Statler, the carriage maker.

The Lehigh Register. No paper discontinued until all arearages are paid, except at the option of the publishers.

Our subscribers who do not receive their papers regularly will confer a great favor upon us by ending word to this office. Subscribers about removing will please send us their old address as well as the new.

More for Your Money than Anywhere Else.

Extraordinary Inducements.

Persons having real estate or personal property to sell can find no better advertising medium fo sales than the LEHIGH REGISTER. The REGISTER is read by men of intelligenes and means;-people who have the money to invest. The high charac ter of our readers is well known and this is th most important consideration. The REGISTER now reaches every corner of the county and after it is read by our large list of subscribers, is loaned to others. Advertisements in these columns are therefore read everywhere, and to make advertisements of sales, administrators' and executors notices, assignces' notices, and all others of this class doubly valuable, we will give them one in sertion in the DAILY CHRONICIE,

WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE. thus placing the advertisement before more subscribers than can be done by advertising in any other paper in the county.

CAUTION.

Gentlemen about taking out letters of adminis tration or letters testamentary, or having Or phans' Court Sales to advertise are cautioned that they have the power to order their advertisements inerted in any paper they may select. If they believe tural matters. the statements we have made they have the right o order their advertisements to be inserted in the LEHIGH REGISTER, when they will be entitled to the advantages we have offered as above.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 14th is St. Valentine's day. PHILADELPHIA has 186 unlicensed taveras

He took fright at team, and, rearing, got away from the boy, ran cross a vacant lot, thence down Front street to Jordon, Gordon to Tenth, Tenth to Hamilton and down Hamilton to the American Hotel.

This beautiful and fertile valley, in its northeast and southwest course, some 7 miles long by 3 miles wide, is bounded on either side by ridges of syen-lite rock, and levelled with magnesian limestone and clay, watered by numerous mountain springs, and drained through its central surface to the Le-bigh, by the brook called, by its carly Indian pos-sessurs, "Stuteon." It was brought under cult-vation by a few families of original settlers. In-ereasing in fertility it has remained with them through succeeding generations, and the present bonored names of the valley date back to its first settlement. Growing knowledge and improvem and invisions of the farms, as much as the size gained from the whole. FIRE ACCIDENTS. -In going down the Hamliton street hill with the fire apparatus it is customary to let the rope drag behind and the firemen, by holding on to it, are enabled to check the speed of the machine. The America boys used the usual precaution in going to the fire, on Saturday evening, but when nearing Fourth street, one slile of the tongue straps broke, which drew the carriage to one side and the apparatus getting beyond the control of those behind, dashed down the hill with fearful velocity and ran over a pile of gas pipes and into the fence of the gas works. Two panels of the fence were torn down and Joel Wicard and Clinton Heist, who were running the tongue, were considerably injured. Heist was taken home. His injuries were principally bruises about the legs. Wleand was badly brulsed about the face and internally.

The Columbia carriage, in going down the same hill, got beyond the control of the man on the ongue and when the boys reached the bridge the carriage grazed the wall. The hero of this adcoture was C. C. Bingaman.

FATAL ACCIDENTS ON THE RAIL .- On Saturday afternoon, about five o'clock, a boy named Benjarain Wilson, a boot-black from Easton, while riding on a coal train on the L. V. R. R., from that place to Catasauqua, fell off the train near L inden street, this city, and had his legs horribly incerated by the wheels passing over them. He was carried to the residence of Charles Dereamus, No. 228 North Front street, where Dr. S. S. Apple, assisted by Dr. Fegley, rendered every assistance in their power, but notwithstanding their efforts the unfortunate boy expired at three o'clock, on Sunday morning. Dr. Wm. H. Romig, Coroner, empaneled a jury to hold an inquest and after ob taining; all the facts possible, the body was renoved to the Poor House, and the Coroner's jury adjourned the inquest till half-past three o'clock. Monday afternoon, to meet at the office of Dr. Arple for the purpose of obtaining the testimony of he train hands. The engine drawing the coal tralu was named "Carbon."

A brakeman named Smith, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, came to Reading about midnight on Saturday night and went to sleep under a train of freight cars which were standing on a siding, where he had gone to seek shelter from the snow storm. In the morning the train was backed out and Smith was dragged the length of sixteen cars. When found his body was horribly bruised and both logs were torn off. He died on Sunday more-

INCENDIARISM.

FIRE IN THE FIRST WARD. On Saturday night, about twenty minutes of welves, fismes were discovered issuing forth from frame stable owned by George W. Hoffman, in he rear of his brewery, on the corner of Court and Wood streets. The stable contain ed nothing raluable, except the Columbia's wagon. It was totally destroyed. There was no insurance upon the stable. Henry Pfelfer's pig pen, adjoining, was also consumed, together with the occupants, two in number. The Columbia did not get into service on account of scarcity of hose, but the Allen and Good Will were able to save the surrounding property. Three brick houses belonging to Joseph Downing, opposite the stable, were scorched, but the steamers saved them from burning Suveral theories in regard to the origin of the fire are affoat. Some one observed three men loitering around in the vicinity of the stable previous o the fire and it is supposed they applied the match. A physician says he believes the pigs got. into a fight and in the midst of the fray their teeth came in contact, struck fire and fired the stable. If the latter supposition is correct the pigs have received a just punishment, and it is a pity other acendiaries could not share the same fate. After the fire the adherents of the Hibernia and

Allen indulged in a fight, fence pallogs being the principal weapons. The result was several nashed noses, broken heads, etc., which gavo: considerable trouble to Dr. Apple to repair. During the fire some villains cut the bose of the
