"I WISH I HAD CAPITAL."—This was the exclamation of a stout, hearty; but land young man, a few days since, who lounges and lost strong town from Morday morn until Saturday eve, and the exclamation naturally follows his numerous gapes, "I wish I had capital," and without even as much as to make au effort; but to listen to his plans of making money without work—(building castles in the air, which, by the way, vanishes)—it would an effort; but to liston to his plans of making money without work—(building-castles in the money and money succeeded in accumulating property to the money and about $15,000. They raised to the amount of about $15,000. They raised to the amount of about $15,000. They raised to maturity a family of eight children, all of maturity properly, they will make money, and nobody offer. Two of his son's daughters, therefore, properly, they will make money, and nobody offer. Two of his son's daughters, therefore, can take them from you. Don't you know them from you. can name one or more of his acquaintances who is subject to some form of lung or throat complaint, which, if not attended to in season, inevitably consigns the suffers to a premature grave. To such, help is at hand if they will but avail themselves of it, and hope,—the har binger of brighter days,—may be awakened without fear of chilling disappointment. Dr. O. Punkias Brown's Acachax Bahand does just what is claimed for it, and may be relied upon by the sick as being the most successful in curing lung and throat disorders, of any remedy known at the present day. The many plases assumed by Consumption justifies the apprehension of those who have reason to fear its approach, either from constitutional or hereditary tendency.

While the discoverer of this remedy does not believe that people should be constantly dosing themselves with medicines

TO PREVENT SICKNESS, there are many cases where disease is too long allowed to remain unchecked in the system; and a slight cough, regarded at first as simply an amoyance, ceases only with the life of the patient. An inquire state of the blood, through debilitation of the longs, fills the system with morbid humors, and pulsation becores feeble or accelerated to a feverish intensity—the heart, liver, and kidneys, separately performing functions of vital necessity to our well-being, are impeded in their regular action the digestive organs failtr in their task, and refuse to perform the process of separating the nutritions elements from food, and the whole mental being is well-nigh ready to sink under the burden of life. The patients so afflicted, accounts his case a complication of disorders, and often refuses to resort to medication, from his thorough disbellef in any prospect of cure. To such

CURE OF CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, (, edios, ehougs, AMHTER

This remedy is offered as affording a means of speedy cure for the large number that die annually in our land of that fell scourge, Consumption, to which, unfortu-nately, so many prediapoints dauses exist. Youth and ago are alike subject to its ravages.

ON ASK THE TRIAL of the Acacan Barran, as thoroughly worthy the coaft-dence of all. Feery symptom of Consumption is surely and permanently eradicated by its use. Its effects are none other but strengthening and ronovating to the eutire system. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and General Debulty, are effectually cured by its use. Night-Sweats, Loss of Flesh, and Wasting away of the Muscles, Loss of Appetite. Surceass of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs, Liver Complaint, Palpitation of the Heart, Difficulty of Breathing—all these affections disappear in incredibly short time after using Dr. O. Phelps Brown's Acaclan Balsam.

It nourishes and strengthens the patient who is too cutty of breatman and strengthens the patient who is too much reduced to partake of ordinary food. It heads all internal sores, tubercles, and inflammation. It strengthens, braces, and recitaizes the brain, and is without a rival as a tonic, supplying electricity or magnetic force to e-ery part of the enfectled and prestrate body. It needs no lengthy trial, to convince any that the ACALAN BARAM is truly the greatest remely of the day, as its beneficial qualities are fully apparent in eight-and-forty hours-after trial.

Let the invalid, then, no longer delay, but make the trial, and the result will surely be of the most gratifying character.

The ACALAN BRISAM is prepared with the greatest care, and the best materials. No pains or expense are spared to make it what it is—the best known remedy of the age. It may be taken by either sex of all ages, and at all seasons, with perfect safety; and it is none the less powerful in conquering those discussions and the literaction of the most if, and regard to ask now holds as when so, with perfect safety; and it is none the less powerful in conquering those discussions and the literaction of some part of the age.
