MILLERSTOWN, June 1st, 1860.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The Democracy of Pennsylvania, aware of their dangerous position in the coming campaign, State and national, struggle most desperately to avert the doom, that seems almost inevitable. The prospect of a since defeat and the consequent removed. seems almost hevitable. An prospect of a signal defeat and the consequent removal of that great political tit, which has so long and so well nourished a large body of Loco-foco-office-seekers, bears very heavily upon the hard monious, national democracy. It seems, hard, indeed, for the babe to lose its suck, but when the "little creature" becomes too large, and the mother suffers from excessive extraction of the nutritious elements, every consideration of prudence demands its prompt removal from the breast. So with our political "suckers" of the present time. They have grown to such a prodigious size, and consume so much of the national milk, that their removal becomes a mational milk, that their removal becomes a matter of serious importance to the safety of our common country. This fact being impressed upon the people, the democrats may well "tremble in their boots" in view of the great change that will be effected this fall, by the woters of Pennsylvania and of the nation. Well do they that will be effected this fall, by the voters of Pennsylvania and of the nation. Well do they know that, upon principle, the great mass of the governed, from whom, in our political system, all legitimate powers are derived, are strenuously opposed to loco-foco rule or rather misrule and corruption. They know well, that the great heart of the people beats in unison with Republican doctrines and principles, and with Republican doctrines and principles, and that, if their sentiments be fairly expressed at that, it their seathments be lating expression to the ballot box, the defeat of the pro-slavery, free trade democracy is a foregone conclusion. Union of sentiment and feeling in the Reblican party, concerning its principles and , the abundant accession received from he democracy, in consequence of their viola ion of solemn pledges on the tariff and other important issues, together with the discord and disruption of the democratic party, and all this in the face of the fact of John C. Fremodt's large electoral vote, and James Buchan an's minority vote, in the campaign of 1856, at a time too, when the Republican party was scarcely organized, and had never tested its strength in a national contest, renders the suc cess of the Republican nominees, now before the people, "doubly sure." All hail the "good time coming," when our government shall have been wrested from the hands of those, who, whilst they profess the most pro-found veneration for the framers of our Constitution and government, evince their inconsistency, treachery and faithlessness in trampling beneath their feet, those long-cherishe principles, by which our forefathers were ac-

With Lincoln and Hamlin, as their national standard bearers,-true and honest represen tatives of the great political reform now in pro-cess of maturation, the people will march on to victory, and the 4th of March, 1861, will realize the inauguration of men to the offices of President and Vice President of the United States, who will restore the Government to its Mennwhile, Andrew G. Curoriginal purity. tin will be placed "fair and square" upon the executive chair of the Keystone State, to prove the loyalty of the people of Pennsylvania to the interest of our noble commonwealth, and the ascendancy therein of the principles of the Republican Party. Let, then, the friends of free speech, freedom and purity of Government, keep, as their constant watch-word, the names of Lincoln, Hamlin and Curtin, with the full assurance, that, with a little work on their part, all will be right in the coming fall.

POWDER MILL BLOWN UP. On Tuesday morning a week, two men, George Hummel and John Shuttleworth, were blown up at William Stahler's Powder Mill, just below our borough. It appears both of them were at work at one of the mills; the ingredients charcoal, sulphur and nitre-are put in a deep trough, and stompers play upon them until they are made very fine, and thoroughly mixed. These stampers are raised by means of wooden cogs in a wheel on a roller back of A large batch of material, some four hundred pounds, was in process of manufacture, when one of these cogs that lift the stampers came out. The engine was stopped, and thoughtlessly a hatchet, instead of a mallet, was picked up to drive the cog into its place let, was picked up to drive the cog into its pince again: in striking rapidly the hatchet flow off the handle, and in its upward ascent hit an iron bolt, and glaneing struck a spark of fire; this communicated to the inflammable fire; this communicated to the inflammable watch, worth about $110. He placed it upon frontal sinuses, and sommes extending into the the building, and in an instant, like a flash of a stand when he went to bed at night, lying about in all the different parts of the four hundred pounds in process of making, when the whole blew up. As the powder mill is put together very slightly, so as to course the whole mill was shattered, and the floor taken up to get at the base board. two men injured internally and externally, and burnt almost to a crisp. It was in many repects a strange sort of an accident. Both men are dead .- Nor. Republican

A Horse Getting Himself Shod .-- A horse having been turned into a field by its owner, Mr. Joseph Lane, of Fascombe, in the parish of Ashelworth, was missed therefrom the next morning, and the usual inquiries set afoot, as to what could have become of him. He had, it seems, been shod (all fours.) few days before, and as usual got pinched a foot. Feeling, no doubt, a lively sense of proper shoeing, and desirous of relieving the cause of pain, he contrived to unhang the gate of his pasture with his mouth, and make the best of his way to the smithy, a distance of a mile and a half from Fascombe, waiting respectfully at the door till the bungling artist got up. The smith relates that he found him there at opening his shed: that the horse advanced to the forge and held up his ailing foot; and that he himself upon examination, discovand that he himself upon examination, discoviered the injury, took off the shoe, and replaced it more carefully, which having been done, the sage signs eventure set of the same the sage signs are strong to the same the sage signs are strong to the same that same that same the same that same the same that same homeward. Soon after, Mr. Laners pace plan is followed as in previous executions, available spots for witnessing the hanging may be gained on many of the surrounding buildings.

WHAT DID THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY DIE OF -The journals of the country are holding a post-mortem examination over the Democratic party. All sorts of opinions are expressed as to the cause of death. The verdict of the ma-jority appears to be, "died of Douglas." One journal, however, thinks that it died of the nineteenth century; another says it died of old age and general imbecility. A very religious journal suggests that it died of visitation of nal suggests that it died or visitation of 'the Little Giant sot on it, and killed it. A wag insinuates that it tumbled off the platform and broke its neck. A Southerner says it was strangled while trying to swallow Squatter Sovereignty. A Northerner declares the its insides were burned out by an injudicion attempt at fire-enting. A lawyer says it died of the Dred Scott Decision. A delegate to Charleston says it became insolvent, owing to the hotel extortions of that city, and concluded to commit suicide. Another delegate says they went to Charleston with the motto, "Douglas or death," and as they couldn't get Dou-las they had to "kick the bucket," as a mat-

Murder on a Steamer. One Mon's Throat Cut—Two other Passengers Fatally Stabbed.

The steamer B. L. Hodge, on her last trip from Shreveport to New Orleans, was the scene of a frightful tragedy.

A man calling himself B. L. Sleath came on board at Shreveport and registered himself as a deck passenger for New Orleans. On the next evening after leaving Shreveport he came to Captain R. H. Martin, (who was in comand of the boat,) and expressed a desire to be allowed to change his passage from deck to the cabin, which was acceded to, and a state-room was assigned him by the cleark. Having a small amount of money in his possession he deposited it with the clerk.

Between two and three o'clock on the folowing morning, while almost all the passengers were asleep (several gentleman were sill sitting up conversing.) Sleath suddenly stepped up behind one of them (named F. G. Jiraigen) and caught him around the head, driw bowie knife from behind him, and attempted to cut his throat. He was prevented from making a fatal wound by Jernigen catching the blade of the knife in one hand and Sleath; arm with the other. He, however, received very severe wound across the throat.

The paralysis gradually extended over coming out of his state-room into the cabin, was fatally stabbed by Sleath, and expired in few moments. He resided in Springfield, Robertson county, Tenn. Another passenger, named R. J. Lyle, of Nashville, Tenn., being roused by the noise, opened his stateroom door to look out, and was immediately stabbed by Sleath. Lyle only said, "I am stabbed," and arrived without a green, the house brite. and expired without a groan, the bowie knife having penetrated the heart.

At this juncture the captain, who had been asleep in his room, was called, and coming into the cabin he succeeded in getting the knife from Sleath, and then secured him. derer had upon his person at the time of his arrest several other knives and a revolver.

Kroxville, in Cherokee county, Texas. The reason given by him for committing the deed were that they were the parties who were seeking his life—although they had never met before. He acknowledged the deed, but does not seem to care particularly about it .- New Orleans Picayune.

A BRUTAL ACT.—A Man Pulls a Horse, s Tonque from its Mouth. The Troy Times of the 22d ult., published the secount of a brutal act perpetrated in that city on Monday last, by a man named Thomas Downing. appears that Downing's team were in the cellar-way, pulling on a heavy load of stones or dirt. They refused to draw, when Downing, in a momentary fit of passion, stepped to the head of one of the animals, and opening its mouth caught hold of the tongue and pull ed it out! At least three inches of the tongue was pulled off, and the piece was left lying for some time afterwards on a stone-it being wit nessed by quite a number of people. The story of the cruelty was rapidly circulated, and a gentleman went to have the passionate man arrested under the statute punishing with severity such cruelty to dumb beasts. Downing verity such cruelty to dumb beasts. d him to the Detective's office, and begged so hard to be let off, that the gentleman did not care to press the matter further, though it is probable that the man will be arrested, since all agree that something should be done to punish him for his unnatural orimo. Downing states that he did not mean to make the control of the co Downing states that he did not mean to pull he tongue out, but only took hold of it in or der to make the horse draw. He says he has seen other people do so, and had no idea the tongue would come off. He thinks the bit cut t in the first place, so that with the strain of

It is to be hoped that such a cruel act wil meet with suitable punishment. RATS VERSUS TIME.-The Troy Times tells lightning, fire was imparted to the trough with the four hundred pounds in process of making, when the whole blew up. As the powoffer but little resistance to an explosion, of a bureau in his room was removed, and th large hole had been eaten in the carpet and the floor underneath it by predatory rats. In a snug corner between the joists was a large nest of varied articles, such as bits of paper, old rags, remnants of cheese, cloths, shavings and timepiece, carefully stowed away. There was a dent upon the face, the crystal was broken, and some disarrangement of the ma-chinery indicated a severe shock.

HARDEN -A Belvidere correspondent of th Newark Advertiser, says that Harden appears quite calm in his mind, and expresses hopes of salvation. At his special request, Mr. Day, of the M. E. Church, visits him frequently.— He is much annoyed by the statements mently made about him in the newspapers.-He has never intimated an intention of making a confession, nor has he said that "if he hung. others would have to hang with him." YEARS.—Mr. George Brubaker, a citizen of Lancaster County, Pa., reached St. Joseph, Mo., last Wednesday, on his way home. He was captured by a band of Camanches while on his way to California in 1847, thirteen years ago, and has just escaped from them. THE CHAMPIONSHIP .- A correspondent of The London Morning Post says:

"If Sayers were equal to maintaining the position of Champion he ought to have upheld it, as he has led the public to expect he would. If, however, he finds that his arm is permanently injured, or that from any other cause it s desirable that he should give up the belt, he he should have done so at once and openlystating his reasons—and he might have retired with honor to himself and satisfaction his countrymen. As it is at this moment retired, and Heenan defends the belt against all comers. This is tantamount to an acknowledgement of defeat by Sayers. If he had made it a little earlier, the people of England—lords and ladies, tinkers and tailors—would not have subscribed £5,000 for the petted hero of the prize ving."

26 Sixth st., bet. Walnut and Vine, Cincinnat, MARCH, 1857.

This will certify that I have this day inspected two separate lots of CATAWBA BRANDY, one in Harrels and one in Hottles, manufactured by LAURITZE LYONS, and sold by his Solo Agent, J. Jacob, at the Depot, No. 97, opposite the Burnett Heuse, and 143 West Third street, Cincinnati, and find them both the form of the form of the street of th west Third street, Unclinate, and and them both pure and free from all poisonous or deletereous drugs, and as such have marked the same as the law directs. Given under my hand at my office.

[Signed:] HIRAM COX, M. D.,

Inspector of Alcoholic Liquors, &c.
The OHIO CATAWBA BRANDY not only equals, but oven excels the best imported Brandies in purity and flavor. It is in fact the best Brandy known.

This statement is fully corroborated by the certification of the certifica This statement is fully corroborated by the certinsate of many of our most distinguished analytical Chemists, some of which accompany this circular.

The want of PURE BRANDY has long been felt in this country and the introduction of an article of such quality as to supercede the sale and use of those vile compounds hitherto sold under the name of Brandy, can only be regarded as a great public good. The CATAWBA BRANDY possesses all the good unlities chimed for the best imported Liquor, and is of perfect purity and superior flavor. It is therefore fully entitled to the patronage of the public as the above certificate has shown. We feel confident that its reception in this State will be as facility to the state of the public as the state of the public as the state will be as facility to the state of the public as the state of the public as the state of the public as vorable as that which it has met with in the Ornet West, and that time is not far distant when the superiority of our own Liquors will put an end to their importation from abroad. For Modical purposes this Brandy has no rival, and has long been needed. The It is a sovereign and sure remedy for Dys-epsic, Flatulency, Low Spirits, Languer, General Debility, &c.

These Wines are made in the neighborhood of Cincinnati, and are guaranteed to be the Pare Juice of the Grape, and are eminently calculated for invalids, and persons who require a gentle stimulent, or as a beverage will be found equal, if not superior to the hest imported.
