is to get the portion of Bethlehem situated in Lehigh county. I think the proper and most practicable solution of this question would be to annex Bethlehem proper and Sowh Bethlehem, (formorly Wetherill,) to Lebigh county. It would be imprudent to annex, Bethlehem proper to Lehigh county unloss South Bethlehem be included, because the same annoyances and incorpanioness which now exist would and inconveniences which now exist would still continue if Bethletem alone were cut off from Northampton. Bethlehem, West Bethlehem and South Bethlehem may be regarded as one community, and if a move is made for the annexation of Bethlehem proper, South Bethlehem (Wetherill) must be included. If, however, there must be a "swap," I would suggest that Lehigh county take S. Bethlehem in exchange for West Bethlehem. S. Bethleheat is not yet an incorporated Borough; and when I speak of South Bethlehem I mean of course properly defined limits—for instance: boundary line begin at a certain point in the river, below the new rolling mill, where the public road crosses the track of the Lehigh railroad; thence along said road to the foot of the Lehigh mountain, (near the old lime kiln;) thence due south up the mountain (first ridge) to its summit; thence along the summit of ountain or ridge in a west and southwest direction to where it intersects the old Philadelphia road; thence along said road, in a southerly direction, to where it intersects the Lehigh county line. These would be well-deflued limits, and would cut off a "corner" of Northampton bordering on Lehigh. The small strip of land south of the mountain and west of the old Philadelphia road could be ceded to Upper Saucon. Or, let the portion of Northampton south of the mountain remain as it is with its poorly defined limits, and run the boundary line along the summit of the mountain in a westerly direction to where it intersects the Lehigh county line, as this will probably be the boundary line of the future Borough of South Bethlehem. The Bethlehem Wide-Awakes made their first appearance on Tuesday night, turning out, thirty-six toaches. The uniform is different from that of the Allentown Wide Awakes. The capes and caps are of a drab color, the cap being of a different shape, and of the new military style. They created quite a sensation. On Saturday night they were out again tion. On Saturday night they were out again tion. in full, fifty torches strong. The "Hickory Sprouts" (Foster) also paraded our streets (42 strong,) making more noise, however, than a the great means of enabling the villians to eshundred ordinary "sprouts." Perhaps they cape. A woman died in West Bethlehem, had imbibed a little of the "creature" whishad imbibed a little of the "creature" willskey. Of course I did not inquire where they got it, or whether they paid for it, because I thought that that was none of my business.

On Thursday evening the Wide-Awakes will attend a Republican meeting at Freemansburg. Our Wide Awakes would like to re-

He told his Democratic hear ers that they had a powerful foe to contend with, a fee thoroughly and compactly organized, and that if the Democrats wished to triump over this powerful and compact organization they must unite. Said the ' Don't you hear the steady tramp of this compact Republican phalanx coming down upon you, (perhaps he heard the steady tramp of the Wide Awake batallion as they passed the Hall,) who are bent on crushing out the great Democratic party!" (Sensation.) He said that there was really no difference between the two Democratic factions in regard to slavery in the territories—it was a mere abstract ques tion-the Douglas branch contending that the people of a Territory had the right to decide whether they would have slavery or not, while the Breckenridge faction contend that they cannot decide the question until they form their State constitution. Singular to relate, Mr. Bridges forgot to say anything about the slave code plank in the Breckinridge platform.— Queer that we can't get our Democratic friends to "face the musics." The speaker said that ne and the Democratic party (meaning the Breckinridge branch, I presume, to which he belongs) were in favor of letting this slavery question entirely alone; it did not belong to olitics at all, and should never have been brought into the political arena. There, Mr. Bridges, you forgot all about that slave-code plank again in your platform! Don't you call that agitating the slavery question, when your party lays down a platform of principles, and erts a plank in that platform calling upon Congress to pass a law for the planting of slavery in the free territories of the United States -a law that shall override all territorial laws of the North shall keep "mum" about it— being shall interpose no obstacles, even should they date. attempt to "call the roll of their slaves on the down the road for the same week. brow of Bunker Hill." Bethlehem Advocate of Saturday has a long article on this momentous subject in which the editor suggests, (after enumer are subjected.) the annoyances to which they are subjected.) that the Lehigh be the proper houndary line between Lehigh and Northampton counties, and as a compensation that the south-west corner of Northampton county be given to Lehigh county instead; or, if this is impossible, that the whole of Bethlehem be joined to Lehigh county, so that we may be under the judicial states of the saturday has a long three former doubt their best for the Reading three former doing their best for the Reading the latter all the time refusing to be fixed one risdiction of one county only."

What the editor means by the "southwest orner of Northampton county," I do not fully comprehend, but presume that it means a portion of Lower Saucon township. As a "compensation" for this, "corner," Northampton is to get the portion of Bethlehem situated in Lehigh county. I think the proper and most icket I shall vote for Lincoln.

BOUNDARY OF NORTHAMPTON AND LEHIGH COUNTIES. — We have often thought that there might be an improvement thought that there might be an improvement in the boundary line between Lehigh Northampton Counties. As the eastern line of the former county orosses the Lehigh about five miles above Allentown and runs south easterly admitted that all county orosses the Lehigh and the Manokesy to its confluence with the Lehigh, thus cutting off from Bethlehem to the Lehigh and the Manokesy, a great incodvenience is felt by the inhabitants of Bethlehem. We have a tongue of another county intervening between Bethlehem proper and South Bethlehem on the south side of the Lehigh, This narrow strip erosses our greatest throughfare, and thus places an important part of Bethlehem out of the jurisdiction of our proper authorities, producing a clashing of government and a delay in the ends of justice. This inconvenience is felt by the L. V. and N. P. Rail Roads, causing so much traveling over that intervening strip—In order to reach the R. R. Dopot, which is situated in another part of Northampton County, a citizen of Bethlehem proper must first cross a part of Lehigh County. A citizen of core in the part of Bethlehem of the part of Bethlehem of the jurisdiction of our proper authorities, producing a clashing of government and a delay in the ends of justice. A citizen of Bethlehem proper, who resides in the Borough of Bethlehem, and carries on business in that part of Bethlehem that lies west and south o the Manokesy, will sometimes be obliged to employ two lawyers instead of one, and attend court at two county towns instead of one. If person is found drowned near the north shore of the Lehigh above the mouth of the Manok esy, we must send to Allentown for a coroner when we have now a coroner living in Bethle hem. If a crime is committed in one part of Bethlehem, our own constable cannot arrest the offender, but an officer must be sent for from Allentown. Thus a better chance is given to culprits to escape. Events which have quite lately happened fully show what incon-veniences the inhabitants of Bethlehem suffer from this situation of their town. At the time Pointoes, when the National Guards were encamped on the west side of the Manokesy two stores were robbed in Batalaham the national duals and the stores were robbed in Batalaham the national duals and the stores were robbed in Batalaham the national duals and the national duals are represented by the nationa tained to be lurking about the camp in Lehigh County; this circumstance prevented our constable form promptly arresting them, and was Eggs, per do and circumstance led persons to believe that she had been poisened by her husband; be-and the husband was arrested during the rol-emn services of the funeral in Northampton County. There were present at the time about 5000 persons all eagerly gazing in existence in 1846! This speaker wound up with an appeal to his heavers to vote for West. in such a manner that they can indeed be proud of. It happened that I was standing among a group of Baltimore military which were looking on, when one of them asked the other what he would think of that Dutch Company. Says he, why I think we had better knock down and go home, for he had never seen a finer looking body of military in any place, and that he was told they came from a place called Allentown, located amid some of the boldest most and impressive scenery of the grand old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and where the flame and smoke of the furnace and the clatter of the manufac tory gave proof of the wealth and prosperity of the beautiful region they hailed from.— Permit me to say in conclusion that the Allen Rifles were the only company of any real account, taking all in all, which is the general impression of all those present, and they met with a general welcome and cordial greeting everywhere. Citizens of Allentown, you can regard them as the glory of your borough and the name of Allen Rifles finds an echo ir the breast of every Allentonian. A. G. W.

Ezekiel, 5th chapter, 1st verse.

Halt, gentlemen, halt for a moment or two,
And read what an artist, from Allentown, can do;
Your hair he can dress up, or cut it with skill,
Or, if to your chin, sirs, you wish him to stray, Exact to the fashion, or just to your will;
He can rapidly move all its roughness away,
Before his keen razor all obstacles yield,
Like grass to the sharp edged scythe in the field,
In each other branch of his trade you will find,
That he is a workman cut out to your mind, In each other branen or his trace you will had,
That he is a workman cut out to your mind,
Now step in, and try him, and he has no fear,
But you will employ him, whilst he remains here,
He is, gentlemen, with a heart truly fervent,
In his trimming trade, your most humble servant.
