ALLENTOWN, PA., DEC. 18, 1871.

THE MESSAGE.

After a year of criticism upon Presiden Grant, from a few Republican journals as well as the entire Democratic press, the President talks to the people through his annual message and by his nobility of thought, eloquent simplicity of expression and unbiased regard for the country's good disarms prejudice among the masses and makes them resolve, in spite of the tricks of the disaffected politicians, that our President shall be President for another term. The Tribune cannot refrain from admiration of this state paper, though it combats the President's ideas upon several points, cspecially upon putting the navy upon such a footing as to make it powerful to sustain the honor of the Nation under any circumstances which are liable to occur at any time. It is astonishing that an editor who has so many subjects upon his mind should be so much more clear headed upon naval affairs than the Secretary of the Navy.

The most important suggestions of the President were referred to in another article. Upon the all-important subject of the National finances, the President says :

The National Debt has been reduced to the extent of $86,057,126 80 during the year; and by the negotiation of national bonds at a lower rate of interest, the interest on the public debt has been so far diminished that now the sum to be raised for the interest account's nearly $17.050,009 less than on the first of [ March, 1869. It was highly desirable that this rapid diminution should take place, both to strengthen the credit of the country and to convince its citizens of their entire ability to meet every dollar of liability without bankrupting them. But in view of the accomplish ment of these desirable ends of the rapid d. velopment of the resources of the country, its increasing ability to meet large demands, and the amount already paid, it is not desirable that the present resources of the country should continue to be taxed in order to con tinue this rapid payment. I therefore recom mend a modification of both the tariff and in ternal tax laws. I recommend that all taxes from internal sources be abolished, except those collected from spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors, tobacco in its various forms, and from stamps. In readjusting the tariff, 1 sug gest that a careful estimate be made of the amount of surplus revenue collected under the present laws, after providing the current expenses of the Government, the interest account, and a sinking fund, and that the surplus be reduced in such manner as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest number. There are many articles not produced at home, but which enter largely into general consumption. Through articles which are manufactured at home, such as medicines compounded, &c., &c., from which very little revenue is derived, but which enter into general use, all such articles I recommend to be placed on the free list. Should a further reduction prove advisable, I would, then, recommend that it be made upon those articles. American labor. I have not entered into figures, because to do so would be to repeat what will be laid before you in the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury. The present laws for collecting the revenues pay Collectors of Customs small salaries, but which, at principal ports entry particularly, raise the compensation of these officials to large
