THE CITY. The Register Groves.

By our enlargement, this week, we are led to give our patrons six columns addition reading matter, an increase of two columns in space in the length and four on the sides. We take this occasion to return our cere thanks to our friends who have interested themselves in our behalf and have rendered such killed. It appears he was on a freight train and valued assistance in increasing our subscription list, and we hope that this increase of size will be taken as an evidence that we intend to make THE fell off the bumper, when the train passed over him REGISTER more and more worthy of their support.

The Colebrookdale Railroad was opened for trade and travel from Pottstown to Boyertown on Monday morning last, and the event was made the occasion of considerable demonstration on the part of the residents about the line. The morning train down from Boyertown, leaving the latter place a 7 o'clock, which was the first train run, carried sixty-one passengers. I consisted of two passer ger cars and a baggage car, drawn by the loc

Conductor P. M. Plotts. There was not so milling made of this train, however, as of the return train to Boyeriown which left Potistown at 10:15 A. M., and which contained ninety-four passengers-a gratifying instance of the raphility with which railroads develop travel. All along the route as the train sped onward, the citizens were gathered at different points to witness its passage, and from barns, farm-houses and public roads handkerehiefs were enthus-isstically waved and other tokens of gratification were manifested by the denizeus of the region now redeemed from the dominion of the inguinering stage coach. This latter vehicle as it left Potistown for Boyertown, on Saturday even-ing, upon its last trip, was crowided full, inside and outside, a seening evidence that it had not sur-viveid its usefulness. A very liberal stop was made at each of the stallous, during which the passengers got, out and indulged in gymnastic anusement. Finsgow, Manntawner, ironstone were all passed in gradual succession, which the passengers got, out and indulged in synchic traves and public roads and indulged in the traves and eat each of the stallous, during which the passengers got, out and indulged in there the spine hulle dup safely at Boyertown.
