> OBITUARY .-- It is with sincere regret that se record the death of Charles Seagreaves, Esq., one of our oldest, wealthiest and most useful citizens, who departed this life Monday evening of list week, in the 75th year of his age. Mr. Seadieaves was born in Allentown and commenced life a poor man, and by hard work and ju icious' death, he could count his fortune by the hundred thousand. For a number of years he carried on the livery business, and was a partner of Jacob Peters in the stage line running between Mauch Chunk and Philadelphia, in which he made considerable money. His investments in real estate ere always fortunate and during the time he held them increased several times their cost in alue. He was a gentleman of blunt, straightfor ward manners, generally expressing himself foring severe, beneath the exterior beat a warm heart and his dealings with his fellow men were fair and honorable, and often very generous. Although prosed to estentatious show, he was liberal his expenditures for beneficial improvements, as was shown in the extensive alterations he made to the American Hotei. Had be lived, still further provements would have been ma a in that direction which would have been advantageous to the city and would have called forth the ad miration of our citizens. NEW PAPER. - We have received the first umber of the Sunday Morning Free Press, published at Scranton by the Co-operative Printing Association. It is not very large, but is printed in small type and the publishers are thus enabled to give a large amount of reading matter. It orobably does not contain so much as some of the ed quilt sheets, but it thus avoids the appearance of publishing anything "to fill up." In the first issue an interesting sketch of the Scranton Republican is given, which shows what brave heart, pluck and energy can accomplish in the newspaper business even under adverse circumstances. The Republican was started as a weekly in August, 1856, and was issued regularly, though not very successfully in a financial point of view, and changed owners several times, uatil September, 1867, when J. A. Scranton purchased a half interest, F. A. Crandall owning the other half. On the first of November of that year, the suppose Mr. Crandall became sick of the enterprise, for he sold his share to Mr. Scranton in the following March. The daily, during the first wo years of its existence, struggled manfully for popular favor and a firm foothold. THE CAMPAIGN OPENED.

LICAN NOMINEES. Notwithstanding the very threatening aspect of the weather a large crowd assembled at Centre Square, Friday evening, to ratify the nominations opened with music, after which Wm. S. Young, E-q; President of the Central Republican Campaign Club, introduced James S. Biery, E-q., of Allentown, who said that this was a n eeting for Life Assurance Society, the Company that does the ratification of the nominees placed in the field the largest business in the world. It will pay you by the Republican party; that the nominees for President and Vice President are the representalives of the principles of the Republic in party and then recited some of the grand achievements of that party, among which was the unshackling of four millions of slaves and raising them to the eminence of American chizenship; quelling of a most gigantic rebellion; the nauguration and perfecting of a system o National finance, than which nonebetter was ever known in any country; providing the widows and orphans of soldiers and salors with tree homes. te., etc. He referred to the able administration Of these all are native born. One 3 years, one of the Government under President Grant, show ing that the country is enjoying an unparallelled prosperity, during which taxation has been greatly reduced, the expenses of the Government have been fully met, the interest on the public debt has been paid, and at the same time the principal of the debt has been paid off at the rate of over one hundred millions a year. He also referred briefly to the blessings the Protective Tariff, enacted by the Repub ican party, has bestowed upon our Val ley. The establishment of the National credit on sound basis, was also referred to. He combatted the idea that the mission of the Republican party has been fulfilled and argued the danger of transof either the so called Liverals or Democrats. In closing Mr. Biery paid a glowing tribute to the life and character of Hon. George Lear, his course from the inception of the Republican party to the present making him a fit person to represent the interests of this district as Congressman-at-large. After music by the band, Mr. Young introduce Mr. Lear, who paid a pretty tribute to "this beautiful city," and expressed his gratification at $4000.
