniel's with her family had gone to Marion and stayed over night which was a lucky circumstance and saved them from probable injury.

☞A man, in Springfield, Ill., said to be worth $6000, is working in the streets of that city, to pay a fine of $13 levied upon him for being accessory to keeping a house of ill-fame. It will take over twenty days to square his account.

HIGH WATER AT THE WEST.—A despatch from Pittsburg, dated the 11th inst., says:—The heavy rains for the past three days have caused a freshet, attended with the destruction of considerable property. The low lands along the Monongahela and Alleghony rivers are completely inundated. The rise came so suddenly that several canal boats on the Monongahela were swept over the dam and sunk. The number lost was thirteen, the loss being over $16,000. The loss in Alleghany had been considerable. Several manufactories were flooded, and families, in some instances, were driven from their dwellings. The railroads have also suffered by land slides, which have impeded travel. Altogether, it has been one of the most destructive freshets experienced for many years. The rivers have now mostly attained the highest stage, rising but about an inch per hour. The Monongahela pier mark indicates twenty-nine feet and four inches—only twenty inches less than the great freshet of 1832. The heavy rains of the past few days have resulted in considerable obstruction to the railroads in Ohio. The Cleveland and Pittsburg, and the Central Ohio roads are both washed away in several places, and will be rendered impassable for a day or two. A message from Columbus says that all the roads leading into that place are overflowed.

FATAL DUEL IN JEFFERSON TERRITORY.—The Rocky Mountain News gives the particulars of the late duel between Gov. Bliss, of Jefferson Territory, and Dr. Stone, member of the Legislature, which resulted in the death of the later. The first offence was given by Gov. Bliss, in a toast at a dinner party, and singularly enough, considering the time and place, was deliberate, and designed as a personal reflection and insult. This was avowed upon the spot, and of course it only remained for the parties to settle the terms of the meeting. There were: Shot guns, loaded with a single ball, distance thirty paces, time 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the place the Highland side of the Plate River. The report of Dr. Stone's gun followed immediately the word 'fire.' Mr. Bliss'f was an instant later, and perfectly distinct. Dr. Stone fell to the ground, supposed to be mortelly wounded, the ball of his opponent entering the left thigh, penetrating the bladder and passing thraugh his entire body. The ball of Dr. Stone struck the ground some ten feet in advance of his opponent. Dr. Stone declining a second fire, the parties were then removed from the ground. It is stated that the duel was witnessed by from 600 to 800 spectators, who were very quiet and orderly, and dispersed immediately after seeing the result.

PRICES OF MARKETING AT CHARLESTON.—The Charleston Mercury of the 13th inst., says: Prices during the past week have ruled without much change. Beef in fair supply at 12, 15, 18 and 20 cents per pound. Lamb 20 a25 cents. Mutton 16a18 cents. Pork 12a15 cents. Turkeys $5a5 50 per pair. English Ducks at $1 50; Muscovey $1 62a1 75.—Chickens 75 to $1 25 as to size. Capons $2 50 per pair. In the way of fish, Bass sold at15a 18 cents per pound; Halibut at 15 cents, and fresh Cod at 10 cents; Drum Roes at $150a3; Whiting 50 cents a string, and Blackfish 25 cents a string. Shrimp sell at 25, 37, and 50 cents a plate.

Strawberries have been in market this week for the first time, and commanded 37a44 cents per quart. Vegetables generally remain same as last quoted. Green Peas, however, have fallen 12½ cents a quart. Irish potatoes sold at 50 cents, and Sweet Potatoes at 50a62 cents per peck. Eggs 20a25 cents per dozen. Fresh Butter 25 cents per pound.

THE GREAT DRAWBACK to persons emigrating to the extreme south and western country, is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague—the most direful of all diseases. Every day we hear of persons attacked by this disease, and made helpless in a short time, without any means of affording relief. In view of the great demand for a remedy Dr. Hostetter has presented his Celebrated Stomach Bitters, whose curative powers for all disenses of the stomach have been universally acknowledged. The Bitters, prepared after a long experience and deep study, have received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes from every part of our country. To those who doubt their many virtues, all we can say is to try them, and judge for themselves respectively. Sold by druggists and dealers generally everywhere.

☞See advertisement in another column.

☞Sufferers from Scrofula and Scrofulous affections, clear up! Why wear your Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores? Why have the life twisted out of you by Dyspepsia, Rheumatism and Gout? Why suffer Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases to rot the bones in your body, or the flesh off your bones? why let your sluggish blood drag, and scatter its distempers through your veins? Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla cures these complaints, and cleanses them out of the system. Use it faithfully and you bring to society a healthier, cleanlier, and far more acceptable member.—Democrat, Baltimore, Md.

POCKET-PICKING BY WHOLESALE.—A gang of pick-pockets made a descent upon Lancaster city, Pa., last week, and succeeded in making the following robberies: David Landis lost $901; Isaac Miller, $1,510; James Passmore, $1,000; Mr. Denlinger, $4,100. Notes and other valuable papers, amounting to some $15-000, were also stolen. An Englishman, about forty yeaas of age, giving the name John R. Faoderberry, was arrested on suspicion of being one of the thieves.

☞On the 17th ult., a large warehouse in Havana, Ill., was burned and near 150,000 bushels of corn and wheat went with it. A good many farmers had stored their entire crops in it. The winter wheat is said to be killed in that part Illinois so thoroughly that there will not be enongh raised for seed next Fall.

On the 6th inst., in Salisbury, HENRY M. REINBOLD, aged 18 years and 8 days.

On the 11th inst., in Millerstown, ANDREW KNADLER, aged 73 years.

THE OTUMAWA MURDER.—Some days since we noticed the murder of a young unknown girl in Iowa, whose body was found floating in the Morris river. The Burlington Hawkeye says: "The girl was from Rockland, Illinois, daughter of a widow. The girl wrote some for the papers, had talent, was easily flattered, was giddy and imprudent. She put a matrimonial advertisement in the papers, which was answered by a man named Moore, who belonged to a highly respectable family, but who himself was dissolute. Circumstances point to this Moore as her murderer, and that, having ruined her, under pretence of going to Piko's Peak, had murdered her."

☞The Lock Haven, Pa., Watchman, records a remarkable case. John Johnston, of that place, had the middle finger of his right hand amputated close to the lower joint joining the hand. The wound soon healed, and immediately after a new finger commenced growing ont, and in six months from the loss of his finger, the man had an entire new one in its place.

That enemy of Mankind, Consumption! can be cured but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system by the timely use of a remedy such as Dr. Wistars Balsam of Wild Cherry affords.

☞There's a vile counterfeit of this Balsam therefore be sure and buy only that prepared by S. W. Fowle & Co., Boston, which has the written signature of I. BUTTS on the outside wrapper.

A FAMILY NECESSITY.

The following statement speaks for itself:—(Extract) "In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person very severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHARLES FOSTER, 420 Broad St., Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses, it should never be dispensed with. One Dollars worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galds, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin, and Founders. Beware of Imitations. Sold in all parts of, the habitable Globe.

Ticket Holders

OF Hamman's Gift Enterprise are hereby informed that family affairs have prevented him from leaving home, in order to dispose of the balance of his tickets. He returns his sincere thanks for the leniency shown him thus far by those who have purchised tickets of his enterprise. He trusts however, to be able to dispose of the balance by about May next, when the drawing will take place.—Should he be unable to dispose of the same by that time, he will return the money to such who have purchased tickets of him, which to him would be a very serious loss, having incurred a very serious expense. He hopes his friends will assist him in making this last effort of disposing of the balance of tickets on hand. He wishes to retain the name of an honest man, and will act accordingly.

JOHN HAMMAN.
