THE TARIFF TURNING.

When the McFarland case first attracted public attention, newspaper readers got their impressions of the merits of the case from the very sensational articles which were written by the enemies of the Tariff...

Poor Richardson was a Tribune man, and was a friend of these two clerjymen, whom it had been the particular business (rightly or wrongly) of certain papers to continually attack. The imputation was, however, how they acted on Richardson or his friends, and in situations, sans profane, concerning the virtue of the lady, who was unfortunately to have borne the name of McFarland, went forth and were spread broadcast over the land through the medium of the press.

When the Tariff Bill was passed, the blame was laid on the Tariff. It was a good thing, and it is a good thing. We think it can be done and are sure it ought to be done at once. With the prominent men of the party call a Convention and let us have the views of the people on this subject?

THE TARIFF ON IRON. For the past month the entire strength of the free trade faction has been concentrated upon the work of reducing the tariff on iron. Pig metal comes in from the bulk of their territory, and nothing is so satisfactory to them short of an absolute reduction of the tariff on that staple from nine dollars per ton to a third of that amount.

Justice though tardy, has been done at last and the verdict of the people to vote over the court, and pronounces Daniel McFarland, sane or insane, "Guilty" of a cowardly crime.

POLICY SHOPS. The Policy Shop business is such a profitable one and affords such an easy way for earning "sharps" to live comfortably without any labor, of the gullibility of the hard-working class of individuals who constitute the "flats," that it is continually attracting the attention and inviting the investment of countless individuals who by some manner of means have managed to get money enough together to take a share in the swindle.

THE TARIFF CASE. The papers which have laid great pains before and since the trial, to abuse and vilify Mrs. Richardson and her dead husband, are seeking to justify their course by throwing discredit on her sworn statement, and with no other ground than her "weakness" to do so.

WATER RENTS. An ordinance of the city fixed the 30th day of April as the latest day for paying the water rates and decided that after that day 5 per cent should be added. If not paid up to the first of June 10 per cent, to be added.

THE DEMOCRACY. A Chicago Journal thinks the Republican Party is "sore" in a "fatal" way. In other words, that its chief necessity, just at present, is the development of a broad and symmetrical policy upon which the party can be nationalized.

THE HON. JOHN D. STILES made a speech on the 19th inst. on the 19th inst. ON THE 19TH OF MAY HE VOTED FOR THE INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT OF THE TARIFF BILL.

Opinion of a New York Correspondent of a London Paper.

"Mr. Schenck, the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, an able and worthy man, is as ignorant of the principles of political economy as the most ignorant English country squire, and in a debate on principles would be disposed of (trivially enough) as a thorough minister of the facts and figures, so practically he may be said to have things his own way.

These annual changes in the tariff have, it is hardly necessary to say, a most unfortunate effect on trade and commerce. After Congress meets in December the Committee goes to work at it; the "lobbyists" sent on by the various interests crowd to Washington.

Men who generally get "talk out" their convictions and opinions, generally join these ranks and use these means to kill a bill which they ought to support if they did their duty by their constituents.

THE MORMONISM. While the whole press and people are ready on the slightest occasion to raise a terrible cry against any violation of the laws of virtue and decency, it is almost incredible with what quietness and even complacency we regard the permanent institution of such a serial vice as Mormonism amongst us.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION.

Some time ago we called attention to the desirability of minority representation and the means that ought to be taken to secure it. The plan has been introduced into the Congress through the influence of ex-Senator Buckle, who has the credit of first bringing it into general notice, and now the experiment is to be tried in Illinois, restricting it to the elections of members of the House of Representatives and Assembly.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

AN EXCELLENT REASON WHY T. C. Kernan, of the old Allentown China, Glassware and Lamp Store, can sell cheaper than others, is that he buys and sells exclusively for Cash, thus getting all the advantages of cash payments and losing nothing by credit sales.

WORDS OF WISDOM FOR YOUNG MEN. MEN, as the Bible says, are fools and easily misled, with SELF-DECEPTION the driving power. They will not listen to the counsel of the wise, and will not be guided by the words of wisdom.

ERRORS OF YOUTH. A gentleman who suffered for years from nervous debility, prostration, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, writes the following words of wisdom, which he has learned by his own experience, and which he offers to share with his fellow-sufferers.
