THE TRUE PARTICULARS OF THE CAVING IN T SCRANTON .- A dispatch from Scranton, dated he 24th, says -A slight sinking of land over Pine Brook mine, in this city, occurred yesterday, causing no damage. In consequence, however, sens tional despatches were sent to some papers, which ere not justified by the facts which are as follows -Years ago a large plat on the outskirts of the oity was purposely robbed of all its pillars and supports, with the view of sinking the entire surace. Acres of this ground have fallen during ten years past and become quite solld. The remainder of this plat must fall in time. There are not A. Kitchen, M. D.; V. P., Titus Richards; M. of half dozen buildings on the whole tract, and these are cheap frame tenements, built with the knowl edge that the land was expected to cave. The main portion of Scranton is not undermin and never will be, as there is a vault in the coal mine extending from Stafford and Meadow Broo routh, to Providence on the north. The damage by the sluking of the Oxford mine at flyde Parl has been greatly exaggerated. The effect on the surface by the fulling of Pine Brook mine is hardly perceptible.

> RE-VACCINATION. -On this subject, now so 494-6-7, edition of 1866; "This operation should employed in every case which has not been sed by exposure to small-pox contagion during a epidemic prevalence of the disease. It may b asked whether vaccination should be employed in persons previously affected with small-pox. should unhesitatingly answer this question in the firmative. It has been before stated that, though fawer persons are attacked with varioloid after in oculation or natural small-pox than after vaccina tion, yet a greater number perish. The same protection that a second vaccination extends in one case will probably be extended by vaccination in the other, and is even more needed, at least so far as life is concerned. It is generally stated in the ooks that vaccination after small-pox producelittle or no effect. My own observation has been exactly the reverse. In concluding this subject I rould again strongly urge the propriety of universal re-vaccination, as the means not only of omoting the comfort and possibly of saving the life of the individual, but also of preventing the pread of small pox and of ultimately eradicating it, if not from the globe, at least from extensive MAD Dog.-On Saturday a dog went to th residence of a gentleman named Zinzer, in Salls bury township, and from its actions it is supposed was mad. He bit a son of Mr. Zinzer in the fluger and also both of his dogs. One of the dogs was disputched immediately and the other was chained, and after giving unmistakable evidence of hydrophobia, was also killed. The boy was put under the treatment of some old-fashloned doctors, pow-wowers we believe they are called, who gave more ceremony than medicine and forold the boy crossing water within nine weeks. The father has since placed his son under the trea nent of Dr. Charles L. Martin, of this city.

ATCHISON, KANSAS, Nov. 20, 1871. IN THE WORLD. Friend Iredell-A kind of a description of this section of the country and a little on the manuer and ways of the people who inhabit it may not come ands to some of your readers. Atchison, the place I am writing from and my home, is in the Northern part of Kansas and on the banks of the Missouri river. The Missourl at this place takes about the same course and is to Atchison as Lehigh, as a majority of your readers are aware I presume. Since the railroad facilities are so great and extented, steamboating is comparitively disside, and if our anticipations hold good very little ferrying will be done in the course of a year, from the fact that there is an iron driving and railroad to cross the Missouri at this place.
