THE "SPIRITS" MOVING AGAIN.—Most of your readers have doubtless heard of the operations of some mysterious and invisible power on the persons, furniture, &c., of the Johnson family, residing near Lafayette Square. The family consists of an aged couple and their grandchild, a little girl about eight years old. They are quite respectable people, and the disturbances which have occured in their house have been a great trial to them.

The first thing they noticed was that their salt dish and pepper castor were filled with water, then dishes commenced breaking; they would raise from the shelves and come to the floor with a crash; tables would move about, and when loaded with dishes turn over, destroying everything possible, and to such extent has this been carried that they have been obliged to nail the table to the side of the house. Chairs will rise from the floor in the kitchen and go into the wood house without any person being near them; pails of water are often upset. At one time Mrs. Johnson set an empty pail on the floor, and on crossing the room it followed her; much vexed, she gave it a push, exclaiming, "Go back where you came from." It obeyed, but immediately returned to her again, crossing the room three or four times. While cooking their meals the kettles will be up and their contents landed quietly on the floor, much to the indignation of the household. One day as everything seemed to be breaking up, Mrs. Johnson thought she would put some of her most valuable articles of glassware in a pail and tie them to the side of the house with a rope. While attempting to do so, a coffee-pot came from the pantry across the room, striking her on the back. Calling the little girl she told her to hold it down to the floor while she tied the pail, the child endeavored to do so, but her hands were twisted around, causing her such pain that she was obliged to let go, when the coffee-pot again hit Mrs. Johnson, and as it came to the floor the handle came off. Mrs. Johnson then threw it in the stove, exclaiming "I'll see if I cannot burn the witches out of it." One particular bed seems especially subject to strange influences; the clothes will be taken off, rolled up and put under the bed; and as for keeping straw in it, it is utterly impossible, it will be thrown all over the room. At one time Mrs. Johnson sewed up the bed with double twine, and with much satisfaction went to put away her needle; on returning, what was her dismay to find the sewing taken out and the straw flying about the room.

At first they were not much disturbed Sundays or evenings, but about two weeks ago, one Sabbath morning, when Mrs. Johnson was alone, she sat down and began to read aloud in her Bible. Presently she heard a rapping on the stove. Having become accustomed to all sorts of disagreeable interruptions she determined not to notice it, but raising her voice, commenced reading in a louder tone, but the rapping became also louder, and increased to such a degree that, finding her voice wholly drowned in the uproar, she at length desisted, when a voice said: "I will burn your Bible, I will burn your Testament, I will break your stove to pieces, I will break your windows, I will tear up your floor." The Bible is often taken from the stand and hurled to the floor with such force that there is scarcely a whole leaf left. Since the first voice spoke audibly, two other voices have been heard speaking, in contradiction to each other. At one time one voice said, "It is the spirit of this child's mother who is doing all this." Another voice said, "No, it is the devil." Still another voice said, "It is one of your neighbors."

These singular occurrences of course attract crowds of people.

Being an acquaintance of the family, their niece handed the above communication to me, expressing a wish for its publication. I therefore submit it to your consideration.

—Syracuse Journal.] MRS J. F. CLARK.

FEARFUL TRAGEDY IN ORANGE, NEW JERSEY.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the building occupied as a dwelling and blacksmith shop by a man named Hobbs, and standing in the lane off Main street, near the market, in Orange, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was given and the people hastened to the place, but found it impossible to save the premises. They forced an entrance went up stairs, and succeeded in extricating Mrs. Hobbs, and her five children and a little girl, the daughter of a neighbor, from the burning house. They were all badly burned but it is thought that Mrs. Hobbs and two of the children will recover. The remaining three and also the other little girl died of their injuries.

The suspicions of every body were directed to Hobbs, the husband and father, as the author of this tragedy. A short time before the discovery of the fire he was seen by several persons to hasten from his dwelling, and make his way out of the village toward Bloomfield. As he was often in difficulty with his wife and of known intemperate habits, this occurrence was not calculated to create attention. The neighbors had repeatedly been called to his house to separate him from his wife, whose life he frequently threatened. For ten days past he had been several times attacked by delirium tremens. He was followed to Bloomfield, discovered and arrested.

Mrs. Hobbs is described by her neighbors as a quiet and peaceable though ignorant woman, and her situation, coupled with a drunken man, menacing her life and brutally beating her upon slight provocation, had excited general commiseration.—New York Post.

DIABOLICAL OUTRAGE AND MURDER.—We gather from the Seguin (Texas) Mercury of the 11th the subjoined particulars of a most dastardly outrage:

'We learn that some ten days ago a party of seven men, painted up and otherwise disguised, proceeded to the residence of one Flowers, in De Witt county, and deliberately shot him dead in the presence of his little daughter, whilst he was planting corn in the field. The little girl was dropping corn for her father when she discovered the seven disguised men at the end of the row, waiting for them to approach. Informing him, the father turned to flee, and was shot down. The party then took a person named Taylor, also at work in the field, carried him into the woods, and hung him to a tree, and then fled. Our informant did not know what promted the parties to the perpetration of this bloody deed, but presumes it was in obedience to an edict of the terrific 'Judge Lynch,' who has exercised in some parts of the country for some years past a dread and potent sway. The father of this man Flowers is said to have murdered a negro of his in Krane county two years ago, and was compelled to fly from there in consequence.—This may afford some clue to the summary execution of the son.'

SARZA.—We have long supposed this celebrated drug, had come to be an exploded humbug, but we are assured by those skilled in the healing art, that not the Sarsaparilla itself is to be blamed for this conclusion, but the miserable worthless preparations of it, that have been palmed off upon the community—preparations which contain about as much of its virtues as they do of gold dust. It is a commercial fact that almost all of the Sarsaparilla gathered in the world, is consumed in the old countries of Europe, where the science of medicine has reached its highest perfection, and where they know the best what to employ for the mastery of disease. Hence we are glad to find that we are now to have a compound of this excellent alterative, which can be relied on, and our community will not need be assured, that anything Doctr. AYER makes, is worthy of their confidence. He has been for years engaged in eliminating this remedy (see adv'g cols,) designing to make it his "chef d' ourve' which should add the crowning glory to his already enviable reputation.—American Celt, New York.

MURDER AT DANVILLE.—Andrew McGinley stabbed and instantly killed Thomas Shaveland, on Monday last. McGinley came to Shaveland's house with a bottle and wanted him to drink. He refused and McGinley was requested to leave, which he did, but he immediately returned with a knife and perpetrated the deed without uttering a word. McGinley died in 30 minutes. The murderer was captured and lodged in jail. By great exertions the crowd was prevented from Lynching him.

BLOODY MYSTERY.—There is a cave, says the Pittsburg Journal, in the "honey-comb rocks," near the Kingston Iron Works, above the upper Birmingham bridge, on the Pittsburg side, known as "The Old Man's Cave," which is so located that considerable ascent is requisite to reach it, and stones have to be piled up to form a foot-path to it. There is a small cavity in the rocks, after ascending the hill before reaching the cave, from which the entrance to the cave is some eighteen or twenty inches in diameter. Boys are in the habit of visiting this place for sport. On Saturday last, they were there as usual, and returned again on Monday, when they found a large quantity of blood, apparently fresh, on the floor of the cave, and on the wall the print of a bloody hand; and they also found some grey hairs on the edge of the rock at the entrance. As yet no clue has been discovered to the cause of these strange circumstances.

☞A select party, consisting of a man, his wife, and a young male friend, recently left Fall River, Mass., for Troy, N. Y. The husband had creditors whom it was desirable to deceive concerning the right of property in sending large trunks; so they were checked in the name of the young man. The three arrived safely at Troy, but the wife and friend pursued their journey further toward the West. Not to put too fine a point on it, they eloped, leaving the husband behind. They left the baggage, too, and so far all was well; but on trying to obtain possession of the trunks, the man was met with the objection that they did not belong to him. So the poisoned chalice intended for his creditors returned to his own lips. The deserted husband proposes to advertise that the young man may keep the wife if he will send a power of attorney for the baggage.

THE FEMALE ORGANIZATION is often as frail as that of a tender flower. Many of the sex enter into marriage relations without being able to undergo the labors and trials of maternity. In this country thousands of young and beautiful women are sacrificed every year from this cause alone. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters will save many of this class from an untimely grave. This medicine has used with great benefit by immense numbers of people throughout the republic, and the proprietors have received grateful commodations from all sections of the country. The Bitters will be found to be very pleasant to the taste, even as a beverage, and prompt and powerful in the effect as a medicine. It infuses new vitality into the frame, and strengthens the whole system, so that women who use it are enable to go through with labors which would, without it, be certain to prostrate them. Sold by all druggists.

A CHILD BITTEN BY A DOG.—The Wheeling (Va.) Intelligencer has the following interesting relation: Something over a year ago, the child of an estimable citizen of this county, who live some distance up the river, in taking a bone from a dog was snapped at and severely bitten by the animal, upon the arm. The wound, which was quite a severe one, was soon healed up, but upon the coming of the dog days it re-opened, swelled the arm, and became painfully sore. By the application of powerful remedies the wound was again healed up and the dog was killed, but the child, before one of the most active and intelligent, has become idiotical, and has fallen into the gross habits and actions of a dog, much to the distress of the parents and the astonishment of those who are acquainted with the case, and are, of course, unable to account for it.

A NOVEL IDEA.—A gentleman in Lafayette, Indiana, whenever he drives out, goes provided with powder and ball to shoot his horse in the event of a runaway. He got the idea from a gentleman residing a few miles out of New York, who, driving home one night last summer, with his wife and two children in the carriage, was placed in imminent danger by an unmanageable horse, which had taken fright at a lantern on the roadside. In attempting to hold the affrighted animal the lines broke, and the horse dashed off at a break-neck speed. Fortunately the gentleman bethought himself of a revolver in his side pocket, and, drawing it, shot the horse through the head. The animal staggered and fell. The occupants of the carriage were thrown out, but escaped without serious injury.

TIRED OF LIFE.—A man aged about twenty-five years shot himself at a house in Alton (Ill.) day before yesterday. Cause—weariness of life. The deceased tried at several places to borrow a gun, but was refused. Finally he went to the house of Mr. Hanes, for whom he had worked, knowing that he had one, and also knowing where it was kept. Entering the room where it was, in which were none of the family, he sat down in a chair, drew off the boot from his right foot, ascertained which of the barrels of the gun was loaded, placed it in his mouth and discharged it. The contents passed through his head. He was discovered shortly after the deed by a small child.

A CANARY BIRD HANGING ITSELF.—Recently a canary bird belonging to a lady of Buffalo, as it was flying around the room happened to pick up a long hair, and flying with it to its cage, commenced some evolutions with it, as though it were about laying the foundation of a nest. By-and-by the hair became entangled in its legs, and flying around the cage it got over the perch and then around its neck. The lady, after some time observeing that the usually musical little pet was silent, went to the cage, and there found the little warbler actually suspended by the neck from its perch, and almost in the agonies of death.

A PATRIARCH.—There is living in Massachusetts a stout old gentleman, one Captain Solomon Hart, who is described as weighing nearly two hundred pounds, a strict temperance man and a true Republican, who is the patriarchal head of a tribe of Harts, big and little, numbering twelve children, forty-nine grandchildren, seventy-five great grand-children, and one youngster of the fifth generation—making a highly reputable total of one hundred and thirty-seven persons. The patriarch Solomon is still vigorous, and his age is ninety-four.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR A YOUNG MAN WITH A SMALL CAPITAL.—Bell's Life in London contains the following:

"The Pope has adopted a new system of advertising. A few days ago an advertisement was inserted in one of the Vienna papers, inviting young men of good health to apply for 'an engagement' at a certain address in one of the suburbs. Upon application the 'young men in good health' discovered the advertiser to be the Pope, and the engagement a private's position in his army."

STRANGE FATALITY.—R. Ely Campbell, whose death at Keokuk, Iowa, by suicide, we announced a few days since, was well known in Massachusetts. His mother was an Ely from West Springfield. There seems to be a strange fatality in the family. One of his brothers was blown up on a Mississippi steamer; another committed suicide at Ravenna, Ohio; a third brother died of yellow fever on the Mississpi; and one of his brother's sons was killed by a boiler explosion on the same river.

GREAT FIRE.—Advices by letters by the Star of the West, state that a fire occurred on the 19th of April in the valley of Trindad, extending along the valley a distance of 18 miles, and sweeping down all standing canes on the Sugar estates. Loss estimated at $1,000,000.

☞It is a very bad sign to see a man with his hat off, near midnight, explaining the theory and principles of the Democratic party to a street lamp post. The thing was actually done the other night.

☞On the 9th ultimo, M. David Brumly Sen, of Greensville, Tenn., was united to Miss Mary Ann Davis. The bridegroom was 37 years of age, the bride was 15.

DIED.

On the 28th ult., in Salisbury, ANNA CAROLINE MARGARET, daughter of George and Anna Caroline Berger, aged 4 years, 6 months and 28 days.

☞In Clay County, Indiana, a few days ago, a woman obtained a divorce from her husband, and married another one fifteen minutes afterwards.

Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia!!!
What is it? How Cured?

Dyspepsia is our National Disease—weak stomach, feeble digestion, distress after eating, costive habit, bilious condition. How many suffer with it and its attendant symptoms of low spirits, bad taste coated tongue, obstupified head, and attacks of head ache! Yet how few know how to cure it! Generally, because the bowels are constipated, resort is had to cathartics or laxatives. But such a condition was never cured by cathartics, whose only office is to weaken the digestion, and impair the integrity of the entire assimilative system.

But HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC DYSPEPSIA PILLS—a simple medicated sugar pill—have cured hundreds of the worst and most obstinate cases. This is done simply by improving the tone, and restoring the integrity of the digestive organs, from which result, good appetite, regular habits, a clear head, and buoyant spirits. Such a medicine is a gem, and only requires to be known to be appreciated.

Inspector of Alcoholic Liquors, &c.

The OHIO CATAWBA BRANDY not only equals, but even excels the best imported Brandies in purity and flavor. It is in fact the best Brandy known.—This statement is fully corroborated by the certificate of many of our most distinguished analytical Chemists, some of which accompany this circular.

The want of PURE BRANDY has long been felt in this country, and the introduction of an article of such qualities as to supercede the sale and use of those vile compounds hitherto sold under the name of Brandy, can only be regarded as a great public good. The CATAWBA BRANDY possesses all the good qualities claimed for the best imported Liquor, and is of perfect purity and superior flavor. It is therefore fully entitled to the patronage of the public as the above certificate has shown. We feel confident that its reception in this State will be as favorable as that which it has met with in the Great West, and that time is not far distant when the superiority of our own Liquors will put an end to their importation from abroad.

For Medical purposes this Brandy has no rival, and has long been needed.

☞It is a sovereign and sure remedy for Dyspepsie, Flatulency, Low Spirits, Languor, General Debility, &c.

These Wines are made in the neighborhood of Cincinnati, and are guaranteed to be the Pure Juice of the Grape, and are eminently calculated for invalids, and persons who require a gentle stimulent, or as a beverage will be found equal, if not superior to the best imported.

Retail price for Brandy, $1 25 per quart Bottle. A liberal discount made to the trade.

Satan is chained by one leg for a thousand years; and the Sheriff last night in jail: seventeen lawyers locked up; Judge and Jury senseless during the night; some of the doctors out on a spree; but, it is astonishing to say that the excitement at Stopp's cheap Cash Store, about his nice cheap goods just got at Sheriff's sale was so great, that the fate of the honorables above named were entirely forgotten even by their own wifes and daughters, for they were all bound for the first cut of new goods. And, no wonder, near 13,000 yds. Black Silks for 37½ cts and 50 cts a yard, do. 13,000 yds, fancy silks, new style for 50 cts. a yd; 10,000 yards black alpacca, cheap; Muslins and Calicoes very cheap for cash; 3,000 new style Mantilas and dosters from 69 cts to 15 dolls. a piece; French lace Mantillas for $8.00 worth $15.00; 18.00 Shawls of all styles, dirt cheep; 1000 parasols and sun umberellas from 12½ upwards; 5,000 Hoop Skirts; black berege and merino just broad enough for mourning shawles; black veils and collars cheap; gingham handkerchiefs near 1 yd. square for 6¼ cts a piece; needle worked bdkfs for 6¼ cts; ladies' white stockings 6¼ cts: needle worked collars 3 cts; ladies gloves, 4 cts; Oil shades and window curtains, very pretty. And for man and boys wear: Cloths, Cassimers, Vestings, Satins and common panting the cheapest ever offered in Allentown.—And don't forget that Stopp has got a large lot of Spring and Summer Bonnts, Ribbons, Flowers, &c., just received from New York and Philadelphia, which he is determined to sell Wholsale and Retail very cheap for cash.
