HOME INTERESTS AND OUR PAPER.

The prosperity and well-being of a town or city are so intimately associated with and depicted by the appearance and success of its local papers, that the shrewdest men of business will predicate the availability and worth of a city, for business speculations, from the appearance and circulation of its papers. We clip the following from the Chicago Republi-

"What tells us so readily the standard of a town or a city as the appearance of its paper? And its youth or its age can us well: termined by the observing as by a personal notice. The enterprise of its citizents is de-pieted by its advertisements, their liberality, by the looks of the paper. Some papers show a good, solid, healthy foundation, plethoric purses, and a well-to-do appearance gener-ally; others show a striving to contend with the grasping thousands around them, trying hard to wrench an existence from their close the grasping thousands around them, trying hard to wrench an existence from their close-fisted communities. An occasional meteoric display in its columns of telegraph or local, or of editorials, show what it can do if it had the means; but it cannot continue in the expen-sive work until support comes, which ought to be readily granted. A newspaper is like a church—it wants lostering in the commence-ment, and for a tew years; then, as a general thing, it can walk alone, and reflect credit upon its location. Take your home paper—it faves you more news of immediate interest than any other paper can possibly do ; it taks any other paper can possibly do; it talk you when other localities belie you; i ber you when other islands; you always have a champion in your home paper; and those whe stand up for you should certainly be well sus and you must rise or fall together. Therefore it is to your interest to support your home paper, not grudgingly, but in a liberal spirit as a pleasure, not as a disagreeable duty, bu is an investment that will amply pay the ex-

In Allentown there is no reason to complain of the liberality of the people in supporting local enterprise, and the unexampled prosperity and success of OUR PAPERS is a certain indication of the go-aheaditiveness of the whole city. Allentown, from her situation and many natural advantages, as well as from the enterprise and business aptitude of her people, is unquestionably destined to become one of the cities of the Union. We ex. ages, for the sake of those who are destined to pect to grow with her growth and to keep up carry on the glorious mission of our country, with the times, using our paper for the best interests of the whole community, and supporting every measure that seems to us wise and liberal for improvement and for growth.

declared against secret societies, and doubtless found sufficient reasons in the convictions and who compose that august body.

It is to be presumed that this action on the part of these gentlemen, who are (almost to a man) College graduates, is the result of their bitterness, which our great national purifier, experience of the secret societies which exist in Colleges.

Though we are aware that societies, whose secret character is the very smallest consideration in their object, are doing and have done, an immense amount of good in Colleges in banding together for a good purpose, young men who there form worthy attachments and are sustained in "every good word and work," we still are inclined to credit the assertion that the great majority of "secret societies," influence. This, however, is rather a question to be settled by the judicious action of the principals of scholastic institutions, than by the declaration of an ecclesiastical body.

For the secret societies, which have no conacction with Colleges, the action of the Pres. of all the influence which immense wealth and byterian Ministers can have no terrors. As more than average intellectual ability can give ar as regards them, the "good fathers" are them, they can never succeed in gaining that talking of what for the most part they know respect for their religious belief that can prenothing about. The bill recently passed by Congress, for the enforcement of the Four-teenth and Fifteenth Amendments, could have no stronger argument in its favor than the action of the dominant party in Richmond. How many must blush when they read of the conduct of this noble Democrat ! Vows and promises, as to the dire things that should be done if ever "them niggers voted," have been uttered without number, but this is the solitary instance where they have been carried into effect—at least the only one made public. It may be that many of the rash men who vowed vows, have sacrificed themselves like vowed vows, have sacrificed themselves like this brave, this noble Kentuckian. If any of our readers should know of such a case we should be very glad to receive full particulars as it would afford us sincere, though melan

" To the brave belongs honor."

Last week a whole nation combined to do honor to the brave men, who gave their lives for their country. It is ever a good thing for arata the deads of mon nation to con who have shed a lustre upon her name, and to keep their memories green. It is not so nuch, however, that we honor them by these post mortem ceremonies. Their crown of fame terest in promoting and sustaining the one which is at the head and front of them, rather goes to prove that if these good gentlemen were not so much in the dark, they would talk the other way. An order which has flourished and spread amid the most determined opposition, and kept the flame of a pure Christianity steadily burning amid the darkness of infidelity, has a sure and firm foundation, and even outsiders should be able to look at its past record with a conviction that so much of good could not have come from an evil thing.

Most secret societies are beneficial, and support and relieve the sick and destitute. They supply aid and sympathy to those of their number who are banded together for mutual assistance. To pronounce against them be cause they are "secret." is to be as foolish as the men who rail against "the church," when they do not know anything about it excep

We do not believe the action of the General Assembly will make any difference to the Church or the Societies, and we are inclined to believe there was a little time wasted on this matter. Persons who belong to secret societies will be inclined to estimate their merits by what they know of their workings and not by the opinions of these good gentle men who pass judgment without knowing. As a Church question, the matter of secret so cieties might safely be left to the consciences of individual Christians, who belong to them Christians who know nothing about them cannot possibly "give their experience," and until they can, we may be excused for believ ing they are not able to judge as well as those know from their personal observa tion.

THE SOUTHERN PRESBYTE. RIANS.

The union of the two branches of the Presbyterian church has been hailed with joy, not only by Presbyterians, but by almost every Christian denomination in the United States, nd the reason is that the whole world can see in it a practical carrying out of the teachings of the great Head of the church, who brought • peace on earth and good will towards men.' It was the hope of the Northern Presbyteand are bound to preach, humility, docility and self-abnegation to the cause of their Divine Master. The sad results of war were never more plainly exhibited and never more terribly inopportune. While the hearts of good men on both sides are beginning to warm towards each other, the religious pride and vain-glory of these "humble Christians," stands up like a wall of brass between them.
