REPUBLICAN STATE NOMINATION

FOR GOVERNOR, Major General John W. Geary OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Beauties of Democracy.

The loudest cry of "stop thief" generally comes from the guilty when hard pressed by his pursuers, and he can always be picked out by a erty. shrewd detective by his zeal in the pursuit. The rebel leaders, conducting the press in the professed interest of modern Democracy, after having tried by the sword for five years to overthrow the Government, and failed, are now trying to regain the good will of the people, and thereby secure the control of the Government they had failed to destroy, by getting up a hue and cry of"Usurpers, Disunionists, Traitors, Puplic plunderers," etc., against the men whose firmness and courage has beaten back and taught them to respect the laws. Dishonesty, corruption, and falschood, have always been the capital of that party, and it is becoming more and more apparent every day that they have been in conoultation with the rebels, and furnished counsel and advice, if not means to carry on the war.-

Their moral perceptions have become so blinded in support of treason and seeking apologies for traitors, that murder is excused, and the tried and able soldier, the saviour of the nation, Gen. Grant, as worse than the most atrocious murderer whose crimes have horrified a people. A few weeks ago, our people were shocked with the details of the horrid murder of the Deering family. Eight persons were butchered in Philadelphia by the fiend Probst. There was no cause except plunder, no motive of malice, but a brutal impulse.

The Chicago Times, the leading organ of the friends in the West, and the avowed exponant of traitors, has become more open and avowed in its utterances than any other paper; and possesses less of the cringing, crawling spirit, denounces General Grant as a worse thief and murderer than Probst. The following is a fair sample of its infamous denunciations:---

"Probst wanted the $300 and the boots Grant wanted Richmond; the Deering family stood in the way of the money, and the rebel ar-my in the way of Richmond. Probst murdered all the persons who could prevent his theft;-Grant did the same. Probst did more than Grant, but as to the atrocity of his act, was fully equal to him; Grant's motive was as crimi al as that of Probst, and to accomplish his success, he murdered more people," &c.

What other cause than treason, what other party than the Democratic party, could prompt a more atrocious or infamous calumny. Yot this is the Democracy that commands the supnone. port of worthy but misguided people. This is the Democracy that while visited with the power of the Government, and sworn to support, protect and defend the Constitution-instigated the most wicked and causeless rebellion known in history, using the high offices, money and property of the nation for their wicked purposses. Their vile abuse of General Geary, and every other soldier who was true to his oath, is but an example of the hatred they feel at their defeat in the field.

The Party Progress.

The blindest cannot but see which is the po-

Without the authority of law, President Johnson, among his carliest acts of reconstruction, ordered the sale of Government railroads and railroad running stock, iron and materials to an enormous amount, to Southern men, on credit; he directed the Quartermasters in charge to turn over the property, and take the purchas ers' notes payable monthly, up to two years; the value of the property thus nominally sold, but in reality given away, was probably $200,000,-000. Of course, the notes, as they fell due, were not paid, and it was never intended they should be paid. They are under protest here to millions. The Government holds chattel mortgages on property all in Rebel hands; that has been onsumed in large part; in part has changed ands; and the balance of which is used in defiant disregard of the contract of purchase. The President refuses to permit proceedings to compel payment, or to recover possession, of any portion of this immense amount of public prop-

CONNECTICUT SENATOR.-Gen. O. S. Ferry as nominated on Wednesday in a caucus of the Republican members of the Connecticut Legislature for the seat in the U.S. Senate which the Hon. L. S. Foster now occupies. On the early ballots, Foster led both Gov. Buckingham and Gen. Ferry. On the seventh ballot Gov. Buckingham's name was withdrawn, and the vote stood, Ferry, 79; Foster, 45; Buckingham, 1.-The nomination was subsequently made unanimous, and Gen. Ferry was chosen Senator for six years from the 4th of March next. Gen. F. office. was formerly a member of Congress, and served with distinction in the army during the war .----Foster lost a re-nomination for sympathizing, as it was charged, with Senator Dixon.

STATES RIGHTS .- The Richmond Examine says: "Allegiance was due only to the State, and and duty arising from the Union, only bound the individual through the State. The State ab-solved all obligations beyond her at will, and who obeyed the State did nothing but what patriotism justified. The people believed this doc-trine before the war and force has not changed their convictions." We thought that if the war settled one thing, it was that no state could secede or make war on the general government-that the nationa government was superior to the states. But the reader may ask, "Why is it that the rebels and their allies still so vehemently advocate this po litical heresy ?" Because, if this sentiment be omes predominant by legislation, or otherwise, he government will fall to pieces, and the rebels and their allies will have gained what they ost by the sword.

LET ANY MAN who is at all confused in his mind by the cheating Copperhead noise about supporting the President recall to himself the bjects of the copperhead party during the war. Let him see if he can put his finger upon one thing for which the Union men fought that has ever been approved by them.

Is there one Union measure of the war that hey endorse?

Is there one thing for which we fought that they will not surrender if they get into power? They have no principles. They pretend to

But if the war was fought for anything, if it meant anything while in progress, if we meant anything by fighting it, if it was, in short, a contest of principle, surely that principle remains and we cannot surrender it now.

The Southern men most anxious and clamorous for admission to the Union, that they may enjoy "their Constitutional rights," are at the same time determined to prevent all honor being paid to the remains of Union soldiers huried in the South. In Mississippi and Louisiana certain good people had placed flowers on the graves of Union soldiers, which were either indignantly ordered to be removed, or violently removed by the local authorities and traitor population, as calculated to irritate "the sensitive feelings of high-spirited Southern men." Of course, according to "my policy," such people should at once have a voice in the Government which they fought to destroy.

litical party of ideas, which party is carrying the country forward in a prosperous career. It has opened the great West to settlement, by the bomestead bill, and is now by its liberal policy fast developing the vast mineral and agricultural resources of the northwest. But its advancement of the strictly material interests of the country is the least of its achievements.

It has saved the government and constitution of the United States. It has carried on the great war and crushed the rebellion.

It has done this in the face of the constant unrelenting opposition of the sham-democratic party, which has opposed the war from its beginning to its ending, and fought against every measure that tended to defeat the traitors.

Having put down the rebellion, it is the only party that can secure the great fruits of the war. establish justice, promote domestic tranquility, protect the emancipated, and guarantee permasent peace. The sham-democracy, having no policy, no ideas, simply opposing everything, growling at everything, plants itself in opposition to every measure that is necessary to secure the nation against a recurrence of the rebellion. As they justified rebellion and secession, and went to the length of rejoicing at rebel victories, to is natural that now they should desire to have the rebels resume their places in the government. as if there had been no war, no treason and before a single thing is secure for freedom

There is a story of a bear which came into a Maine saw mill, and seated himself on the mov ing log with his back to the flying saw. As the steel approached and scratched him, he growled and moved a trifle; scratched again he moved and growled more savagely than before; and continued to hitch along, growling, until he turned in a rage and grappled the merciless www, which speedily disemboweled him. The bear is the sham-democracy, growling at every advance of civilization, and now being torn into sbreds by grappling with it.

Another Veto Message.

On Wednesday last the President returned to the Senate the bill to admit Colorado into the Union as a State with his objections, giving sev eralreasons for the course taken by him, among others "That the Establishment of a State Gov erament at present is unnecessary for the welfare of the people, as they have the right to choose their own Legislators, make their own laws, and be protected by the General Government. Secbe protected by the General Government. Sec-ond, That the people are now settlers, and can easily remove beyond the limits of the proposed what newly organized communinew State, and that newly organized communi-ties are liable to disturbances and disorders injurious to the peace and good order of a State. Third, He does not think that a majority of the citizens desire a State Government, That the population is small (40,000,) and it would be unto give them the same power in the Senate that New York and Pennsylvania have. That the admission of Colorado at this time as a State appears to him to be incompatable with the pub-lic interests of the country. This last reason is evidently prompted by a desire on the part of the President to so shape the political complexion of the next Congress that the leading traitors can be admitted to seats in the Senate and House of Representatives, and again get control of the destinies of a people they failed to bond to their unholy purposes with the bayonet, by the exclusion of every loyal representative he can not seduce by promises of appointments made to be broken, or threats.

Heister Clymer declared the war for the Union an unholy and unjust crosade on the personal right and local institution of the people of the South. Before the world, the people of the loyal States assumed the position that the war was for the preservation of the Union, the pernetuation of liberty, and the maintenance of the Faderal Government. If Clymor is elected fovernor, his assortion concerning the war will windicated as truthful. In view of the diested as truthful. In view of these facts, Parson Brownlow declared in a recent speech, in reference to the new Tennessee law lisfranchising rebels, that an officer in an Arkansas rebel regiment declared that "it was within his personal knowledge that if the Confederates achieved their independence, it was their purpose to disfranchise every Union man in the South!" No one who remembers the proscriptive tendencies of the secession leaders will doubt the truth of this statement; and it seems only reading .- Daily News.

just that they should have the measure meted out to them which they were anxious to mete out to patriotic men.

Secession is by no means given up as a doctrine of the Democratic party. Not one of their papers or speakers has repudiated it. On the 13th of April, 1865, just after Lee's surrennatc'i der, and the day before Lincoln's assassination Mr. Edward Ingersoll, a prominent lawyer of Philadeiphia, addressed a democratic meeting in New York, and is reported in the News, to have said: "I fully endorse the doctrine of secession as an American doctrine, without the elements of which American Institutions cannot permanently live."

THIRD CANDIDATE .--- The copperheads expe rience great difficulty in getting a convention together in this State, to nominate a surrenderpro-slavery-amalgamation - Johnson-reconstructionist candidate; probably material isscarce, as well as applications for delegates, though they have heretofore succeeded in getting at least one man who pretended to represent their sentiments when the prospects of making it pay were good,

(no reference to the Altoona Convention is in ended.) We suggest that they follow the dictatation of President Johnson in this as well as in some other things, and reassemble the Clymer Convention, and do their dirty work over again. The people understand the object, and this would not make the chances of the success of the plot a whit more hopeless.

Henry A. Wise made a speech last week Alexandria, to a large audience-whom he ocosely addressed several times as "my dear raitors" and "fellow traitors"---in which he de fiantly denied that those who had fought in the Rebellion had been guilty of treason, and in which he significantly warned his audience to neware of the National greenback currency :---"the last holders of this worthless trash," roared he. "will surely come to grief."

ALMOST A FIRE -- Last Tuesday the old Free Hall, corner of Ninth and Linden streets, was discovered to be on fire, and but for the prompt action of the workmen, might have been destroyed. It is being remodeled, and when finished will be used as the church of the United Brethren. Little damage was done by the flames.

THE RIGHTS OF HOTEL KEEPERS .--- In the New York Supreme Court, on Monday, an important decision was made bearing upor the rights of hotel keepers. A lady owing a bill of $80 60, left the hotel, and the proprietor siezed her trunk and clothing. She brought suit to recover them, but the Court decided that the hotel proprietor was entitled to them for his bill, unless he was paid the whole amount due for board, $80 60, with costs.

THE TRIALOF DR. HENRY OTTO CLAUSS. -The Verdict-In the case of Dr Henry Otto Clause, in New York, the jury, on Thursday morning, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the third degree. Mr. Clauss formerly lived in Allentown, and removed to New York, where he engaged in the practice of medicine. He visited a concert saloon kept by a man named Carson, late at night and enispute arose between him and Carson, and a squabble ensued when the defendant statbed Carson to the heart with a sword cane .--He was sonteneed on Friday last, to the Penitentialy for two years.

IMPROVEMENT .- In order to keep up with the rapid improvement in our town, and to meet the demands of advertisers upon our columns, we have been compelled to enlarge the Register. Though the increase in size is not very great, yet it gives us about a column and a half more of space. We have also in-troduced considerable new type this week, and will continue to add until the whole paper will appear in a new dress. This improvement has cost us considerable, and in order to meet t, we humbly, but earnestly beseech our de inquent subscribers and advertisers to come to our aid. We will strive to make the Reg ster a good family paper, reporting every week the most important general and local news items in a condensed form, as wo do not wish to fill our paper with articles and call them locals, merely for the purpose of making a show. We have one more request to make of our friends, and it is that every one who reads this, if not a subscriber, will send us. his nume and two dollars immediately, and hat every subscriber will use his influence to get at least one new subscriber for us. It can be done if you will make the effort; and if you do this and succeed, we promise to make the Register considerably larger, and one of the best county papers published in the State.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS -The Supreme Court now in session at Harrisburg have decided the case of Dresher & Trexler vs. the Allentown Water Company in favor of the defendants, sustaining Judge Maynard. Coms, vs. Elenora Mohn certiorati from the Quarter sessions of Northampton co. The de feudant was indicted in two Courts, the first charged her with being a common scold and disturber of the peace, of the neighborhood The second with being an evil disposed per gaged in a game of bagatelle, during which a son and contriving and intending the morals of youths to corrupt and debauch. below, Judge Maynard quashed the indict ment and held that the offence was not pun ishable by the laws of this Commonwealth The Supreme Court held that the indictment was good and the offence punishable at com-mon law and awarded a procedendo, Judge Woodward in delivering the opinion of the Court said :

As to the unreasonableness of holding wo men liable to punishment for a too free use of heir tongues, it is enough to say that the common law which is the express wisdom of ages, adjudged that it is not unreasonable. And the Legislature have not char ged the common law in this regard, but on the contrary leclared so recently as 1800, that this offence shall be punished as heretofore. The argu ment drawn from the indelicacy and unreasonableness of such a prosecution of a female, should be addressed therefore to the Legislature rather than to the courts, for courts o ustice who declare rather than make law, are insensible to all considerations of gallantry.

A new and very good imitation of the last ssue of fifty cent Government script has made its appearance. The printing is not so fine as on the genuine, although the fronts are done in good style. They are executed better than any previous counterfeit, and liable to decoive unless closely examined.

MOBE IMPROVEMENT .--- We live in an age of progress, and in order to keep up with the spirit of the times the enterprising firm of Bardge & Jones have enlarged and remodeled their store room, and repainted throughout. It now is one of the most commodious, beautiful and attractive store rooms in town ; and heades, its shelves and counters are filled with a large and sheap stolk of gcods.
