THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

There are probably some other men in the country besides Postmaster General Cresswell and President Grant who are in favor of having the Government take charge of the telegraph business in connection with the postal service, but they are not very numerous. The leading journals in all parts of the country have snoken plainly and unreservedly in opposition to the plan, and it is certain that the nmendations made by the President and Mr. Cresswell are not indorsed by public sentiment. Mr. Cresswell expresses his confidence that his department of the Government is now in a condition to undertake this additional work, but as the Post Office Department is far from self supporting we do not agree with hun in this belief. It seems to us that until the postal service pays for itself it had better undertake nothing new. And we are of the opinion that it is better for all concerned that the telegraph business should be left just where it is-to be carried on by private enterprise. The telegraph service in this country s tolerably good, and as a general thing the existence or fear of competing lines keep the charges at a reasonable rate. The business which finds its way to the telegraph offices is a large and a profitable one, and it is a business which is bound to be well served. The telegraph companies understand this fact very well, and it is plainly for their interest to serve the public promptly and well. The constitu ency from which telegraph business is drawn is a constituency of money and enterprise, and it will not be ignored or snubbed. Let any telegraph company set itself about neglecting the pursuit of rescals to the police. The econits business and a new and rival company will at once be formed. But let the telegraph lines pass under the possession of the Government and there will at once be an end to all competition. The business may be done well, or i may be done poorly, but the public will have to be satisfied with whatever way it is done. There is now a certain rivalry and competition between the Government in carrying on | President Grant and his administration. It is its postal service and the telegraph companies a well known fact that there are great many in managing their business, and it is for the flagrant abuses connected with office holding interests of the public that that rivalry and in this country, and it is the part of wisdom to competition should continue. Nobody will endeavor to correct and check those abuses pay at elegraph company fifty cents for sending | There is no kind of sense in Postmasters, Rev errand just as well for three, and the business running their offices solely and entirely in the of the Post Office Department will increase in interest of themselves and their favorite politifull correspondence to all improvements that | ciaus, and it is high time that this was underare made in quickness and sureness in the de- stood. THE Bostonians have taken up the entertainment of Alexis with all their hearts, and which they treat their royal guests. They have shown him the Bunker Hill Monument, have taken him out to Harvard College, have given him a ball and a banquet, have gathered the school children in Musid Hall to sing to him, and have done many other things to enable him to pass his time agreeably. They do not do these things by halves in Boston, and they have done their "level best" this time to impress Alexis with the idea that Boston is really the "hub of the universe." And Alexis seems to like it, too, for he has prolonged his visit there several days beyond its appointed termination, and he has taken the ins to give a banquet at his own expense to the Governor, the Mayor of Boston and a few other of the Boston notabilities. It has long appeared to us that whenever a sharp lawyer in Congress desires to make a political point, or get up personal reputation, he resorts to the process of investigation, has himself made chairman of a star chamber committee, with power to send for papers and persons, when he sets himself up as above the courts, above the President, and above the common law of the land. if there is soonal vitality lett in the other to heaft up, there is hope.

I have see a many persons cured with only one sound lang, live and early life to a good old age. This is what schenck's bledicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clear you the stompach, aweelen and atrospituality singled to river the system of all the disease that is in the fungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, our should be exercised not to take cold; keep in doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night sir, and take your doors were so only in a grain and warm simbline. The doors were so only in a grain and warm simbline mend a patient to be careful in regard to taking a did, while using ny Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relayer than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not parfectly has restated to it the natural quantons, consistency, I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Coreumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty flow; many years, with pan lung mostly gone. I have they many years, with pan lung mostly gone, I have by this treatment whom I have never seen.

Arout the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the Northeast corner of Sixth and A chairect, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may reduce I.
