THE ELECTROPHESE. CAN TRUE EET.

MAYOR. Col. George Beisel, who is the Republican nominee for Mayor, is an old, and for many years has been a prominent citizen of this place. He came here when quite young and by his strict attention to his business has achieved a competence, though he is not what can now-a-days be called a rich man. Before Allentown was a city, Mr. Beisel had upon several occasions, we believe, filled the office of Chief Burgess, and greatly distinguished himself by his close attention to the duties of his office. We are quite sure that Mr. Beisel if elected, about which there should be no doubt, will bring to the performance of the duties of Mayor, the same inflexible gule that distinguishes him in the management of hi own private affairs. We have great necessity for just such a man. There are various evils existing in this city, resulting perhaps from the non-execution of the laws, which need remedying, and we can think of no one who will perform this duty so well as Mr. Beisel.

It is the special duty of the Republican party as well as of all law loving and law abiding people, of whatever party they may be, to see o it that the nomination of Mr. Beisel shall be triumphant.

HIGH CONSTABLE. Mr. Joel Reinhard, has been long known as one of our most efficient and faithful Police officers: His experience in Police affairs will be a guarantee that the laws relating to the government of the city, will be comprehended and enforced.

Mr. Reuben Leisenring is a promising young man, who deserves well of the people. He was a soldier, and is therefore the soldiers' candidate. Let the soldiers rally around him, for it is their special duty to do so,

In 1842, he was elected by the Whigs to Congress; in 1846, he ran for Lieutenant Governor, and was defeated, but the following year. gress; in 1846, he ran for Lieutenant Governor, and was defeated, but the following year he was elected to that office by 36,000 majority, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lieutenant Governor Gardiner. In the following year he was mominated for Governor, and defeated both his opponents, John A. Dix and Reuben H. Walworth. In the beginning of 1852 he was elected for the United States Senate, and served until 1857. He was identified with all the measures of his party and was a strong tariff man. His public as well was a strong tariff man. His public as well as private character is above reproach, and his experience in public affairs has been marked with great ability.

Mr. Boutwell is a fit example of what a poor boy can make himself. Starting in life without wealth or influence. ence, working upon a farm, with nothing but his own perseverance and ability to sustain him, he has worked his way up in life by successive steps, until now he is called to the most responsible position that a man can attain to, and holds the whole financial workings of great country in his hands. His honest and thorough radical ideas have secured him the highest honors from his own State. In 1867 from the Judiciary Committee, to which Mr. Ashley's resolution of impeachment was referred. Mr. Boutwell submitted a report of 1,163 pages of printed testimony, with the resolution "That Andrew Johnson be imcached of high crimes and misdemeanors, which resolution was taken up on December 8, 1867, and lost. February 13, 1868, in the Reconstruction Committee of the House a vote was taken on Impeachment and Messrs. Boutwell. Farnesworth and Stevens were the only members who voted for it. On the third attempt to impeach Andrew Johnson, Mr. Boutwell was one of the Managers, and it was not owing to any lack of ability, hard work or perseverance on his part that this act of justice failed.
