St. Patrick's Day in Allentown

The Fenian brotherhood are making preparations to celebrate this auniversary with their prevailing high wind and the proximity of Mr. usual enthusiasm. Meetings of the Allen Circle Cole's lumber yard, caused fears to be entertained have been held and resolutions adopted arrang- that an extensive fire was inevitable and the thanks ing a procession, &c. Every one will remember order that was preserved. Such demonstrations, these fears were not realized. The promptitude so conducted, are pleasant to all concerned, and we are glad to hear that this year St. Patrick's the fact that the alarm never reached the upper Day is to be celebrated with unusual parade.

Removed from Allentown to Reading .

Wm. S. Young, Jr., who was admitted. to the bar in this city last year, has left town to commence the practice of law in our neighboring city of Reading. Since his admission here Mr Young has been to the Law School of Harvard University, at Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he was a close student. We are indebted to him for several graphic and entertaining letters, (deblished in the REGISTER some weeks back. Mr. Young carries with him the good wishes of ous friends who regret his departure and we shall be pleased to chronicle his success at the bar of Reading,

Another Fire in Allentown.

By the praiseworthy action of a number of our citizens, what might have been a very destructive fire was suppressed and the surround-buildings saved, without even the alarm of "fire" being raised. Last Wednesday night about 12 o'clock, the stable of Mr. Gideon Bortz, on Church alley near Liberty street, was discovered to be on fire and the flames were actually bursting out of the doors and windows. The neighbo work at once to subdue the flames and labored with such zeal as to succeed in extinguishing them without any other loss being incurred than the destruction of the hay stored in the building. A cow was in the stable but was got out uninjured. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary and it would be well for our police to keep a vigilant eye for such offenders and if possible to bring them to justice. Too much ilse cannot be awarded to those, who so promptly went to work and stayed the progress of the fire. Such presence of mind in a moment of exitement is worthy of commendation, and we ing element has often been due to this character-tie of our people.

These men, in the prosecution of their nefarious and hazardous business, display an ingenuity and REPORT OF COAL transported over the Lehigh Valley Railroad perseverance in overcoming difficulties that, if exercised legitimately, would certainly attain for them eminence and distinction, and yet, such is the fascination of crime, they prefer to misuse We their talents, and in most cases reap their reward Fire Again .- First Ward. The necessity of a steamer for the First

ing. Between 11 and 12 o'clock, two of the new buildings in course of crection by Mr. Colt, on Water alley near Turner street, were discovered to be on fire. The first intimation given was the thick smoke scen issuing from the doors and winstantly supplied with accounts of murder, robbe dows, and it was then discovered that the fire was spreading rapidly between the ceiling of the lower tory and the first floor. The Vigilant Fire Com pany quickly turned out and aided by the citizens proved themselves worthy of the name. With only buckets to carry the water, they by tremen-

Shoplifting in Allentown.

A Mrs. John Rudolph, of Eighth street, has lately left town under very disgraceful circumstances. She has been in the habit, for some time past, of going to the store of Mr. Gressley, corner of Seventh and Chew streets, and there buying scriptive of Cambridge and the Hub), which were her dry goods, etc. The early morning she has chosen for her operations, and entering the store, would ask for some article that was kept in the cellar, which of course the clerk had to fetch. At hat hour in the morning there would, in all prob ability, be but one clerk in the store and Mrs. Rudolph had a clear coast for her operations. On had ordered and then leave the store. Time after ance, will celebrate their Twenty-First Anniversary time articles of value were missed-pieces of on Monday next, February 28th. A Special Session of the Grand Division of Pennsylvania will whom to fasten suspicion. At length the frequency of her visits at such an early hour, and the singu larity of the fact that the goods she wanted had to be fetched from the cellar, excited suspicion On the occasion of her next visit, a clerk was con As delegates from nearly all the Divisions in this cealed in the Store, and she was seen by him to hide some articles under her clothing. . On being tion will no doubt be very interesting. In the accused of the theft she denied it at first, most evening the Anniversary exercises will the place in the Court House; at 7 o'clock. Past Grand should not be prosecuted if she gave up the goods, she restored them. Subsequently, she sent a little Wesley C. Bae has always accounted for the possession o them in the country. Her husband declares his ignorance of any such transactions and she has levanted to Bultimore. Officer Hofford, armed with a search warrant, went to the house, but no trace of stolen goods could be discovered. Mrs. Rudolph, we believe, had hitherto enjoyed a fair reputation and the discovery of her guilt has been a severe shock to her former friends. The production of iron ore in Pennsylvani or the year 1869 has been as follows : Pig iron 65,000 tons ; for 1869 against 872,000 tons 1 1868 ; increase, 93,000 tons, the sales of the pro duct being about $34,000,000 or very little beyon the lesser quantity of last year. From forges and omerics, 31,000 tons ; rails, 280,000 tons ; othe forms of manufactured, 271,000 tons; increase 31,000 tons. The added value on the manufa tured article may be fairly estimated at $35,000,-000 showing a total productive value of fully $69,-000,000, with an increase in total quantity from 1,424,157 tons to 1,563,000 tons.

> IMPURITIES OF THE LEHIGH. The Lehigh Crane Iron Company have been he repellants in three sults, (brought respectively by John H. Troxell, David Troxell and Michae Minnich), which were instituted for the recovery of damages, alleged to have been sustained by th omplainants, in consequence of the company alowing the muddy water to escape from their dam and thus rendering the waters of the Lehigh River mpure. The complainants all reside on the banks of the Lehigh and alleged that the said impurity of the water rendered it unfit for ordinary domestic and farming use. The mud dam at Guth's ore bed, near the Jordan Crock, is the dam particularly referred to in the above complaint. The rbitrators, after a session of six days, awarded ach plaintiff one hundred and sixty dollars and osts. Quite a number of suits are now pending. nvolving the same questions of law and probably this decision will result in the settlement of many of them, if not all.
