FOGELSVILLE AS A VILLAGE -A correspon dent sends us the following :- This village nestles at the foot of the hill which may be called the indary between Welsenburg and Upper Macungie. It is also situated at the eastern end of what was once known as the valley of Macunshy (a word of Indian origin) and from which this wnship afterwards got its name. It was founded by the " Fogel family," who were among the first immigrants into what was then known as the Kittattinuy Valley. Philip Gabriel Fogel, the ances tor of the family, landed at Philadelphia in the year 1731, in the ship called "Samuel." This village is partly surrounded by a region which is noted both for its fertility and its great quantitie of minerals, such as limestone and iron ore, which are as yet but partially developed. The town contains at present some sixty odd families. The improvements of this village for the past lew years are due partly to its Building Associations-of which there are two, the Macungle Loan and Building Association and the Peabody Loan and Sureka Quadrille Band, and at about midnight Building Association. The former was chartered in the Summer of 1868, and the latter in the Spring. of 1860. New homes were creeted within the limits of this village and paid for mostly by funds drawn out of the former association. Thus were more than half-a-dozen poor men enabled to secure a home for their wives and children. Joseph Millor & Co., a bank firm of this village, contemplate erceting half-a-dozen or more buildings next Summer, for persons who are shareholders in the Peabody Association. It is intended to have one crected and ready for occupancy in April. This on the 231 ult., and sold money on mortgage at $55 and $85.25 premium per share There is also another bank at this village known under the name of the Farmers' Bank of Fogelsville, which was chartered in the Winter of 1870. This hank removed their deposits to their new uliding on Thursday, the 9th inst. There are also two stores, two taverus, a saloon being cor dected with each, two coachmaker shops, in one of which light carriages are put up and in the other heavier oncs. Among our distinguished personages are Rev. W. A. Helfrich, D. D., Rev. E. J. Fogel, Hon. Originally this sect settled at Easton. Fearing that business would come in, the fraterality left for the wilds of the Lebigb Valley. Though very rich—owning the better part of the town—the repute of the Moravians for thrift, temperance and beneficence of conduct, was so great that outsiders could not be kept away. For years the work-shops, stores and hotels were run by the fraterality. But the world can ich nand the town is now large, and rich and prosperous in the hands of those who do not belong to the Brethren.
