WHY FRANCE WANTS TO FIGHT. A peculiarity of your average political wiseacre, is to read his newspaper simply with the intention of seeing if it agrees with hus preconceived notions. If it does not, he immediately pronounces it absurd, ridiculous, &c. &c., and is dreadfully severe in his denunciation. He never stops to consider that he may possibly be wrong himself, but with matchless sonceit he rushes into print to proclaim his in- publican state, but a mere despotism of one fallibility. An individual signing himself 'Baden-Baden." writes to the Daily News, asserting that our article "Why France wants as in practice, for it can be of very little con to Fight," contains a great many mis-stateents. With regard to the fortress Mayence, Mayennee, Mainz or Mentz (for it is spelt class of men or by a single potentate; the mieither way), he prefers Mainz to Mentz.
