TERRIBLE DISASTER AT SEA -A vessel explodes and sinks-nitro-glycerine supposed to be the cause. The Liverpool Mercury of the let eavs :

"Intelligence has been received here of the supposed loss of a screw-steamer and all hands It seems that, on Thursday night, about eight o'clock, a large screw-steamer passed the New arp lightship, off Winterton, and in about half an hour a tremendons explosion was heard, followed by a body of flame. The steam er then disappeared, and it is believed that all on board perished. A smok at no great dis-tance observed the disaster, but could not bear down in consequence of the absence of sufficient wind. The report was distinctly heard at Yarmouth, from seven to eight miles distant' and caused a sensible vibration in many houses along the beach. Two steam-tugs put off, and at daylight to day the Minnet returned with fifteen deck-planks, connected by a piece ot iron beam.
