THE INVENTOR OF FRUIT CANNING FOUND N PENNSYLVANIA.-It is not generally known. that the art of preserving fruit in cans had it origin in Gettysburg, as the result of the experiments made by the late Professor Jacobs, in the winter of 1845 and 1846. Knowing that meats had been long preserved in cans, and referring the tion of the syrup in excluding the air, he contended that a better and more economical application of sufficient amount of liquid to fill up all spaces, the air was expelled by raising the heat to the boiling point. The cans being then filled, and soldered so as to be air-tight, the experiment proved a per feet success. Communication at first to a few of his friends the art was rapidly made known, so
