The Late Fire .- Huber & Bro. have been allowed $1800 on their insurance for their loss sustained at the fire Monday week. They re-opened yesterday.

The German School .- The German school, mention of which was made in our last issue, was opened on Saturday motning at nine o'clock in he First Ward, and in the afternoon at one o'cloc in the Second.

Telegraphic.--- The Western Union Telegraph mpany has opened a branch office at the Lehigh Valley Railroad Depot at Allentown. The main office has been removed from the Central Express office to the First National Bank building.

Expected Visit .- The Free Masons of Phillipsburgh, N. J., expect to visit their brethren in Allentown, on Friday, the 22d inst. A pleasant Interchange of paternal feeling and a good time generally is expected.

Job Work of every kind, and at prices to suit hare. the most economical, can be had at THE REGISTER office at short notice. We are prepared to compete with New York canvassers in the matter of printing envelopes and note paper. Why not patronize home industry?

Wedding cards a specialty.

More Sleighing .- Snow fell to the depth of four inches on Monday, and at this writing the sleight are flying past our office thick and fast. The Passenger Railway Company succeeded in pay a fair price for it. keeping their road in running order by the use of large brooms attached to their cars, and the regu lar trips are still made, though the larger cars re quire four horses.

Sacred Concert .- The choir of St. John's English Lutheran Church of this city, under the charge of Prof. C. F. Herrmann, with the assistance of Prof. Boettger, the popular cornet per former of Philadelphia, Prof. J. I. Romig, Allen town's favorite violinist, purpose giving a grand concert on Thursday evening, January 21, at the church. It promises to be a rare musical treat. For particulars see posters.

Presentation of a Cane.-Prof. T. L. Seip, principal of the Academic Department of Muhlen berg College, this city, was presented on Friday t with a handsome ebony cane by the members of his department. The cane is mounted with heavy gold head, upon which is engraved, "Prof. T. L. Seip, A. M., a token of esteem, Jan. 1, 1869." The presentation speech was made by Mr. C. D. Lake and was responded to by Prof. Scip in a nea and appropriate manner.

Notice to Subscribers .-- Our subscribers an ate relief to the patient." requested to remember that we have purchased the subscription books of THE REGISTER office and set tlement of all back as well as advance subscription must be made at this office. We have authorized no one to collect for us. Finances .- One of the greatest drawbacks thich our city is subjected to is the influence of New York on her finances and trade. The sever per cent. legal interest of New York against Penn sylvania's six per cent. works greatly to our dis dvantage, and while money in Philadelphia and elsewhere is comparatively easy Allentown bus less men complain of a stringency. The circulat ing medium of the Lehigh Valley, as is shown b the bank statements, is no greater than before th war, while the business has more than trebled.

matter, leaving a running sore. She had bee uilding with a rough exterior. It was formerly treated for more than a year by most eminen physicians without receiving any permanent ber efit, her disease becoming worse, until she had five of these running sores on her neck, when I employed Dr. H. D. Longaker, under whose treat ment she commenced to improve very fast, the sores on her neck to heal, and all her unpleasant and disagreeable symptoms gradually to disapongues spoken. At one end of this basin is a small carn, on pear, until her health was restored, which was in about four months. I feel perfectly justified, vhose borders a considerable amount of peat is lug. Clipping Driving Horses is not a barbarous practice, but in many cases is a necessity. An experienced livery stable keeper of our acquaintance a few years ago had several horses that after the most careful driving, would invariably be brought into the stable with not a dry hair of them. The usual hard rubbing and warm blanket ing were resorted to to dry them off, but without ishing the desired end sometimes within a couple of days. One of the horses, particularly kinds. baying an extraordiuarily heavy coat became sick refused to eat, and was soon unfit for use. As h was a very valuable animal, the gentleman was very anxious to restore him to health, but the ef forts of experienced veterinary surgeons were fruitless. A "clipper" happening into the stable one day, and hearing of the circumstances, suggested clipping. The proprietor did not believe in it, but consented to it as a last resort. The horse was soon made slick and slim, and was driven out the same afternoon to shake the dust out. When he was returned to the stable he was "as good as 'he partook of a hearty supper, and so con vinced the proprietor of the wisdom of removing heavy coats from driving horses, that the other were immediately put under the shears, and the trio showed signs of better health than they had enjoyed before, and every winter since then have undergone the barbarous practice of clipping, and have shown themselves the hardlest horses in twenty-four.

Soon, too soon for me, the storm was over, when we com ced the descent, which is an extremely steep and slippery path over hard frozen snow and lee, which we found so difficult to walk upon that twice we were compelled to sit flat down and slide down backwards for twenty yards at a time using our Alpine sticks as poles to regulate our speed.
