LAUER'S ARTESIAN WELL.—Our city was thrown into considerable of a fever or Saturday evening, by the announcement that "water" had been found and had been forced through the Artesian Well some 15 or 20 feet above the surface of the ground. Every one above the surface of the ground. Jet's one appears to have taken quite an interest in the success of Mr. Lauer's gigantic undertaking. He has bored to a depth of over 1900 feet, with an outlay of several thousands of dollars without any remuneration for his enterprise, without any remuneration for his enterprise, without any remuneration for his enterprise, and all appeared to have an individual faciling. and all appeared to have an individual feeling of satisfaction that it had at last been crowned with success. Many hundreds visited the place and a great many came back looking sorry enough, and saying, "no water showed itself above the surface," pronounceing it a humbug while others (among which was ourselves) gained every particular minutely, and came to the conclusion that water had been found and could be again. Our theory is this—which on presenting Mr. Lauer, personally, was endorsed in every particular: Water has been found long ago, without their knowing it until a short time ago.

Mr. L. conceived the same idea, and proceeded to tube the well, which was finished on last

There are one or more inlets, and one or more outlets which latter are above the inlets in consequence of which the water rising in consequence of which to the outlets would run off (on the principle of water tending to seek its own level,) and, of course, preventing its rising to the surface; but close the outlets and you must necessarily have water. Now for the proof and endorsement of our poured forth and spouted above the surface some 15 or 20 feet which continued to the depth of 1100 feet, when it ceased coming.

BARNES & PARK, The deductions to be made from the above, are that the outlet is about 925 feet from the surface and the inlet between 925 and II00 feet or imnediately above, where the water ceased flow: and in order to have water again it necessary to draw the tube back between 925 and 1100 feet from the surface. Tim only, will demonstrate whether our theory not correct. The experiment was made with inch tubeing wound, or leather back, to fill up the interstic of the diameter of the well.

Mr. L. intends, as soon as tube can be procured, to "finish," when our readers may ex pect a full report.-Reading Daily Times. DIMES SAVING INSTITUTION.-This Institution will be organized at Allentown, about the first of July next, the number of shares of Stock, necessary to organize under the Charter, having been subscribed to within We recollect, a few years ago, when the books, for the subscription of stock of the Allentown Bank, were opened, there was such rush for stock, that it was necessary to call the assistance of the police. The Charter of the Dimes Saving Institution is an excellent one. Bonds are executed in the name of the Commonwealth, by the nine Trustees, approved by the Court of Common Pleas, and filed in Prothonotary's office, conditioned for the tirely safe for investment in Stocks or Depos-As there can be no failure under the Charter, it is certainly safer for investment in Stocks, than in the Bank. This offer not having been accepted, the Cadets will visit the cities named to allow the military of those places to contest for the "military championship of the United States and Canada." The Cadets in a card issued by them declare that if they can retain their colors until the 20th day of July next or until the close of their contemplated tour, they shall claim for the city of Chicago and State of Ilinois "the honor of the military championship of the United States and Canadas." posing of a Rival.—The Cleveland Plaindealer of the 25th instant relates the following singular case : A young lady, the daughter of a farmer, living near Canton, Ohio, was the object of two persons—one, a young man, named Day, named Gebo, a man of French extraction, in the employ of the girl's father. In order to put his rival out of the way, Gebo bethought himself of a singular expedient. He induced a voung brother of the lady, to accompany white and fair:

But it will never be forgot; our little boy sleeps there. son of a neighboring farmer, and the other, named Gebo, a man of French extraction, in the boy to wait for him, in case he heard him shout, to drive on quickly toward him. It was not long before the signal was given, and on reaching Gebo, he found his clothing torn and his arm bleeding, as if he had been contained. his arm bleeding, as if he had been engaged in an affray. In explanation of this appearance he stated that Day had met and attacked him, attempting to cut him in pieces; in evidence of this he showed several severe slashes in his vest pattern, and a gash in his arm.— He further alleged that Day had challenged him to mortal combat, and showed what purported to be letters written by Day, one of which invited Gebo to meet him on the spot, where the supposed affray had taken place— Day was arrested; but it was not difficult to prove the letters a forgery and the whole story a fabrication, designed to put the young man out of the way as a dangerous rival."

CATARRH! CATARRH! CATARRH! What is it? How Cured?

Thousands of porsons suffer all sorts of annoyance com Catarrh. Most people know what its inconvepience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation, and often nlargement of follicles and consequent thickening d of the mucous membrane, lining the nasal cavities, frontal sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tightness and often vertige of the head, obstructed nose, or a profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste.

The old-school remedies have never been able to do any thing for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as nainful and expensive as they are generally worthless. Yet Humphrey's Catarrh Specific, a simple Sugar Pill, taken two or three times per day, promptly cures the milder cases; cures at once all colds in the head, and radically cures, by persevering use, the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.
