THE SPRING ELECTIONS. The opening elections for the political campaign of 1871 will soon be held in New Hampshire and Connecticut, and the fact that the are the first elections to be held this year will cause them to be regarded with more than ordinary interest. A full btate ticket and Members of Congress are to be chosen in each State, and each party will naturally do its best to carry off the prizes of victory. They are both closely balanced States, and no States in the Union are more famous for their close and sharply contested political campaigns than these two. With all the forces, however, which the New Hampshire Democrats have been able to muster, the State has been Republican for the last twenty years by a small majority. That majority has ranged from two to five thousand, and it has been tantalizing to the Democrats to see the prize steadily and continuously borne away from them. In Connecticut the two parties have gained about an equal number of victories during the last ten years, and while New Hampshire is clearly a Republican State, though a closely balanced one, the result is always doubtful in Connecticut until the returns are in. The recent maforities in Connecticut have ranged from five

As the reduction of the annual their hands, and we are not vain alarmists interest upon our public debt will allow reducing more prominent at the South and which is filled with the most bitter hatred toward everything that savors of loyality. It is this class of men who are keeping alive the Ku Klux spirit, and they are doing all in their power to injure the South as well as the North, although they profess to be most devoted to Southern interests. One of the prominent politicians of and from a report made in a Georgia paper of a recent speech of his at Augusta we get an idea of the plans of Mr. Stephens and his associate Conservatives. The Georgia editor

With great eloquence and masterly skill, he depicted the condition in which the Southern depicted the candition in which the Southern hundred to three thousand, and each party always has an incentive for getting out "the last man" on election day. The ratification of the Einsenth Amendment will add about a thousand to the usual vote of Connecticut, and most of these new voters will naturally vote with the Republicans.

In New Hampshire there are three parties in the field this year, the Republican, Democratic of the bayonet; how carpet-bag adventurer and scalaways have been allowed to plunder and Labor Reform, and each of them has a full State ticket in nomination. Last year there were four tickets, the three mentioned above and a Temperance ticket in addition. The Democrats and the Labor Reformers have been trying to get up a coalition this year, as they

the very eve of election advised the voters of their party to desert their own candidate for with equal scorn the let-us-accept-the-situ-Governor and support the Labor Reform man, and this was done to a considerable extent, in spite of the protests of the Democratic candi1868, which declares that all these carpet-bag agine of the process of the Democrate Candi-date. This year the Democrate have been urging the Labor Reformers to reciprocate their last year's kindness, but the man whom the Labor Reformers have nominated for Governor refuses to be slaughtered in that way, and insists upon being voted for as well as nominated.

The Temperance men have placed no ticket in nomination this year, and the brant of the battle will be between the Republicans and Democrats, the former supporting for Governor of the former supporting for Gover corats, the former supporting as the following process. All the first day of February, May, August, and with each defeat he has grown stronger and an ex-Member of Congress, and the latter, James A. Weston, a merchant. The three rightful position. What answer would make? I would say, 'I join you—sink or semination of the Congressional districts.

In Connecticut there are but two parties in the field, except in some parts of the State where local differences have prompted "bolts" from the regular party nominees. Both Republicans and Democrats have nominated their last year's candidates for State officers, and the two tickeds are headed respectively by Marshall Jewell of Hartford and James E. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State out the reach of prevailing cast which and floath places on the product of the continued patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disparse, the second of the localities of having and cold.

The Florida, nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandatako Pilas, sufficient. Should there be any troops sent to South Carolina the Democrats will of course be greatly shocked at this "subversion of our liberties," but it is evident to every candid observer that the fault in this case is not with the people who seek military protection 'or with those who render the call for military protection necessary. The men who are active in keeping up these Ku Klux outrages and in perpetuating the cruel hate which was engendered by the rebellion are the worst enemics the South has ever had or ever will have. The Government takes no pleasure in sending troops to the South, and the people of the North have no desire to restrict in the slightest degree the personal liberties of the onle of the Southern States. But as long as this spirit of lawlessness and bitter partisan proscription finds expression in shooting and innging men who vote the Republican ticket the South will suffer a great check and draw. back to her material growth, for the men who are ready to go from the North and employ their energy and capital in developing the resources of the South will give a wide berth to those regions where freedom of speech and of opinion afe not allowed. The Ku Klux marauders evidently have no regard for the best interests of the community to which they profess to be so warmly devoted, for if they had they would quickly see that they are pursuing just the wrong policy in taking the course which they seem to have marked out for themselves. There is nothing to be gained now in endeavoring to prolong the guerrilla partisan warfare which grew out of the war in the Southern States, and the men who are thus cangaged and who compel the Government to interpose to prevent its loyal and law abiding citizens from being shot and hanged without provocation are not only enemies to good order and nouling government, but thow are different and analysis of the sure to have and content with the factors and propular government.
