There was a gray-hal gentleman with him,	shoulder, while a happy voice exclaims: "Why, George, you foolish old darling, no one will be interested in that but yourself." Is my little wife correct? The CANAL TRAVELLING.—"Hallo there, cap- ting !" said a Brother Jonathan to the captain of a canal packet on the Eric Canal. "What do you charge for passage ?" "Three cents per mile and boarded," said the captain. "Waal, I guess I'll take passage, capting, seeing as how I'm kindar gin out walking so far." Accordingly he got on board as the steward was ringing for dinner. Jonathan sat down and began demolasting the "fixins," to the uter consternation of the captain, until he had cleared the tables of all that was catable, when he got up and went on deck picking his teeth very comfortably. "Let's see," said Jonathan "that would be just four and a half cents ; but never mind, capting, I won't be small ; here's five cents, which pays my fare to here; I guess I'll go aslore now; I'm kinder rested cout." A Boston lady thinks she is going to get to heaven on the strength of her well-known charity to the poor. She has frequently been known, without any display of ostentation, to boil a large number of eggs, and when the poor people came to her door distribute to the hungry callers the soup that was left after boiling the eggs. Such acts of charity are unusual in Boston; but that's a little too thin a to ext to beaven on without stirring in a little	The is better than it was last year. Lust work 3,000 shod were caught at a sincle draft of the selue at Essex; and this wock 000 were caught at one draft above Midd etco. This alone is evidence conclusive to an unbiased mind that shad can be cultivated at a small cost in the rivers they frequent, that they will return to the places where they are hatched, and that those who sow may reap. But it is not the people on the banks of the Connecticut alone who are reaping a harvest of shad. Those on the banks of the Hudson are beginning to see the result of culture in this State. Three years ago Mr. Green began to propogate on the Hudson. The fish then deposited are now coming in. There has been no such abundance of shad in that river for years. The catch has been large already and the market is glutted. Shad are sold at retail in New York for a quarter of a dollar apiece, and in the river towns for a shilling. The wholesale price has been as low as three cents per pound within a week. This is only a beginning. The quantities of spawn now being hatched nightly far exceeded what has been done if any season before. About three hundred thousand young shad are turned into the river two below Castieton.— Rochester Union .	in Elmira. About a year and a half ago hal a dozen couples of young things at a party go married just to see how it would seem, and whether matrimony was such a fearful thin as the old maids had been talking around the it was; and now they have found out tha they are married the worst way, and the there is no help for them. Some of then would give $5 if they had stayed away fron the party, while others wouldn't have missed it for anything. How people differ about these things. Lansing, Michigan, writes a western corres pondent, is a very healthy locality for the ague. "It comes creeping up a fellow's back like a ton of wild cats, goes crawling through his joints like iron splikes, and is followed by a fever which prohibits the patient from think ing of anything but the Independent Order of Good Templars. It isn't the 'every-other day' kind, but gets up with a man at dayligh and sleeps in the smail of his back at night lifs teeth feel about six inches too long, hi joints wobble like a loose wagon-wheel, and the shakes are so steady that he can't hole any sort of conversation except by putting in dashes." A Humorous Young Man was driving a horse which was in the habit of stopping a every house on the road-side. Passing country tavern, where there were collecte together some dozen countrymen, the animal as usual, ran opposite the door and the stopped, in spite of the young men, who ap plied the whip with all his might to drive th horse on. The men in the porch commence a hearty laugh, and some inquired if the young men "but I cannot recommend him, as he ong
