FOR GOVERNOR, Major General John W. Gearv.

OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

DEATH OF GENERAL SCOTT.

Lieutenant-General Scott died at West Point on Tuesday morning last, within fifteen days of the eightieth year of his age. The name of Scott will hold a place in history among the most illustrious patriots of any age or country. He was born at Petersburg, Virginia, June 13, 1786. He entered the army as corporal of cavalry, and by his patriotism, bravery and brilliant talents, reached the highest rank in the United States service. He received his first commission, that of Captain in the Light Artillery, on the 3rd of May, 1808; and his last, that of Lieutenant-General of the U.S. Army, in 1855 .-From the beginning to the end of his eventful career, a patriot, a soldier, and an unflinching friend of his country, he lived to see the rebellion put down, and the country free, and, then, fall of years and honors, he went to his reward. The funeral took place on Friday last, from the chapel of the Military Academy, and the interment was made, with appropriate ceremonies, in the West Point Cemetery, to be a shrine for the loyal people of the country to visit, to ponder over the glorious career of the brave soldier.

Short Review of History.

There was a time when the leaders of the Democracy had the ability to originate measures intended for the benefit of a portion of mankind, and advocate the affirmative of the issue before the people, with commendable zeal and an apparent show of honesty and sincerity; but | the elevation by that party of men to high positions, who have renounced the great questions before the people, and betrayed the trusts imposed in them in the most shameful manner, and so used the potent power of public patronage to carry through the most odious Policy, as to corrupt the press and weak kneed, office-seeking hangers on, and demoralize the head and heart as to make them ashamed to try their hand again at anything except drawing salaries and dividing the plunder. They placed themselves by their own acts of treachery, deceit and falsehood, in the same position that their friends and allies, under the late rebel chief, Lee, were compelled to assume by reason of his stupidity and indecision on the defensive. For the past ten years, not a man of that party, which boasts of its history, (alas, that is all it now has to be proud of,) has attempted to originate a single measure which could by any possible construction be of advantage to any portion of the people of this nation, except, perhaps, a few lordly slaveholders. And all the talent left inside of their little ring, has been devoted to the combating of principles and measures of the opposition to the negro-worshipping human chattel party. All their powers of eloquence, logic, buffoonry, ridicule, falsehood and deception, have, however, been compelled to yield inch by inch to the great principles which underlie our system of free government, until they now find ed, and which are required to raise the standard of morality, purity, and virtue of a free people to that pinnacle for which they were created and endowed.

If it is possible for men so degraded, to learn anything, one would naturally suppose that with the many lessons they have had, and the time allowed, they would know by this time that a false issue before the people would do them no good. But time and opportunity with them as with a training school for weak minds is so nearly lost as to be of very little account.

They have been compelled to yield to every measure of the men they have stigmatized as radicals (why radicals? unless it is because they have ability, talent, and perseverance, qualities to be acknowledged in any men engaged in any cause either good or bad, and did they or any of them but possess either of those qualities we would gladly give them the proper credit,) with a single exception and that will be sure to carry with the people in time, that is, the proper guarantees required from the late rebellious citizens of the Southern States before they are again permitted to enjoy those privileges which they forfeited by their acts of treason.

They have attempted to raise side issues, and deceive the people in every election, to lead them from the true path among the breakers in the whirlpool which has engulphed the democracy. So far any success they have had, has been but temporary, and will be so in the future.

Their cry of negro suffrage in this State, is ever emanated from the weak brain of a modern democrat. No such issue is involved in the coming election; if it were, we would be prepared to take sides upon it; but we do not care to discuss questions not raised by record. It is a mere waste of time.

Their foul mouthed abuse of General Genry is but an index to the depraved condition of the heart that prompts it, and is the only weapon they possess to fight their battles with, since the gallant officers and soldiers penetrated their strongholds and compelled them to yield the sword. Such unblushing falsehoods and malignant lies as they are perpetrating against a gal lant soldier, can only be prompted by the most depraved of the human species. The people have listened to and read their tirades till they are perfectly disgusted, and will show by their actions and votes at the next election, that the blood shed by Democratic traitors, and the suffrom the theatre of action, never again to show their heads among a people they have so outraged and deceived.

A FALSE ISSUE .- The cry of some of the copperhead journals and their allies that President Johnson is in favor of admitting none but loyal men to seats in Congress, is simply a false issue to despive thounwary. Mr. Johnson in a recent speadinsaid: "I say, then, that all those who omnity with the Constitution and laws, are loy-

This is not what the people of the North understand by loyalty. They want none to sit in Congress who have levied war against the government-only those who have not been engaged in the rebellion, or aided and abetted the same, are loyal; this is the only true loyalty.-It is a well-known fact that President Johnson is in favor of repealing all oaths and admitting rebols to seats in Congress. His chief advisor, Soward and Blair, are unequivocally in favor of repealing the test oath.

A WHITE SOUTHERN RADICAL .- The Homes lliad, published at Homer, Louisiana, and now in the ninth volume of its existence, speaks of Andrew Johnson as follows:-

"Herein then, we say, lies the great error of Mr. Johnson in his plan of reconstruction. He has bestowed mercy where it is not appreciated. He has empowered and enabled his real enemies to torture and supplant his true friends. This we say is wrong, is a great error. We would not question the good motive of the President; but then he must, ere this, have seen his error. It must be evident to him now that he should have withheld pardon, or, at least, the exercise of the elective franchise and the right o hold office, from secessionists until the loyal and true men of the country could have restor ed it to political order again, and obtained full and complete possession of its Government.—

This is what Mr. Johnson should have done a the start, and he must now see and feel that he ommitted a great error and perpetrated a burn ing injustice in failing to do so. Congress is now aiming at something of this sort; but the President, backed up by every rebel and rebel sympathizer both North and South, is resisting the effort. We think Congress is right and the

LUTHERAN SYNOD ON NATIONAL AFFAIRS.-The General Synod of the Lutheran Church which has just closed its session at Fort Wayne, Indiana, has, among other resolutions passed the following:-

President wrong."

"Resolved. That to the millions of bondmen. tho by the vicissitudes of war have been so sud lenly and strangely translated into a state of reedom, the country owes its most beneficent nd paternal guardianship, to the end that the suffer no detriment from neglect or abuse, but be strengthened, comforted and assisted, in which great duty the church of Christ canno nd must not be found tardy or delinquent."

The members of the Synod, it would seem are not in favor of the Copperhead doctrine of bolishing the Freedmen's Bureau and placing the freedmen in the hands of their persecutor without sufficient guarantee or security. A resolution was also passed deeply deploring he death of President Lincoln, the philanthropist and statesman.

THE PRESIDENT'S 'POLICY.'-If we need any further evidence of the total failure of "my policy," those noble men of the South, who through the most relentless persecutions, stood firmly by the flag, can bear evidence to this fact. We find them, one and all, standing by the Congress and denouncing the efforts of demagogues to destroy the Union Republican party. It is natural that such men as Stokes, Maynard, Brownlow, Taylor, and Fowler, of Tennessee; Holden and Foster, of North Carolina; Hamilton, of Texas; Botts and Lewis, of Virginia, Hahn and Cutler, of Louisiana, and others, should protest against the effort to place them again in the hands of relentless rebels, their former persecutors, but we cannot understand why Northern | tend. nen should aid the rebels in their dirty work

One of the healthy signs of the times is he success of the temperance cause in different parts of Pennsylvania. As yet no general move ment is in progress, but in many localities there s an awakening on the subject of temperance which must sooner or later culminate in a glorous reformation. The Lewisburg Chronicle, speaking of those engaged in the work in that part of the State, says that while they are engaged in this duty, they are working directly for the benefit in this and that hereafter, of some friend or neighbor. Work-talk-reason-prayunceasingly, until this widow and orphan maker, and general destroyer of humanity, shall be banished forever from the land.

WHAT IS TO BE DECIDED .- The election of Gen. Geary will thrill the heart of every loyal man in the South-the patriots who suffered so much to uphold the flag-with unspeakable joy. themselves in the last ditch, opposing the last. The election of Clymer would elate the rebels of a series of changes, which we have long want and make them still more defiant; they would heir homes. It is simply a question, shall we uphold the national honor, strengthen the hands of the Union men in the South, and bring the country back to the high road of progress and prosperity? or, shall we surrender the national nonor, forsake the men who stood by us, and give over the destinies of the republic into the the hands of those who sought to destroy it?

> Mr. Johnson's own State totally repudiates his unfortunate policy. Here is what the Nashville (Tenn.) Press & Times savs :-

"The contest between the President and the people is virtually settled; the latter are destined to be the victors. The Northern States, with over 25,000,000 of people, will go in a solid column against the programme dictated to them from the Executive Mansion. We rejoice for glorious a career before her, under the humane control of peace republicanism. It is for her interest, as regards immigration, capital, manufactures, education and general prosperity, that the policy of the President should be signally nen_State Courts in the South are ignoring the Civil Rights Bill. Two cases have lately occurred, one in Virginia and the other in Louisiana, where the judges have refused to admit the testimony of colored men, on the plea that the State laws forbid negroes testifying in cases where the rights and interests of white men are involved. Of course these decisions will be reversed by the Supreme Court, but the action of one of the most barefaced assumptions that the lower judges exhibits the animus of the men in power in the South. There can be no doubt that this deliberate attempt to nullify the U.S. laws, is the result of the encouragement afforded by "my policy."

PAPER, manufactured from wood, is now being freely made at several places in New England. The mills, we think, will go on increasing in number, until the price of paper shall come down to a rate which will allow publishers of newspapers to pay their way by their subscriptions. For the last four or five years the struggles of publishers cannot be imagined by the readers of their papers. The price which has been charged for newspapers, has borne, and still bears no comparison to the cost.

MARYLAND.—The Union Republicans (radiicals,) are holding meetings all over the State. and the greatest enthusiasm prevails everywhere. They are confident of carrying the fering that has been caused by their treason, State by an overwheleming majority. Stokes, have not been in vain, that this nation will be Maynard, and Fowler, of Tennessee, are stumppurified and invigorated by the ordeal, and such | ing it for the noble Unionists there, and are blatant trash and arrant fools will be swept from creating great enthusiasm wherever they speak.

> The London Times, the bitter enemy of American institutions, the traitor's friend, and the apologist of the assassin, now speaks of Johnson as the expositor of the true principles of government, and gives to him, as far as may be, its unqualified endorsement. This could easily have been foretold, as nothing politically good ever found favor with the Times.

The project of forming an independen State of East Tennessee, has been summarily knocked in the head. The special committee of the Tennessee Legislature, to which the matter had been referred, reported against the project, and the report was adopted by a vote in the Senate of 13 to 8.

The New York Evening Post says that Mr. Seward's speech recently delivered at Auburn, will probably be published in pamphlet form, under the title, "Everything is lovely, and the goose hangs high."

The Democratic organs continue to speak of the National Legislature as "the Rump Congress." If there is a smaller rump anywhere than the Copperhead remnant of the once now erful Democratic party, we should like to have stimebody inform he of its locality

SENATE RECONSTRUCTION REPORT. The Senate has amended the proposed amendment to the Constitution, which had passed the House of Representatives, by striking out the 3d section, which disfranchises all who have participated in the rebellion until 1870. In lieu thereof the Senate proposes to insert a section prohibiting all prominent ebels from holding office. As the amend gent now stands, sec. 1 secures all person in their civil rights—the right of every man be secure in life, liberty and property .-Section 2 bases representation on voters, or more properly speaking, if a State disfranchis es any portion of its citizens they shall not be aken into the count for representation. Sec ion 4 secures the bounties and pensions of soldiers. Section 5 secures the national debt incurred in putting down the rebellion. Mr. Sumner yesterday offered the following ıs an amendment:— "That when any State lately in rebellion shall have ratified the foregoing amendments, and shall have modified its constitution and laws in conformity/therewith, and shall have further provided that there shall be no denial elective franchise to citizens of the United States because of race or color, and that all persons shall-be equal before the law the Senators and Representatives from such States, if found duly elected and qualified, may, after having taken the required oaths of office, be admitted into Congress as such." SERENADE TO THE PRESIDENT AND CABINET.

The President and his Cabinet were sere naded last week by Mr. Randall's "bread and butter brigade," (Mr. Randall, who is president of the Johnson club in this city, recently wrote to some friends in Wisconsin that no man should eat the bread and butter of the government unless he supported the Presient's policy-hence the name "bread and butter brigade.")
The brigade first proceeded to the White House, where the President entertained then with a very short speech, of perhaps fifty words. The fact was conclusively demonstrated, that the Cabinet are not a unit in regard "my policy." Messrs. McCulloch. and Seward, favor the "policy" of admitting representatives from rebel States without guarntees. (Mr. McCulloch never was a republican, he having been appointed to the posi-tion he occupies simply because of his great financial abilities, and Mr. Wells can scarcey be classed as such) Mr. Dennison is rather inclined to stand by the President, but at the same time reiterates his assertion that the Union Republican party should be kept intact. Mr. Stanton quotes President Johnson against himself, and says he stands by the President's former declarations, and also that reconstruction properly belongs to Congress. It is well known that Mr. Speed is not in favor of the President's policy. Mr. Harlan did not ap-pear when called for, but left a letter to explain his position, from which I quote:—

"As my political affiliations in the past have not been doubtful, I do not intend they shall be so in the future. I have been four times elected to a seat in the United States Senate by the Legislature of Iowa, as a representative of the Republican Union party, and, as a member of that political organization, I was appointed to the office I new hold. To betray the confidence thus reposed in me would be a manifestation of intratitude so glariogly dis-honorable that I am sure no intelligent member of your organization expects it. Nor can it be expected that I will do or say anything which would in my opinion tend to divide, weaken, or demoralize the great Union organization, until the purposes of its creation shall have been fully accomplished." • BOLDIERS' FAIR.

Great preparations are being made here for holding a fair for the benefit of soldiers' or phans. A spacious building is now being erected for the purpose. From present indications the fair will be a great success. EQUALIZATION OF BOUNTIES.

The bill to equalize soldier's bounties has passed the House of Kepresentatives by an almost unanimous vote, and will no doubt pass the Senate also. MANOCACY.

CHANGING SPOTS .- It has been decided, contrary to tradition, that a leopard can change his spots; when he gets thred of lying in one spot he can go to another. So can a human being; when he gets tired of buying boots and shoes which pluch, and burst, and don't wear wall, he can go to Biery & Mer'tz, H milton street 2 doors below 9th, and buy boots and shoes that are sure to give satisfaction.

Without any tangible disease to which the physiclan can give a specific name, multitudes die. out of existence from a mere lack of vital ener-Often after an attack of acute disease, the prestration consequent upon the violent action of the remedies which have removed the complaint, carries off the convoluscent. It is in emergencies like these that the strength sustaining, lite renewing qualities of BINKERNE are most strikingly demonstrated. If the bed-ridden invalid were lifted from his couch and set upon his feet by some mechanical means, the effect would scarcely be more palpable to the observer, than that of this powerful vegetable restorand gathers flesh as it gathers vigor. No excitement of the circulation is produced by the preparation; no reaction follows its gentle exhibitating of feet up in the system. The cure proceeds, without relapse or drawback, until completed. This is not the language of culogy, but simply the experience of hundreds of recovered invalids of both sexes, put into plain and simple language. The empiries of the day who endeavor to manufacture public opinion but the complete of the complete ton by making boll assertions which have no foundation in fact, are welcome to all the honors they can derive from axuggeration and fraud.
