Mare Stolen. On Wednesday some thief broke into the Engle Hotel stable, gaining entrance by wrenching off the pad lock, and stole therefrom a valuable mare belonging to Mr. Wm. Sleger, one of the notel proprietors. Early the next morning the mare made her appearance by walking into the stable yard, much to the pleasure of Mr. Sieger. As the animal is a very vicious one, and probably not liking the compony she was in, it is supposed she broke loose from the thief and returned to her rightful owner .- News.

The residents of houses Nos, 3 and 1, Mr. Phillip Netheran, his family and boarders; and the famly of Mr. Wm. Morrist and boarders were saved rom a terrible death by a singular circumstance A dog belonging to Mr. Morrist awoke the family by its persistent howling and barking. One of the men rose for the purpose of ascertaining what ailed the animal, when he discovered that the iouse was sinking. He immediately gave the alarm and the two muilles had barely time to scape. Miss Mary Wetheran, running the group direction, fell into the abyss, but was subquently rescued by some courageous young men. She is somewhat bruised and prostrated rom excitement and tear, but will recover All of the residents of Nos. 5 and 6 lie hopelessly his wife, a son of 19 years, a daughter of 18 years, to prised one family. The other consisted of M Isaac Rauch, his mother, wife and an infan this makes a total of 10 persons. It is reported that some men were in the mine at the time But the report is very doubtful, and cannot be traced to any reliable authority. So far it has sen found impossible to reach the dead bodies to the woodwork, the entire cavity is now a burning and smoking mass. The Pioneer No. 1 fire or of the property of the propert to the woodwork, the entire cavity is now a burnagine of Hazleton was soon on the ground, and and made every exertion to extinguish the fire In hope that some of the persons in the cave by the fallen earth. The excitement is very great. Families in this vicinity are moving out of their houses, tearing that theirs will fall in next. There is no danger of the mines taking fire. Messes, Linderman and Skoer arrived at the scene of the disaster this afternoon. They are sparing no pains to secure the bodies as speedily The accident was caused by working the breas in the coillery too near the surface under the houses, there being only about twenty feet of space where it caved in. Only a few days be a comple of persons in a truck were pitched into a similar hole, where a portion of the foundation of the rational had given way, over some work-ings that approached too near the surface.

ORIGIN OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS. Sunday Schools were formed about the year 1781, by Robert Raikes, a printer in Gloucester. Business leading him into the suburbs of the town, inhabited by the lowest suburbs of the town, immoticed by the lowest class of the people, he was struck with astonishment at seeing a group of children, miserably ragged at play. He was informed that on Sunday the street was filled with a multitude of wretches who, having no employment on that day, spent their time in noise and riot, playing at chuck, cursing and swearing. To check this deployable profunction of the Lord's phaying at cauces, cursing and swearing. To check this deplorable profunation of the Lord's day, he engaged four women, who kept dame schools, to instruct as many children as he should send them on Sundays, in reading and the church catechism, for which they were to receive one shilling each. In a short period a rigidle, improvement was effected both in n visible improvement was effected both in the manners and morals of the children, who now came in large numbers; they attended church with their mistresses, and a great many church with their mistresses, and a great many learned to read and say their catechism.

Such was the origin of the Sunday schools in England. Numerous schools, formed on the same model, sprang up in all the principal towns, and a society, under high patronage, was formed in London in 1785, for the estabwas formed in London in 1785, for the establishment and support of Sunday schools throughout the kingdom, which in fourteen years expended £4000 in payment of teachers. The Sunday school found its way into Scotland as early as the year 1782; but it was not till 1786, when the Society for Promoting Religious Knowledge among the Poor was formed, that it was publicly recognized; when the Gratis Sunday School was formed then schools hocame general. At first they met with con-Gratis Sunday School was formed then schools became general. At first they met with considerable opposition from portions of the co-clesiastical courts, but they are now supported by all the churches. Sunday School Unione exist in Edenburg, Glasgow, and most of the large towns. In Ireland Sunday schools have been partially anticipated in County Down in 1770; but it was not till 1785 that the system present by Mr. Baikes was adopted, since 1770; but it was not tin 1785 that the system pursued by Mr. Raikes was adopted, since which its history has been analogous to that of England. The Sunday School Society for Ireland was established in 1800.

Sunday schools were introduced into New York in 1816, through the exertions of some type of the state of the service of the sunday schools. John J. Roin, the noted horse thier, who escaped from Easton juli, about three months ago and was recaptured in Philadelphia, broke plat again on Saturday night.

SAPENTIA.

Among all the attractions and inducements to communicated to the timbers and the names consumed the whole mass, burning to death those of the victims who had not been killed outright. The seeme was one ferrible to behold. Alarm spread among the the neighbors, and furniture and goods were removed, as it was not influenced by other and never clothing houses in philase dephia, we notice that the old established concern of Rockilli & Wilson not only holds its own, but keeps nace that it is not of them. Their "Great Brown Hall" is stocked from basement to root diverge the verything that can be called for, in men's and boys' wear. Purchasing their metals are two do in impression constitues, and having materials, as they do, in immense quantities, and having the entire product of whole mills on certain classes of goods, their facilities for furnishing their patrons wi goods, their lactifies for unsurpassed. There is no louter in Philadelphia or any other city which has such complete arrangements for making up its goods, and triminaling them in the most exquisite style. Both in the 'ready-made' and 'custom' departments, hosts of our readers can ies-tify that Rockbill & Wilson never fall to give them entre satisfaction.
