A MAN CUT UP WITH A JACK KNIFE .- A erlous fight occurred at George W. Stuckert's livery stable, on Church between Hamilton and inden, Monday evening, about half past five. George Burkhart, allas Bucky, formerly a policeman, passed the stable, when Fred Buppenoyer, an ostler, accosted him. Bucky then quarreled for me time and flushly jo'ned two men passing slong and left. Afterwards he returned, walked through the stable and back again, and talked awhile to Abraham Stuckert. He then addressed Fred and wanted him to make up and shake hands Fred said he did not care to; that he should go away and let him alone, as he did not want to ight. Bucky replied that he would make him shake hands. Fred refused to do so when Bucky hrew him off the chair. They then fought and tusseled, until they both fell to the ground. Bupemoyer got loose, and grasping a stone, struck Bucky two or three times. About this time Bucky drew a sharp pocket knife and cut Buppemoyer in even places, until they fought up and down the stable. Bucky knocked into a stall and finally agreeing to let up, when Buppemoyer ceased his share of the battle and went to a Dector to get his ounds dressed. During the melee Bucky so ized crat.
