Sional man, or an office-holder, or rich, or rogue sional man, or an office-holder, or rich, or rogue enough to live without any work. But there are fools in this world as you have perhaps found out by this time. I speak of the fools who desplace a main for being a uncehanic and working for,wages. There are two classes of these fools. One class I shall merely mention because I want to speak to you particularly about the other class: The one class are the lice people who don't work for a living and fancy themselves bet-ter than those who do. The second class are the mechanics who are ashamed of their business and desplac mechanics. There are several forms or manifetations of this folly: There are men who are mechanics themselves and are ambilious to make their soms something else. They must be lawyers, doctors, preachers, merchanis, oven loaf-ers, rather than learn a trade. All right if they have no talent for uncehanics, or possess peculiar lawyers, doctors, preachers, merchanis, even ioni-ers, rather than learn a trade. All right if they have no talent for mechanics, or possess peculiar talent for some other business; but when a man makes his son, or allows his son to become some-thing else, because he despises mechanics, he is a great fool, and is it any wonder that the sons and daughters, and grandsons and granddaughters of squaudered their inheritance would rather live by their wits than do honest work for a living 1 Still worse those mechanics, because they are mechanics and think neclualies despised resenting and live with and like rowdles, because they are mechanics and think mechanics despised (When a man despises himself through a mistake it is worth while to correct birm.) They are rough in their manners and appearance; they make no efforts to improve ther ninds; don'tgo to church

n their manners and appearance ; they make m forts to improve their minds ; don't go to church efforts to improve their minds; don't go to church —a great mistake; and all because they are uechanics. There is nothing to prevent an Ameri ean mechanic from taking his place among gentle-men, no law here to keep down one class under pretense of protecting another; there are no privi-leged classes. Have respect for yourself—not pride, conceit to think yourself better than others—but self-respect. If your business is honest and you work houesily at it, you need not be ashamed of it and it cannot stand in the way of real respecta-bility. Improve your mind, drees genteely and not vulgarly, act the gentleman and you are a gentleman.

Above all be a Christian gentleman. Conceive such a nuan-intelligent, decent in his dress, gen-tlemanly in his manners and associations, honest and capable in his business, and attentive to reli-gion. Such a man may, must command respect and, above all, such a Christian man is honored in Heaven-a member of Christ.

Our Advertisers .- It is a fact beyond argu subscribers' papers and it will serve every purpose neut that the men who advertise are the men to be patronized. Their advertising is an evidence hat, however large their business is, however crowded their stores may be, they are anxious to nercase that business and multiply that crowd, and New York, via Reading, Allentown, Easton and in order to accomplish this they devote their mergles to buying the cheapest and selling the cheapest, and call the attention of the public to their goods through the columns of the newspa-per. Millionaires have, time and again, given the public a history of their experience, and in nine cases out of every ten they owe their fortunes to advertising. The truth of this is so well known that, now-a-days, the man who does not advertise at all is stamped as having no energy and enterprise, and therefore can't compete with those who have. We give below a list of the Allentown merchants who patronize the columns of The REGISTER. This number will be increased as the Fall trade opens, and as they come in we shall

Leopold Salinger appeared among our new advertisements last week. He keeps the "Cheap Philadelphia Store," on Hamilton street, between Second and Third. We do not know the extent of the great advantages he offers, but recommend everybody to stop in and inspect for themselves. Then on the first page at the top of the column Foster tells the people what he will do. As his store is patronized again and again by the same people they must be convinced by actual experience that they can get good bargains there.

Zimmerman and Chaa-Slingluf; referees. The plaintiff was Peter Meyers and the defendant the Township of Pottsgrove. Suit was brought originally before a Justice of the Peace for the recovery of about $65, expended by plaintiff for repairs on a road in said township, over which Mr. Meyers was doing some hauling for the Colebrookdule Railroad. It was claimed by plaintiff that the repairs to the road, which was in a bad condition, had been authorized by one of the supervisors of the township, which the defen-dant denied. The aut was gained before the Jus-tice by Mr. Meyers, whon awarded him $46, and also before the arbitrators, whon gave him mearly $44. M. D. Evans, of Pottstown, ably represented the plaintiff is the case, and H. U. Brunner, Ess., of Norristown, was counsel for the defendant. It is said that the defendant will appeal to Court. SALIABLE TOWNER, Length OS, OC, J. 1885. It is with a grateful fooling that i feel able to make the following statement for the bonefit of these who are suffer-ing from Scrotha and other Chronic Disease. My wife had been suffering for several years from tumors or swellings on her neck which after a time would gather and discharge matter, leaving a running sorr. She had re business, in dull times it is all the more so. And why? Simply because the fact of advertising at all is proof conclusive that such a course will and does bring business; hence, the more one patonizes the press, the greater will be his revenue, and the more certain his success. Many men are been treated for more than a year by most eminent physi clans without receiving any permanent benefit, her di-becoming worse, until she had five of these running on her neck, when I employed Dr. H. D. Longaker, u dependent entirely upon advertising for success. ning sore Suppose they were to refuse to advertise at all? on her neck, when I employed Dr. H. D. Longaker, under whose treatment she commenced to improve very fast, the spress on lyr neck to heal, and all her unpleasant and di-agreenble symptoms gradually to disappear, until her health was restored, which was in about four months. I feel perfectly instified, after having tried the treatment of alter physicians in recommending all those who are suffer-ing from Scrofula or Chronic Diseases to Dr. Longaker for medicat treatment, with a fram belief that they will be saf-isfied, benefician deured thereby, as my wife has been. Attempted Suicide .--- On Monday morning, while Commissioners Pearson and Focht were visiting the prison, they observed a man hanging in his cell with a rope around his neck and attached to a nail in the window. They immediately summoned assistance and the carpenter, Samuel Schoch, entered the cell and rescued him from death. When taken down he was insensible, but when he returned to consciousness he became very indignant at the interference in his designs and almed a stool at the head of the carpenter. No one was hurt, however, and he was soon secured beyond the possibility of a recurrence of the hanging. His name is Edward Young, was imprisoned for not maintaining his wife, and has but a short time to serve.

Parements. --- An improvement is greatly needed in the construction of our sidewalks. In some places neighbors differ in their opinions as to the proper height of the same, and the conse quence is that pedestrians on dark nights stump their toes against the high ones' and before they finish their doubtful blessings upon the owners are larred by suddenly and unexpectedly coming down upon a lower one. Then others think brick out here and there destroys the monotony of and most beautiful patterns for suits oùt. the scene, and a loose brick imbedded in water produces a picturesque fountain as predestrians tread upon it. All these notions should be put into practice in the back yard, but for the sidewalk we refer sound, even, anti-squirting brick or flag stone pavements.

Anniversary Sermon .- On Sunday evening. Unity Lodge, Junior Order of American Mechanics attended Grace Ohurch to hear their first anniversary sermon preached by Rev. William R. Gries. The church was crowded with the members of the order, their friends and the congregation, and after the preliminary services of the church, the sermon was delivered in the carnest, effective style of the Rector, from the text "And is not this the carpenter the son of Mary?" St. Mark, VI. S. We regret not having room sufficient to print the whole of the sermon, for we should like to place it In the hands of every one of our citizens who was not fortunate enough to listen to it. The best we can do is to give an abstract of it, which may present some of its important features, but it must necessarily be stripped of its force. Mr. Gries said-You see there were silly people in those days as now, who thought the less of r au because he was a mechanic. They asked this question as an objection to Jesus. But we are thankful for this questian because it acqualuts us with an interesting and instructive fact about our Saviour. The Son of God, the King of Kings nd Lord of Lords was a carpenter until he began his ministry at thirty years. We are told but lit-tle about him from his birth to his baptism, the visit of the wise men, the flight into Egypt, return to Naraub, his visit to Jerusalem at twelve years of age, when he grew in wisdom and stature like other men, and studied, improved his mind, and grew in favor with God and men.

But this question suggests a whole history. We know that he served his time as apprentice to Joseph, his mother Mary's husband, who was a quality. Every housekeeper should give them a carpenter. He worked early and late-carning his wages-secking to give satisfaction to his emportance. We see him with sun-browned face, ployers. arms and horny hands, work in that hot sun and in the shop, with hammer and hatchet, chies and plane. It tells us that honest hard chisel and plane. It tells us that bonest hard work is consistent with cultivation of mind and holiness of life. It teaches us that the people who despise a mechanic now because he is a mechanic.
