The United States Senate has finally passed thought of safety. That road is most popular he bill sometime ago passed by the House of which makes the best and fastest time. It is the bill sometime ago passed by the House of Representatives for preserving the purity of doctions. The Democrats fourcht i most stren-ed by an accidental and serions less of life elections. The Democrats fought it most streniously at every stage of its passage, and they exhausted all the resources of parliamentary filloustering on Friday in their endeavors to currence in the future. How this can be done delay its final passage. They had no hope or is the question. The Norwalk disaster, a few prospect of defeating it, but they wasted the years ago, in the State of Connecticut, gave etter part of the day in repeating their stale rise to legislation in that State, which resulttirades against the measure itself and against ed in an enactment requiring the full stop of the party which favored its passage. Mr. Casserly of California, one of the strongest opponents of the bill, predicted that the passage of the bill would be the death warrant of the Republican party, but his action belied his words, for he both spoke and voted against the measure with all his might. Had he and the other Democratic Senators been convinced that the Republican party would suffer from the passage of the bill they certainly would not have opposed it so fiercely. It cught to be a matter full stop within 250 feet and before entering of desire on the part of every citizen that the purity of our popular elections should be maintained, and when a question like this comes up it is not pleasant to see it made a party question and decided by a close party vote. Each party has, or should have, an equal interest in pro-tecting and defending the ballot box from all accident to occur." possible means of corruption, and when the Democratic party votes solidly against a measure designed to prevent illegal voting and to secure the right of suffrage to those who are properly entitled to it, it gives rise to a grave tion bill, which was passed last year and is suspicion that that party regards election frauds now in operation in the anthracite coal regions, as an advantage rather than a disadvantage. It is, to say the least, very unfortunate for the reputation of the Democratic party that, whenever a bill is introduced in Congress, or elsewhere, to protect the ballot box and secure the rights of legal voters, that party is sure to opse it. Why it should thus oppose it unless it fears that it may lose something by the passage and enforcement of such a bill is a mystery which we are unable to explain. WE have already noticed the fact that Gov. Alcorn of Mississippi has resigned his place in sylvama. the United States as Senator from his State for six years from March next. The reasons of his resignation have not been stated, and it is a case of considerable mystery. The cases where Senatorial seats are voluntarily resigned are rare indeed, for men are not prone to
